

CHAS. A. SPENCER, A. M., OPTICIAN,

Canastota, Madison Co., N. Y.

Mr. Spencer manufactures all kinds of the higher classes of Optical Instruments,—especial attention being given to Microscopes and Telescopes. Late improvements have been made in microscopic objectives in the whole range of powers; the medium powers bearing the application of very high eye pieces without deterioration; and powers as high as 1-50 having been recently made of the highest excellence.

Improvements have also been made in Telescopes of such a character that small instruments have an extraordinary efficiency. An example may be mentioned of a waist-coat-pocket glass, of $3\frac{1}{4}$ inches in length when closed, and less than an inch in diameter, which gives a fine view of the satellites of Jupiter, the craters of the moon, &c.

Mr. S. devotes his attention mainly to the objectives of the Microscope—making but few mountings, and only those of the first class. He would also call attention to his Gas Microscope, as an instrument essentially new from its superior efficiency.

THE REYNOLDS

Mower & Reaper KNIVES.

MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY US, UNDER REYNOLDS' PATENTS for Tempering Steel without the aid of any liquids, received the only award at the Great National Implement Trial, held at Auburn, in 1866. They possess the following superior qualities:

1. They are made with a fine Cutlery Temper at the edges.
2. They hold only a Spring Temper at the center and at the beel.
3. They are warranted perfectly uniform, every knife being exactly alike in temper.
4. We warrant they can be ground from 8 to 10 times without losing their cutting edge.
5. Finally, we will warrant them to cut from 40 to 50 acres of grain or grass without being once ground.

We are the sole Manufacturers of these Knives in the United States.

INTRODUCTION.

In presenting the initial number of the "Gazetteer and Directory of Madison County" to the public, the publisher desires to return his sincere thanks to all who have so kindly assisted in obtaining the valuable information which it contains, and without whose aid it would have been impossible to collect, in the brief space of time in which it is essential that all such works should be completed. Especially are our thanks due to the several editors of the Oneida Dispatch, Democratic Union, Oneida; Canastota Herald; Cazenovia Republican; Madison Observer, Morrisville; Democratic Volunteer and Democratic Republican, Hamilton; for the uniform kindness which has been evinced in calling public attention to the author's efforts; and to them and the following persons, viz: L. S. Loomis, of Cazenovia, and J. B. Wells, of DeRuyter, School Commissioners; Nathan Brownell, County Clerk and L. P. Clark, Esq., of Morrisville; J. J. L. Baker, of Chittenango; H. J. Weed, Dr. Alvin Foord, Silas L. Loomis and Samuel Thomas, of Cazenovia; Isaac N. Smith, of DeRuyter; Hon. J. Clark and Henry Kieth, of Brookfield; Hon. Gerrit Smith and A. Raymond, of Peterboro; Hon. Loring Fowler and Prof. Chas. A. Spencer, A. M., of Canastota; Joseph Bruce, of Lenox; Mrs. A. J. Lower, of Bridgeport; and Prof. Speare, of Madison University, Hamilton; for essential aid in furnishing material for the work. Many others have kindly volunteered their aid, to all of whom we return sincere thanks.

The following works have also been consulted in its preparation : French's admirable "Gazetteer of the State of New York;" "Transactions of the State Agricultural Society;" "Hotchkiss's History of the Presbyterian Church in Western New York;" "Historical Collections of the State of New York," and the Census Report of 1865.

That errors may have occurred in so great a number of names and dates as are here given, is probable, and that names have been omitted that should have been inserted is quite certain. We can only say that we have exercised more than ordinary diligence and care in this difficult and complicated feature of book-making. To such as feel aggrieved in consequence of error or omission, we beg pardon, and ask the indulgence of the reader in marking such as had been observed in the subsequent reading of the proofs, and which are noted in the Errata, following the Introduction.

It is also suggested that our patrons observe and become familiar with the explanations at the commencement of the Directory.

The Map of the County was engraved with great care by Messrs. "Weed, Parsons & Co.," of Albany, and, it is believed, will prove a valuable acquisition to the work. The various new lines of Railroad were located by the engineers employed in the surveys.

The Advertisers represent some of the leading business men and firms of this and adjoining counties, and we most cheerfully commend them all to the patronage of those under whose observation these pages may come.

With thanks to friends generally, we leave our work to secure the favor which earnest endeavor ever wins from a discriminating business public.

HAMILTON CHILD.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS.

GAZETTEER.

Brookfield.--Since the sketch of Brookfield was printed, we have received some additional items of interest:--

Capt. Brown, the first settler, removed from Connecticut, with an ox team, performing the journey in twenty-one days. He had ten daughters, each six feet in height.-- Stephen Hoxie, the first supervisor, was also the first man elected to the Legislature from this town. He died in 1839, aged 101 years and four months. Elisha Johnson built the first frame house in the town, in 1803, and drew the lumber from near the Unadilla River, a distance of ten miles. The first church was organized in 1804, by Rev. Nathaniel Marsh; his son, Samuel Marsh, kept the first store, on the hill, southeast of N. Brookfield, in 1796. He was subsequently elected County Judge. He was unsuccessful in business, became deeply involved, and was imprisoned for debt in Whitestown Jail, where he committed suicide by cutting his throat. Joseph Clark, after whom Clarkville was named, was the first postmaster, and held the office for thirty years; he was justice of the peace twenty years, and supervisor ten years.

Leonardsville contains one of the largest horse-rake manufactories in the State, besides several other manufactories. This place is noted for being the place where the first horse-rake was made, and also where the first fork, drawn by machinery was made.

The following incident shows some of the trials of the early settlers and their exciting contests with the denizens of the forests. Thomas Keith, an early settler, went to the pen one morning, and found a huge bear, which had killed his hog and partly devoured it. Mr. K. immediately attacked the bear with the only weapon he had, a small knife, and after a severe contest, killed the beast and saved a part of his pork.

Lebanon.--Randallsville p. o. has recently been established at Smith's Valley, in the east part of the town, on the Chenango River.

Sullivan.--On page 59, "Boltvar is a hamlet on the Canal, west of the center," should have been added.

DIRECTORY.

Brookfield.--"CONGER, EPHRAIM, (North Brookfield,)" should have been capitalized as a subscriber.

D. C. & C. A. JEWETT have dissolved partnership, and the business is now conducted by C. A. JEWETT.

A SPECIALITY

The Seneca Black Cap,

Davison's Thornless Raspberries.

Waterloo, N. Y., May 1, 1868.

On and after May 15, 1868, the firm of DOOLITTLE & WIGHT will no longer exist. The undersigned who is the one who first introduced the Seneca Raspberry to the public, will now be prepared to furnish No. One First Class Plants, of Senecas and Davison's Thornless, which are to be the leading Raspberries and should go together.

The THORNLESS is early, ripens a trifle earlier than the Doolittle; the SENECA ripens about two weeks later than THORNLESS, which makes the season complete in the berry line.

All wishing good, first-class plants of these two valuable berries, can rely on me for them, as I will send out no poor plants.

Send stamp and get my prices, when issued next fall.

My soil enables me to grow plants equal to any grown in the country, and they are pronounced No. One, by reliable dealers. Yours Truly,

WARREN WIGHT,

Waterloo, Seneca Co., N. Y.

P. S.—Write your name very plain, that there may be no mistake, and send early.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Chittenango Springs, Madison Co. N. Y., so long noted for their medicinal qualities, is a delightful resort for those in search of health or recreation. The Hotel has been refitted and furnished with all the modern improvements, and the Cottages, in a beautiful grove upon the opposite side of Chittenango Creek, afford facilities for health and recreation seldom equaled. Dr. Backus, the proprietor, is determined to spare no pains to give satisfaction to his patrons. The beautiful drives, water-falls, and the facilities for boating and fishing, must be enjoyed to be appreciated. For particulars see the Doctor's advertisement on pages 218 and 219.

Campbell's Hotel and Eating House, known as the Central Hotel, Canastota, is a good place for a hungry man to go, for the proprietor Mr. Campbell will be sure to have something that will suit his taste, at all hours and at all seasons. Alex. is a good fellow and bound to make friends. See card, page 232.

H. C. Priest, of Georgetown, Madison Co., N. Y., keeps on hand a large stock of saws of every description, which he will sell at the lowest living prices. Saws repaired in the best manner, and all work warranted. See card, page 222.

The Democratic Union, published by W. H. Baker, Oneida, Madison Co., N. Y., has a very large circulation, and correspondents in every town in the County, who report all local matters of interest in their localities. In politics, it is decidedly Democratic, and those who enjoy a mental pabulum of that kind, will find something to their taste in every number. An extensive job office is connected with the establishment, where all work is executed in good style and at reasonable rates. See card, page 224.

W. B. Downer, of Cazenovia, has a delightful situation on the shore of the lake, where he is prepared to take in strangers and all pleasure seekers, and send them out with boats, fishing tackle, and everything else necessary for their happiness. Pic-nic parties and others will do well to give him a call. His card will be found on page 230.

Howe's Never-Failing Ague Cure and Tonic Bitters, and Howe's Concentrated Syrup, are prepared under the personal supervision of Dr. C. B. Howe, the proprietor, at Seneca Falls, N. Y., for ague and fever, and all periodic diseases, rheumatism, paralysis, etc. The "Ague Cure" has produced wonderful cures. The "Syrup," for the blood, liver, skin, digestive and uterine organs, has cured many cases of scrofula, cancer, tumors, goiter, salt rheum, scaldhead, and many other diseases too numerous to mention in this place. See card, page 20.

Dodge & Lord, manufacturers of Melodeons and Reed Organs, at Ithaca, N. Y., were formerly connected with Syracuse manufactories. They have since moved their business where lumber is cheap, and expenses less than in the larger cities, like New York, Boston, Albany or Syracuse. The styles of their organs are particularly their own, possessing all modern improvements, and some unknown to other manufacturers. They have found market for their instruments in every county of the State, and in Northern Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and have an increasing trade with the West, in all of which places they are brought into successful competition with the first Eastern manufacturers. They are both practical men, and have secured workmen of long experience and tried abilities. Situated midway between the Erie and N. Y. C. railroads, they can ship conveniently to all parts of the country. Mr. A. M. Williams, No. 25 Warren street, Syracuse, is agent for Onondaga county. See card, page 14.

Warren Wight, Propagator and dealer in the celebrated Seneca Black Cap and Davison's Thornless Raspberries, Grape Vines, Strawberries, and other small fruits, at Waterloo, Seneca Co., publishes a card on page 14. His experience in the business is large, and his soil is excellent, probably no better can be found in the State for the purpose he uses it. We advise our friends to peruse his advertisement and purchase their supplies of him. He uses great care in packing for shipment, and sends out none but first-class plants. It would do no harm to address him for a circular, and might be the means of affording you an abundance of his delicious fruits.

The Reynold's Steel Tempering Works, Reynolds, Barber & Co., Proprietors, at Auburn, are largely engaged in the manufacture of Reaper and Mower Knives, Plane Irons, Chisels, &c. The process by which they temper steel is a peculiar one, and, as patented by Mr. Reynolds, is the result of over forty years labor. This gentleman always worked on the plan that tempering steel was simply changing it from a fibrous to a granular state. He certainly has succeeded in producing a finer granulation (temper) than has ever before been produced. Messrs. Reynolds, Barber & Co. control the patents for these processes, and are applying them successfully in all their manufactures. Their establishment is capable of turning out an immense amount of work, yet their orders are now, and have been for some months, accumulating far in advance of their present ability to supply; a circumstance which they will not long allow to be the case. We predict that the time is not far distant when all Mower and Reaper Factories and farmers will use their improved sections. See their advertisement on page 6, fronting the Introduction.

Mothers, Read This!—So says Dr. G. T. Tait & Co., of Seneca Falls. In their advertisement on page 20, they desire to inform you of the wonderful qualities of their "Oriental Syrup," for children. We have heard of many cases where this valuable medicine has given great relief. They are also proprietors of "Rosenberger's Balm of Gilead Ointment," for old sores, ulcers, rheumatism, burns, chilblains, piles, &c., and for galls, or wounds on horses, it is unsurpassed.

Eugene Eastman, Carriage Maker, at Canastota, employs only first class workmen and uses the best of timber and iron in the manufacture of his work. We cheerfully recommend those in want of a durable and elegantly made carriage, of any kind, to select from his stock. As his work is intended for a home market, he will spare no efforts to give entire satisfaction to his customers. See card, page 168.

Hayden Brothers, proprietors of the Retail Woolen Mills, at Port Byron, have long been celebrated as being manufacturers of desirable and reliable goods. The establishment was started in 1824 as a small custom mill. Since then the greatly increased business has called for extensive additions and improvements, which have been made; and to-day their cloth is known and worn in every county in the State and every State in the Union. They use only the best qualities of wool, entirely free from waste or shoddy, and employ only experienced and careful workmen, who strive to maintain the reputation their goods have ever borne among their retail customers. A few months since they opened a store at No. 29 Warren street, Syracuse, where they keep full lines of all goods of their manufacture. Farmers and mechanics of Madison county, as well as business men generally, can make good bargains by calling at the store, where Mr. J. W. Gates, the manager, will be pleased to give them good goods at advantageous terms. See card, colored page 150.

The National Hotel, Oneida, N. Y., only a few rods from the Railroad, is now under the management of Mr. B. D. Mott, who is prepared to entertain his patrons in the best manner. Mr. M. is a gentlemanly landlord, sets a good table, and knows how to make his guests feel at home. We can recommend the National to all who may have occasion to stop in Oneida. See card, page 226.

Bramer & Pierce, manufacturers of the celebrated Young Warrior Mower, at Fabius, Oneida Co., are also quite extensively engaged in the manufacture of other agricultural implements. The Mower, however, is their speciality, and we are pleased to know that it is a general favorite with those farmers who have used it. At several mowing machine trials, where it was placed in competition with several other machines, the Young Warrior has been declared by the judges as being superior to others; it has very light draft and does its work well. See advertisement and cut of machine on page 231.

Burke, Fitzsimons, Hone & Co., Importers, Jobbers and Retailers of Dry Goods, Fancy Goods and Woollens, No. 53 Main street, Rochester, publish a card on page 183. This House was established in 1849, since which time its success has been uninterrupted, each year increasing its amount of business. Their annual sales amount to the enormous sum of near $1,500,000, their trade extending from the Eastern portions of the State to the "Far West." Occupying, as they do, fully 25,000 feet of flooring in actual business departments, every portion of which is crowded with immense piles of goods from foreign countries, as well as of domestic manufacture, renders the facilities of this house for Jobbing equal to any in the country. The firm are also proprietors of the "Genesee Falls Woolen Mills," where they manufacture 100,000 yards of goods annually. See advertisement, colored page 149.

J. & F. B. Garrett, Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Printing, Writing, Wrapping, Tissue, Roll and Fancy Papers, Printers' Supplies, Shipping Cards, Blank Books, &c., at No. 8 West Fayette street, Syracuse, have built up a heavy trade in their line, extending from Harrisburgh, in Pennsylvania, to the Canadian border. We have dealt considerably with this establishment, and have invariably been gratified in having our orders promptly filled, and always with just the article required. See card, page 226.

W. C. Orcutt, General Agent for Central New York, for the celebrated Florence Sewing Machine, prints a well displayed advertisement on page 235. The Florence Machine makes a beautiful piece of furniture, and as a Sewing Machine, is capable of taking a greater number of stitches than any other. Its work is equal to other first-class machines, and its price as low. During the few years that the Florence has been in market its sales have been very large. It is a general favorite. Call and see it when you visit Syracuse. Mr. Orcutt may be found at No. 2 Yates Block.

The Oneida Dispatch, published by E. H. Purdy and D. A. Jackson, at Oneida, N. Y., is one of the best papers in the County. Correspondents in almost every town, report local items for its columns, while the departments of history, romance and politics, are not neglected. Those who wish for a paper that circulates through the whole County, and in the adjoining ones, and advocates sound Republican principles, cannot do better than to subscribe for the Dispatch. The publishers have excellent facilities for executing all Job Work intrusted to their hands. Subscribe for the Dispatch one year and you will be likely to continue it. See advertisement on page 183.

Jacob Miller, Book Binder and Blank Book manufacturer, in the Journal Building, Syracuse, carries on the most extensive business in his line in Central New York. He is provided with first class machinery and a number of excellent workmen, who understand their business. See card, page 228.

Geo. B. Cady, manufacturer of Woolen Cloths, at Lenox Furnace, sets forth the advantages of trading with him in a neat circular on page 197. Mr. Cady has gained an excellent reputation as a manufacturer, and his Cloths are universally conceded to be very serviceable by those who have worn them. His mills are extensive, are supplied with the best modern machinery, and are equalled by but few in the State. Farmers, as well as business men and mechanics, will find it greatly to their advantage by purchasing their goods at the factory, as Mr. Cady will sell them only such goods as he can warrant to be durable and well made. He makes no other.

Dr. Kingsley, of Rome, justly celebrated for the many cures he has effected of that most distressing disease, Cancer, publishes a notice on page 233. He is prepared to treat all scrofulous diseases, and others of long standing, and assures his patients that they will not be charged a heavy bill and dismissed without receiving any benefit. Persons who cannot conveniently call upon him in person, can address him by letter, and will receive prompt attention. Dr. K. is a graduate, with an experience of over fourteen years in the practice of medicine. Let the afflicted give him a call.

Canastota Herald, published by G. Greenhaw & Son, is a five paper, devoted to Politics, Literature, Local and General News. The senior member of the firm is a veteran in the newspaper business, and will spare no pains to make the paper a welcome visitor in the family circle. Book and Job Printing of all kinds executed in the best manner. See advertisement on page 203.

J. S. Atwell & Co., wholesale and retail dealers in General Merchandise, Chittenango, N. Y., publish a card on page 187. Their stock of goods is large, and selected with special reference to the wants of their customers. Those who favor Messrs. Atwell & Co. with a call will be pretty sure to get their money's worth.

W. Reeder & Son, Millers and dealers in Flour, Meal and Grain, Canastota, N. Y., publish a card on page 108. They are the proprietors of the Canastota Mills, and are prepared to furnish all kinds of grain, flour and feed, for man and beast, in large or small quantities. Messrs. R. & Son manufacture a superior brand of Family Flour. Persons wishing anything in their line will do well to give them a call, as they will find the best quality, at moderate prices.

Samuel L. Conde, Attorney and Counsellor at Law, Collecting and Insurance Agent, at Canastota, has also perfect arrangements in Washington whereby he can successfully transact all Patent business entrusted to his care. At least Inventors can determine at a moderate expense whether or not their claims are patentable, and if they are, Mr. Conde will carry it through at the lowest possible rates. See card, page 2.

Important to Everybody.—Printing is an art by itself, and what would the world amount to without it. No business man can succeed and thrive in his occupation unless he speculates freely in printers' ink; and the place where you can procure Wedding, Visiting and Business Cards, Bill Heads, Receipts, Checks, Notes, Envelopes, Headings in all styles, and in fact anything in the line of Plain or Ornamental Printing, is at Geo. W. Silcox's, 65 South Salina St., Syracuse. Work executed exceedingly cheap, and as for neatness we defy competition, and only ask and urge you to give him a call to prove that our assertion is everything but false. Orders by mail solicited and promptly attended to. Bronze work executed in all its branches. Send in your orders to him and we will warrant you a good job, and one from which you will derive a benefit.—Don't forget the place, 65 South Salina St., Syracuse. See card, page 222.

Mr. Ira H. Hill, of Hubbardsville, as a Harness maker and finished mechanic, is worthy of public notice. The public may rest assured that all work intrusted to his care will be executed with neatness and despatch. The Patent Safety Rein manufactured by Mr. Hill, should be taken into careful consideration by every one who has vicious or unmanageable horses. Those who patronize Mr. Hill will not be left dissatisfied. See card, page 132.

The Madison Observer, published at Morrisville, by E. Norton, is the oldest newspaper in Madison County. For more than forty years it has been a welcome visitor to many homes in the County, bringing its weekly contribution of news items, stories for the fireside, and political essays, to amuse, instruct and prepare the sovereigns of the County for their duty to the various crises through which our country has passed. Advertisers will find it a valuable medium for communicating with the public. All kinds of Job Printing executed with neatness and despatch. See advertisement on page 170.

Charles A. Spencer, A. M., Optician, at Canastota, publishes an advertisement on colored page 1. It may not be generally known, yet it is a fact, that the discoveries and inventions of Mr. Spencer, have entirely revolutionized the science of Optics. Under his powerful lenses much that has heretofore been admitted as truth, has been clearly shown to have been far from the truth. Interested optical instrument makers in Europe, who had not yet been able to produce Microscopic instruments of such great powers, were pleased to advance the idea that the improvements were impracticable and valueless for the study of natural sciences; but the great naturalists of the world were not fully satisfied with their statements, and after sufficient trials by some of the wisest savans in the old world, as well as the new, the old theory has been quashed, and today Mr. Spencer's reputation stands unrivaled. Without entering into any kind of details, we advise all persons who contemplate purchasing a telescope or microscope to consult Mr. Spencer.

MOORE & ALLEN, FASHIONABLE MILLINERS,

No. 1 Chapman Block, 1st door North of Roberts & Warner's Store,

Peterboro St.,

CANASTOTA, N. Y.

Musical.--Music is necessary everywhere. We quote with pleasure the following well-deserved notice of Redington & Howe--a house we have known for several years as of unimpeachable honor and the best business facilities.

"THE IMMENSE MUSICAL ESTABLISHMENT OF REDINGTON AND HOWE.--The enterprising wholesale Music Dealers of our city, Messrs. Redington & Howe, have just closed a most successful business year. Their sales have been immense--something entirely unparalleled in the history of the music trade in Central New York. They have deserved their increasing success. Their store is the most magnificent emporium between New York and Chicago. Their stock would supply a dozen ordinary city music stores. They are the only strictly wholesale music house in the State, outside of New York city. They have even some advantages over the Metropolitan houses. Our Syracuse wholesale store keeps constantly on hand the Pianos, Organs and Melodeons of several different makers, (a total of eighteen, with over fifty different varieties,) while New York Houses keep only maker's instruments of each kind. Besides, business expenses in Syracuse are much less than in New York; consequently, Redington & Howe are diverting much wholesale trade from New York and building up for themselves a mammoth business in supplying dealers. The question is sometimes asked, whether other dealers cannot buy in New York as cheaply as Redington & Howe. The dealers have thoroughly satisfied themselves that they cannot, for there is not a house in Central New York that will agree to take the great quantities of musical goods that Redington & Howe buy. Consequently, others have to buy on a higher tariff. It is on the same principal that Stewart of New York forced a neighboring house to withdraw. He could sell at a profit cheaper than his competitor could buy. Messrs. Redington & Howe have similar purchasing facilities. Indeed, they can be justly called the "Stewarts" of the music trade in Central New York.

We are glad, also, to notice that Redington & Howe do a first-class business in the Pianos, Organs and Melodeons they furnish. Their principal stock is composed of first-grade instruments. These they advertise and recommend, because they know their reliability. This house can furnish second-class instruments cheaper than any other establishment in Central New York (for the reason of buying cheaper), so that if purchasers want a low priced instrument, Redington & Howe's is the place to procure it. We advise our readers not to buy any instrument without first seeing or writing to Redington & Howe. They will also tell honestly the quality of the goods.

Another point: this house is financially responsible for all they recommend. Besides having the largest capital in the music business in Central New York, they are backed by as much more as they choose to call upon. For everything in the musical line, go to Redington & Howe, No. 2 Wioting Block, Syracuse."

MOTHERS! READ THIS.

Are your children restless, irritable, wakeful, feverish? Are they cutting teeth? Are the gums red and painful? Have they diarrhoea? Have they fits or spasms? If so,

USE THE ORIENTAL SYRUP.

It is the only Syrup or Cordial, or CHILD MEDICINE in market free from Opium, Morphine, or Paragoric. These you can't give; or, at least, you ought not to. They destroy the functions of the BRAIN; the child grows pale; its eyes grow wild; its flesh becomes soft; it loses its mind; it becomes an Idiot. Mothers, these are facts! To be convinced, try it. The Oriental Syrup contains NONE of those poisons. It is perfectly harmless. It is soothing—quieting. The child sleeps sweetly, and awakes refreshed and lively. The teeth penetrate the gums without pain. It is good for aged and nervous people. TRY IT.

THE BALM OF GILEAD!

SIR ASHLEY COOPER, in one of his lectures to his class, says:—I have used the Balm of Gilead in my practice, in one form or other, for more than forty years; and for Old Sores or Ulcers, Eruptions, Rheumatism, Burns, Chilblains, Scalds, Piles, Chafes, &c., it surpasses every other known remedy.

Rosenberger's Balm of Gilead Ointment

Is composed of Oils and Balsams from trees and shrubs, and for all the diseases referred to by Dr. Cooper, we warrant it almost a specific. For Gail, Grease and Wounds of Horses, it has no equal. We warrant it; therefore do not hesitate to try it for every kind of Wound, Bruise or Sore.

MADISON COUNTY.

THIS COUNTY was formed from Chenango, March 21, 1806, and named in honor of President Madison. In 1836 it was enlarged, by annexing that part of Stockbridge east of Oneida Creek. It is situated in the central part of the State; is centrally distant 98 miles from Albany, and contains an area of 670 square miles. The surface, in the extreme northern part, is low, level and swampy, but in the central and southern parts, is hilly; constituting a portion of the general system of highlands which occupy central New York. The hills, generally, have rounded outlines, and steep declivities; their highest summits ranging from 500 to 800 feet above the valleys, and from 900 to 1,200 feet above tide. The highlands, which are divided into separate ridges by a series of valleys extending north and south, form the watershed between the Susquehanna River and Oneida Lake. Upon the north slope, the principal streams are Chittenango Creek, (meaning "waters divide and run north,") forming a part of the west boundary of the County; Oneida Creek, forming a part of the east boundary, and the Canaseraga, (Big Elkshorn,) Canastota (Kanetota, meaning, "Big Pine,") and Cowaselon (meaning, "Weeping Squaw,") Creeks. The principal streams flowing south are Unadilla River, upon the east border, Beaver Creek, Chenango (meaning, "waters divide and run south,") River, and its branches, Otselic (meaning, "Capfull,") Creek, Tioughnioga River, Oneida Lake, forming the north boundary, and Owahgena, or Cazenovia Lake, near the center of the west border, are the principal bodies of water. The latter, one of the most beautiful lakes in the State, is four miles long, 900 feet above tide, and is surrounded by gradually sloping hillsides. The lowest rocks of the County, outcropping along Oneida Lake, belong to the Clinton group. The red iron ore peculiar to this group, is found to a limited extent, but not in sufficient quantities to render mining profitable. Next above this successively, appear the Niagara and Onondaga groups, underlying the whole swampy region. The red shales form the surface rock south of the swamp, and beds of gypsum extend along the base of the hills. These beds are extensively quarried, in some sections, and furnish an excellent quality of plaster. Upon the north declivities of the hills successively appear the water limestone, Pentameros limestone, Oriskany sandstone, and Onondaga limestone. From these groups are obtained an abundance of waterlime, quicklime and building stone; all of excellent quality. Next above appear the Marcellus and Hamilton shales, covering more than one half of the entire surface of the County. The Tully limestone, Genesee slate and Ithaca groups, are found, to some extent, covering the tops of the southern hills. A large share of the County is covered deep with drift deposits.

The soil upon the flat lands of the north, is generally of red clay, with great quantities of muck and marl in the swampy regions. Upon the northern declivities of the hills, the soil is a gravelly loam, intermixed with lime and plaster, and is very productive. Further south, the soil upon the hills is a clayey, gravelly and shaly loam, best adapted to pasturage; and in the valleys, a gravelly loam and alluvium. Stock raising and dairying are the principal pursuits of the people. Hops are cultivated extensively throughout the County. Manufactures are limited, and confined chiefly to a few villages.

The County seat is located at Morrisville. The first Courts were held, alternately, at the schoolhouse near David Barnard's, in Sullivan, (now Lenox,) and at the schoolhouse, in the village of Hamilton. The first officers were the following:—Peter Smith, First Judge; Sylvanus Smalley, Edward Green, Elisha Payne and David Cook, Associate Judges; Asa B. Sizer, County Clerk; Jeremiah Whipple, Sheriff; and Thomas H. Hubbard, Surrogate. In 1810 Cazenovia was selected as the site of the County buildings, and Col. John Lincklaen and Capt. Jackson were appointed to superintend the erection of a Court House. A brick building was erected, and the first Court was held in it in January 1812. In 1817, the County seat was removed to Morrisville, and the first Court was held there October 7, 1817. A new Court House was erected in 1847, and burned in October 1865, during the session of Court. It was rebuilt in 1866. It is a two story wooden building, containing a very fine court room, with gallery, jury rooms, and library. It is pleasantly situated, on a small park, fronting on the main street. In the park is a beautiful fountain and reservoir, thirty feet in diameter, and seven deep, affording an abundant supply of water in case of fire.

The Clerk's office is a small brick building, fire-proof, adjacent to the Court House. The present county officers are, Charles L. Kennedy, Judge; Andrew J. French, Sheriff; Lambert B. Kern, District Attorney; Nathan Brownell, County Clerk; Henry S. Wiser, Deputy Clerk; David F. Payson, County Treasurer.

The County Poor House is located upon a farm of 159 acres, in the town of Eaton, five miles south-east of Morrisville. The following statistics respecting it are taken from the annual report of the Superintendents of the Poor, for the year 1867. The total expense for the year ending November 15, 1867, was $17,774.96. The stock upon the County House Farm consists of one span of horses, one yoke of oxen, 16 milch cows, 17 fat cattle, 28 sheep, and 4 fat hogs. The products of the farm were as follows:—60 tons of hay, 100 bushels of oats, 250 bushels of corn, 450 bushels of potatoes, 35 bushels of beans, 10 bushels onions, 14 bushels of peas, and a large supply of garden vegetables. There were milked on the farm, during the summer, 15 cows. Eight hundred pounds of butter were made, and four hundred and eighty dollars worth of cheese. There were manufactured at the County House, during the year, 37 pairs of pants, 22 men's frocks, 6 pairs drawers, 30 pairs overalls, 42 shirts, 29 women's dresses, 16 chemise, 2 night dresses, 2 under-skirts, 23 pairs sheets, 18 pairs pillow cases, 14 bedquilts, 7 straw ticks, 7 jackets, and one coat. Fifty-two pounds of wool were manufactured into stockings and mittens by the inmates.

The principal public works in the County, are the Erie Canal and the New York Central Rail Road, extending through Lenox and Sullivan; Chenango Canal, extending through the north-west part of Madison, along the east border of Eaton, and west border of Hamilton, leaving the County at Earlville. A new canal, connecting Oneida Lake, at South Bay, with the Erie Canal at Durhamville, is now under contract. The New York and Oswego Midland Rail Road is located in this County, from Oneida, through Stockbridge, Eaton and Lebanon, to Norwich. It is now under contract from Oswego to Sidney Plains, and the grading has already been commenced at several points. The Utica, Chenango and Susquehanna Rail Road extends through the north-west corner of Brookfield, near Hubbardsville, East Hamilton and Earlville, to Sherburne. The cars are already running to Sherburne. The Cazenovia and Canastota Rail Road Company has been organized, and the surveys made for a road from Canastota, via Perryville, to Cazenovia. The first newspaper published in the County was,

The Madison Freeholder, at Peterboro, in 1808, by Jonathan Bunce & Co. It soon after appeared as

The Freeholder, and was continued until 1813, when it was changed to

The Madison County Herald, and was continued several years.

The Christian and Citizen was published at Peterboro in 1854, by Pruyn & Walker.

The Pilot was established at Cazenovia, in August, 1808, by Oran E. Baker, and continued till August, 1823.

The Republican Monitor was started at Cazenovia, in September, 1823, by L. L. Rice. It was published by John F. Fairchild from April, 1825, till January, 1832; J. F. Fairchild & Son, till July, 1840, and by J. F. Fairchild, till March 4, 1841, when it was discontinued.

The Students Miscellany, semi-monthly, was published at Cazenovia, in 1831, by A. Owen and L. Kidder.

The Union Herald was commenced in May, 1835, by L. Myrick and E. W. Clark. In 1836, Clark withdrew, and in 1840, the paper was discontinued.

The Cazenovia Democrat was started in September 1836, by J. W. Chubbuck & Co. It was edited by J. W. Dwinelle. In February 1837, it was discontinued.

The Madison County Eagle was commenced at Cazenovia in February 1840, by Cyrus O. Pool. In 1841 it was published by Thos. S. Myrick and W. H. Phillips. In June 1842, Myrick withdrew, and in May 1845, it was changed to

The Madison County Whig. In August 1848, Phillips was succeeded by H. A. Cooledge, by whom the paper was changed to

The Madison County News, in October 1853. In May 1854, it was again changed to

The Madison County Whig, and in January 1857, it was discontinued.

The Abolitionist was started at Cazenovia in 1841, by Luther Myrick, and continued two years.

The Madison and Onondaga Abolitionist was published in 1843, by Luther Myrick and J. C. Jackson.

The Madison Republic was commenced at Cazenovia in January 1850, by W. H. Phillips, and continued about three months.

The Cazenovia Gazette was published by Baker & Debnam from October 1851, until May 1852.

The Progressive Christian was established in April 1853, by A. Pryne, and was continued two years.

THE CAZENOVIA REPUBLICAN was commenced May 1, 1854, by Seneca Lake; it was subsequently published by Crandall Brothers, and is now issued by Forte Brothers.

The Gazette and Madison County Advertiser was established at Peterboro in May 1817, by John B. Johnson & Son. It was removed to Morrisville in 1819, and discontinued in 1822.

The Madison Observer was commenced at Cazenovia in January 1821, by Rice & Hall. It was removed to Morrisville in 1822, and in 1824, Bennett Bicknell became its publisher. In 1829 it was united with The Hamilton Recorder, and issued as

The Observer and Recorder. In 1832 it passed into the hands of H. C. Bicknell and James Norton, and in 1834 into those of James Norton. In 1835 it was changed to

THE MADISON OBSERVER. In 1839 J. & E. Norton became its publishers, and in 1856, Edward Norton, by whom it is still published.

The Hamilton Recorder was started in 1817, by John G. Stower and P. B. Havens. In 1819 it passed into the hands of Stower & Williams, and afterwards into those of John P. Van Sice. In 1829 it was removed to Morrisville, and united with The Observer.

The Madison Farmer was published at Hamilton in 1828, by Nathaniel King.

The Civilian was started July 27, 1830, by Lauren Dewey. In February 1831, it passed into the hands of Lewison Fairchild, and in November 1831, it was discontinued.

The Hamilton Courier was commenced by G. R. Waldron, in February 1834, and in the following year it appeared as

The Hamilton Palladium was started in 1838, by John Atwood, and continued six years—a part of the time by J. & D. Atwood.

The Hamilton Eagle was published in 1839, by G. R. Waldron.

The Literary Visitor was published at Hamilton about three months, in 1842, by Dennis Redman.

The Democratic Reflector was started at Hamilton, by G. R. Waldron, in 1842, and was published by Waldron & Baker from 1843 until 1854, and two years by Waldron alone, when it was united with The Madison County Journal, and appeared as

THE DEMOCRATIC REPUBLICAN. It was published by Waldron & James until 1861; by J. Hunt Smith sixteen months, when it passed into the hands of E. D. Van Slyck, by whom it is now published.

The Madison County Journal was commenced in September 1849, by E. F. & C. B. Gould. W. W. Chubbuck, F. B. Fisher and T. L. James, were afterwards interested in its publication; and in 1856 it was united with The Democratic Reflector.

The Mill Boy was published during the campaign of 1844, at the Palladium office, and

The Polker at the Reflector office.

The Land Mark was published as a campaign paper, in 1850.

The New York State Radii was removed from Fort Plain, Montgomery County, in 1854, by L. S. Backus, and continued about 18 months, when it was returned to Fort Plain.

THE DEMOCRATIC UNION was commenced at Hamilton in 1856, by Levi S. Backus; and in 1857 it passed into the hands of W. H. Baker, who removed it to Oneida in 1863, where he continues to publish it.

The Canastota Register was published in 1830, by Silas Judd and H. B. Mattison, and in 1831, by H. S. Merritt.

The Canastota Times was commenced in 1857, by G. H. Merriam, and was discontinued the following year.

The Canastota Eagle was started November 4, 1858, by J. E. N. Backus, and published about three years.

THE CANASTOTA HERALD was commenced in September 1866, and published by A. White until April 1867; then by White & Greenhow one year, when it passed into the hands of Greenhow & Son, its present publishers.

The Chittenango Herald was established in 1832, by Isaac Lyon, and was published successively as

The Chittenango Republican,

The Phoenix, and

The Democratic Gazette, until 1856, when it was discontinued.

The De Ruyter Herald was published in 1835, by C. W. Mason.

The Protestant Sentinel was moved from Schenectady to De Ruyter in November 1836, and was published by J. & C. H.

Maxon until the fall of 1837. It then passed into the hands of Wm. D. Cochran, by whom it was issued as

The Protestant Sentinel and Seventh Day Baptist Journal. In February 1840, Joel Greene became its publisher, and changed it to The Seventh Day Baptist Register. In 1841 it passed into the hands of James Bailey, by whom it was continued until 1845.

The National Banner was commenced at De Ruyter in October 1847, by A. C. Hill, and continued two years.

The Central New Yorker was published at De Ruyter, by E. F. & C. B. Gould, from September 1848, until May 1851.

The Banner of the Times was started at De Ruyter, by Walker & Hall, and continued until 1855.

The De Ruyter Weekly News was established in 1862, by J. E. N. Backus, and was discontinued in 1864.

The Sabbath School Gem, monthly, was published in 1863 and 1864, by J. E. N. Backus.

The Oneida Telegraph was commenced at Oneida in September 1851, by D. H. Frost. In June 1854, it passed into the hands of John Crawford, and was changed to

The Oneida Sachem, under which name it continued until May 1863, when it was changed to

THE ONEIDA DISPATCH. September 16, 1865, it passed into the hands of Purdy & Jackson, its present publishers. From March to October 1864, Edward H. Spooner was associated with Mr. Crawford in the publication of the Dispatch.

The Independent Volunteer was started July 28, 1864, at Morrisville and Hamilton. September 25, 1866, it was changed to WALDRON'S DEMOCRATIC VOLUNTEER, and is now published at Hamilton, by G. R. Waldron & Son.

The Circular is a weekly paper, published by the Oneida Community.

Nearly all the south half of this County belonged to the tract known as the "Chenango Twenty Towns;" a tract ceded by the Indians of the State, in a treaty made with Gov. George Clinton, at Fort Schuyler, September 22, 1788. These towns were originally designated by numbers. Those embraced in Madison County are Nelson, Eaton, Madison, Hamilton, Lebanon and Georgetown, formerly numbered respectively, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and Brookfield, embracing 19 and 20. A strip lying between this tract and the Military Tract, including De Ruyter and the greater part of Cazenovia, was embraced in the Lincklaen purchase. The Oneida Indian Reservation originally embraced all the north part of the County, but was subsequently divided into several large tracts. The "New Petersburg Tract," or purchase of Peter Smith, embraced fifty thousand acres, including nearly all of Smithfield and Fenner, the north part of Cazenovia, and a strip, one mile wide, across the south part of Stockbridge. The remainder of Stockbridge was included in the Reservation of the Stockbridge Indians. Lenox and Sullivan constituted the northwest portion of the Oneida Indian Reservation.

The first settlements of this County were made by squatters upon the Oneida Reservation, in 1770. The permanent settlements were commenced about 1795, by immigrants, chiefly from the New England States, who have left an indelible stamp upon the County, of their industry, intelligence and morality. The great lines of travel, from the Hudson to the Niagara, passed either north or south of the territory embraced in Madison County, and to this fact, perhaps, may be attributed its exemption from the horrors of war, which disturbed the more southern and adjoining counties.

One incident, prominent among revolutionary events, and probably the leading cause to the first settlement of the County, may with propriety be recorded among the local interests of the County. In the fall of 1780, about 800 men were collected in the vicinity of Montreal, with all possible speed and secrecy; embarked without delay upon batteaux that were in readiness for them; they passed up the river to Lake Ontario, through the lake, up the Oswego River, through the Oneida branch to Oneida Lake, thence a few miles up Chittenango Creek, where they concealed their boats and stores, and started on a marauding expedition. While Col's Johnston and Butler were organizing this force in Canada, Brant had collected the Indians at Tioga Point, and ascending the Susquehanna to Unadilla, he united his force with that of Col's. Johnston and Butler, and the whole army moved to Schoharie. Stains of blood and fire marked the progress of the invading foe. Yielding to the same fiendish spirit, they proceeded to the valley of the Mohawk, plundering and burning, till overcome with fatigue, and overburthened with plunder, they halted at a place called Klockfield, on the East Canada Creek. As soon as the news of this irruption reached the American headquarters, General Robert Van Rensselaer went in pursuit of the foe, with a force of 1,500 men. Advancing upon the south side of the river, he reached the ford west of St. Johnsville, which was guarded by forty men, but did not advance until the guard was withdrawn. On the afternoon of the next day, the force came up with the British troops and Indians, who fled, intending to reach their boats by the shortest route. Gen. Van Rensselaer pursued them as far as Herkimer, then sent an express to Fort Schuyler, (Rome,) ordering Captain Vrooman, with a strong detachment, to hasten forward to Chittenango Creek and destroy the enemies boats and stores. Capt. Vrooman surprised the guard left in charge of the boats, made them prisoners, and sunk all of the boats but two. Having accomplished their work, Vrooman and his party were in turn surprised by the arrival of Butler's Rangers and Indians, and the whole party made prisoners, without firing a gun. The British were much irritated at the discovery of their boats sunk, and their stores destroyed. They succeeded, however, in raising a sufficient number of boats to make their escape. While the regular troops were making the necessary arrangements for their embarkation, their more savage allies amused themselves by the wanton massacre of three prisoners and the torture of the fourth. For many years a lofty pine tree stood near the place of Vrooman's capture, memorable as the "Turtle Tree" from the circumstance of the rude outline of a turtle been engraved upon the trunk. This symbol indicated a victory and torture of prisoners. An importance was attached to the latter incident, which caused the Indians, for many years, to make an annual pilgrimage to the "Turtle Tree." The prisoner was bound at the knees and ankles, and compelled to run the gauntlet between two files of Indians, who were armed with clubs and other weapons, ready and anxious to give their victim a blow. They promised him life and honor if he should reach the end of the line without serious injury. The prisoner made nine leaps along the line, of such astonishing length, that, for the moment, the savages withheld the blows they seemed ready to inflict; but at the tenth leap he was struck down, cruelly beaten, and afterwards burned. Each leap of the prisoner was marked, and for many years the Indians were accustomed to assemble at this spot, and attempt, unbound, to equal the leaps of the unfortunate prisoner, but without success. Authorities differ as to the precise spot upon which this British force landed, but the early settlers of Sullivan found portions of muskets, knives, hatchets and bullets, in the vicinity, and fragments of boats among the driftwood along the shore. A rumor long prevailed that in the hurry of escape, Johnston lost his military chest, containing a large amount of specie, and search was made for the lost treasure, but without success.

The soldiers composing Capt. Vrooman's detachment, sent from Fort Schuyler, were mostly Dutchmen from the Mohawk settlements; a part of them lived to reach their homes, after a long captivity. They remembered their early expedition, the rich lands of the Oneida, the streams abounding in fish, and the forests in game. Among these hardy pioneers was Capt. Seber, who, in March 1790, with nine families, started from their first homes upon the Mohawk, to visit and people the region of their battle ground, now forming the north part of Madison County. In this pioneer band were included the Pickards, Van Slykes and Palsleys, names familiar in the early history of the County. Reaching the flats of the Canaseraga, they were pleased with its appearance, and selecting farms contiguous to each other, commenced to clear the land, and put in the seed for the future harvest. The season was propitious, and a bountiful harvest rewarded the labors of these first settlers. The Oneida Indians were greatly irritated at the intrusion of these pale faces upon their rightful possessions, and watched Capt. Seber and his party with a jealous eye. Their ill will increased, and their grievances at length became intolerable. By the advice of their missionary, they submitted their grievances to the Governor, whose duty it was to see that justice was meted out to all within his dominions. The result was, that the settlers were ordered to remove from the lands of the Oneidas. They pertinaciously refused to obey the order, and Col. Colbraith, Sheriff of Montgomery County, was sent with an armed force of sixty men to dislodge them. Unawed by the power and authority of the Sheriff, they still clung to their cabins, absolutely refusing to remove. Finding all commands and entreaties of no avail, the Sheriff ordered all movable articles to be removed from their cabins, and then set them on fire, leaving the settlers to witness, in sullen silence, the destruction of their houses, and the blasting of their hopes of a permanent home in this goodly land. The Indians having accomplished their object, now came forward and directed the settlers to the grounds near the present village of Chittenango, where they were permitted to settle, and, unmolested, to hunt and fish until the earth should again yield her fruits for their sustenance. Capt. Seber and a few others removed afterwards to the vicinity of Clockville, in the town of Lenox. When this first attempt was made to form a settlement in this region, no road had been opened for wagons. An Indian trail extended from the villages of the Oneidas to the cabins of the Onondagas, nearly on the line of the Seneca turnpike, to Chittenango, thence to "Deep Spring," on the County line. The first attempt to make a road through the County was by William Wadsworth, from Connecticut, on his way to the "Genesee Country." He left his home in June 1790, with an ox team and cart, two or three hired men, and a favorite colored woman, Jenny, who was for a long time the only one of her race in that region. West of Whitesboro, Mr. Wadsworth was obliged to cut away logs, build causeways through the sloughs, ford streams, and, at Cayuga Lake, construct a pontoon of two Indian canoes lashed together, and covered with poles. The State afterwards made an appropriation for the improvement of this road, and in 1800, the "Seneca Turnpike Company" was empowered to improve the old State road, from Utica to Canandaigua. During the first season it was opened to the width of six rods, as far as Vernon, and the next season to Chittenango. Another road was opened at an early day from Peterboro to Cherry Valley, greatly increasing the facilities of travel, and offering additional inducements to settle this delightful region. Emigrants from the Mohawk Valley began at this time to settle upon lands now comprised in the towns of Lenox and Sullivan. The soil was fertile, and yielded abundant harvests to reward the labor of those pioneers of the forest. There was neither grist-mill or saw-mill in this region till 1794, when they were erected by Col. John Lincklaen, in Cazenovia. Previous to this the inhabitants traveled with their grists to New Hartford or Manlius. From this time, roads were multiplied and improved; the facilities of travel increased, and the County rapidly increased in wealth and population. To facilitate the transportation of farm products to the canal and railroad, plank roads, for a time, were rapidly extended. In 1848 a plank road was constructed from Hamilton to Utica, and in 1850, another connecting Hamilton, Madison and Oriskany. The same year Georgetown and Pecksport were connected by a road passing through Eaton and Leeville. In 1851, a plank road was laid from Canastota to Morrisville, and another soon after from Peterboro to Clarkville. One of the principal plank roads of the County extended from De Ruyter, through Cazenovia and Chittenango, to Oneida Lake. It was completed in 1848, at a cost of $21,000, more than $10,000 of which was expended in grading.— This road passed through a very difficult valley, in some places assuming the character of a gorge, and overcame an elevation of 800 feet, by a gradual ascent, in no place more than six feet in one hundred. The old road required an aggregate ascent of about 1600 feet. This road rendered available a valuable water power, which before was inaccessible. Many of these roads have been macadamized since the plank was worn out. One of the best in the County is from Canastota to Peterboro; another from Chittenango depot to Cazenovia.

The Madison County Agricultural Society was formed in September 1841. J. D. Ledyard, of Cazenovia, was chosen President; Elijah Morse, of Eaton, H. G. Warner, of Sullivan, J. H. Dunbar, of East Hamilton, Vice Presidents; Alexander Krumbhaer, of Cazenovia, and A. S. Sloan, of Eaton, Secretaries. For several years the Society held annual Fairs at various points in the County, and the occasions were of general interest to those immediately concerned in their management, and to the spectators generally. Among those who have at different times been interested in introducing improved breeds of stock, we find recorded the following: Messrs. Whitman and Douglass introduced a Devon bull into the town of Sullivan, about the year 1825, and in 1843, S. A. Gilbert, of East Hamilton, raised a bull calf that became generally known as the "Ackly Bull," and was subsequently owned by D. D. Palmer, of Brookfield. The weight of this animal was nearly two thousand pounds. A yoke of steers, the progeny of this bull, were exhibited at the County Fair in 1851, by H. P. Potter, of East Hamilton, which weighed 3,360 pounds. Mr. Beaumont, of Eaton, brought into the County a thorough bred Durham bull, and a few heifers, which contributed largely to the improvement of the stock of the County. Sylvester Burchard, of Madison, and David Osgood, of Hamilton, may be honorably mentioned in this connection; as also Sanford P. Chapman, of Lenox, who at one time owned a very valuable herd of short-horn stock. In 1810, Curtis Hoppin brought into the town of Lebanon about two hundred sheep, of mixed breeds, among which were coarse wooled, fine wooled, and a few South-down bucks and ewes. This may be considered the commencement of sheep raising in the County with a view to profit; the farmers selected from his flocks, and commenced sheep breeding. In 1823, Mr. Hoppin introduced a few full blooded Merino sheep, which in due season gave character and value to the growing flocks. John B. Yates, Esq., of Chittenango, deserves honorable mention for his efforts in improving the breed of horses in the County. He introduced "Ethiop" and "Hambletonian," and other excellent horses. "Messenger" was brought into the County by Henry and George Ehle, of Sullivan. Messrs. Ackley, of Hamilton, introduced the "Morgan" horse from Vermont. For several years the existence of the Agricultural Society inspired a healthy rivalry on the part of the farmers and stock breeders of the County, but for some reason, unknown to the writer of this, the Society has become a defunct institution.

In preparing this brief historical sketch, we have had access to no reliable statistics from which we could ascertain the number of men this County furnished for the late war, or the number whose lives were offered as a sacrifice upon the altar of our common country, that the blessings handed down to us by our fathers might be preserved. That she responded cheerfully to the several calls, and performed her part in preserving the Government, whose foundation was cemented by the blood of our fathers, there is abundant evidence. The battle fields and prison pens of the South will bear witness that Madison was not behind her sister counties in her devotion to loyalty and justice. Though shafts of marble and granite may arise to perpetuate the memory of her fallen heroes, the most enduring monument is found in the hearts of a grateful people, whose land has been freed from treason and slavery.

GAZETTEER OF TOWNS.

BROOKFIELD was formed from Paris, March 5, 1795; and Columbus, Chenango Co., was taken off in 1805. It lies in the south-east corner of the County. Its surface is hilly, broken by the valley of the Unadilla River, which forms the east boundary, and that of Beaver Creek, which flows through, near the center. The east branch of the Chenango flows through the north-west part. Several smaller streams take their rise in the town. The soil is a gravelly loam, well adapted to grazing.

Clarkville, (Brookfield p. o.) named from Hon. Joseph Clark, formerly State Senator, was incorporated April 5, 1834, and contains two churches, a tannery, and about 600 inhabitants.

Leonardsville, (p. v.) contains a church, a bank, a large wagon shop, and about 400 inhabitants.

North Brookfield, (p. v.) contains about 300 inhabitants, a grist-mill, sawmill and furnace.

South Brookfield (p. o.) is a hamlet, and De Lancy, named from John De Lancy, is a post office. Babcock's Mills contains a saw-mill, grist-mill, and a manufactory of horse-rakes.

"The Brookfield Agricultural Society," and "The Brookfield Union Agricultural Society," are both flourishing, and hold Fairs every year.

The first settlement was made by Capt. Daniel Brown, from Connecticut, in 1791. Capt. Brown had heard the wonderful accounts of the "far West," which was then in central New York, and determined to settle with his family in that promised land, though he was at the advanced age of sixty-six. For some reason unknown, he took a southern route, with the intention of settling in the Genesee Valley. In June, Mr. B., with a few friends whom he had induced to accompany him, reached the house of John Carr, on the east bank of the Unadilla River. Here he rested, and was so pleased with the beauty of the scenery, the fertility of the soil, and the delightful climate, that he determined to abandon the Genesee and settle on the west bank of the Unadilla, some distance above Carr's residence. Lot number 82, in the 19th township, was selected as the place for their first labors. The birthday of our nation was selected as the one on which the germ of the new settlement should be planted; and as the first rays of the sun gilded the tree tops on that morning, Mr. Brown's axe raised the first echoes of the woodman's song. Other members of his party settled near, and several clearings were made before autumn. The necessary arrangements of a settlement having been made, all the members of the party, except Mr. B. and his family, returned to their eastern homes for the winter. The winter was very severe, and taxed the ingenuity of Brown to its utmost to secure the wild deer for food, and gather fodder for the few cattle he possessed. His cattle were mainly supported by browsing in the woods, with some coarse hay cut on the beaver meadow, and drawn home on hurdles "attached to the tails of the oxen."

In 1792, a company of Seventh Day Baptists, from Rhode Island and Connecticut, purchased 13 lots in the 19th township, at a cost of about fifty cents an acre. Mr. B. paid the same for his land. Larger tracts were soon placed under the control of individuals, and we find that the entire townships of No. 18 and No. 20, with the unsold portions of No. 19, were sold to M. Myers, J. Sanger and John I. Morgan, for 3s. 1d. and 3s. 3d. an acre. The custom of granting leases for one, two or three lives, the rent payable in Albany, in products of the soil, was entailed upon a portion of these larger tracts. John and Elias Button, Lawton Palmer, Samuel H. Burdick, Samuel Billings, David Maine, Stephen Collins, Thomas and James Rogers, and Paul and Perry Maxon, settled in the town in 1792.

John Button built the first grist-mill in 1792, and Reuben Leonard opened the first store in 1801. The first school was taught by Asa Carrier, in the winter of 1796. The first town meeting was held at the house of Capt. Daniel Brown, April 7, 1795, at which Elisha Burdick was chosen Town Clerk; Stephen Hoxie, Esq., Supervisor; Clark Maxon, Joshua Whitford and John Stanton, Assessors. The records show a specimen of legislation, which would be a novelty now, though it was common at that day. The "natural rights" of the porkers have been greatly abridged in three-fourths of a century. Witness the following:-

"Voted, That hogs shall run at large."

In 1797 the porcine race enjoyed still greater privileges.

"Voted, That hogs shall run at large without either rings or yokes."

The records of a "called Town Meeting," in 1802, show that they were not unmindful of the sanitary condition of the embryo town, as the following votes attest:

"Voted, That no person shall set up enoculation, or have the small pox, within eighty rods of any public highway or road."

"Voted, That no person enoculated, shall come within twenty-five rods of any highway or road, until he shall be thoroughly cleansed by a Doctor, or some other safe person."

A violation of these laws subjected the offender to a fine.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 3,593, and an area of 45,092 acres. There are thirty-three school districts, employing twenty-eight teachers, and having 1,162 pupils, with an average attendance of 400. The whole amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $2,960.00.

CAZENOVIA, named from Theophilus Cazenove, the first agent of the Holland Land Company, was formed from Paris and Whitestown, March 5, 1795. Its territory was subsequently diminished by taking off De Ruyter in 1798; Sullivan in 1803; Smithfield and Nelson in 1807; and a part of Fenner in 1823. It is the central town upon the west border of the County. Its surface is a rolling upland, broken by the valleys of Chittenango and Limestone Creeks. The summits of the hills are from 300 to 500 feet above the valleys.

Cazenovia Lake, (called by the Indians, Owahgena, meaning, "the lake where the yellow fish swim," or "yellow perch lake,") is a beautiful sheet of water, about four miles long. Its outlet, Chittenango Creek, forms a part of the boundary between this town and Fenner, and is a feeder for the Erie Canal. The stream has, in its course, a fall of several hundred feet, affording a great number of valuable mill sites. At the Chittenango Fall, about three miles from Cazenovia village, the water plunges, in a beautiful cascade, perpendicularly, over a ledge of limestone rock, 136 feet in height. Limestone Creek flows across the south part of the town. On this stream, near the southwest border of the town, are two beautiful cascades, one of which is ninety feet in height, the other between sixty and seventy. Hydraulic and common limestone are quarried near Chittenango Falls. In the northern and central parts, the soil is a gravelly loam; in the southern part, a clayey loam, underlaid by hardpan.

Cazenovia, (p. v.) incorporated February 7, 1810, is beautifully situated on Chittenango Creek, at the foot of Cazenovia Lake, and is a summer resort. It contains six churches, two banks, three hotels, the Oneida Conference Seminary, and several manufactories. The Seminary was founded in 1825, and is a large and flourishing institution. There is a large sash and blind factory, a woolen factory, and a large tannery, on Chittenango Creek, a short distance below the village. The sash and blind factory of O. W. Sage uses about one million feet of pine lumber, twenty barrels of glue, two tons of finishing nails, and fifty reams of sand paper, annually. About forty-five hands and six teams are employed, turning out about eighteen thousand doors, fifteen thousand pair of blinds, and 250,000 lights of sash annually. The American Lock Company have recently established a factory here, for the manufacture of "Felter's Patent Culindo Locks." They are burglar and powder-proof, simple in construction, and possess the most desirable qualities of the best combination locks, and are in many respects superior to any hitherto made. The Company have already a capital of $33,000 invested, with the privilege of increasing it to $100,000. There are several mills, machine shops, cabinet shops, &c., in the village. The population is about 2,000.

Bingley Mills, about two miles from Cazenovia, on Chittenango Creek, has been owned by Mr. William Atkinson since September 12, 1831. This is a longer time than any other mill in town has been run by the same man. H. S. Keeler and C. L. Chappell have recently opened a trotting course on their land, about half a mile north of Cazenovia village.

New Woodstock, (p. v.) situated in the southern part of the town, contains two churches, two carriage and wagon shops, an extensive glove factory, a hotel, four stores, several mechanic shops and mills, and about 300 inhabitants. A fine new school house, to cost about $3,000, is being erected. From July 27, 1867, to July 27, 1868, not a death occurred within two miles of the village. Isaac Warren, Robert Fisher, Jonathan Smith and John Savage, were the first settlers in this part of the town. Ralph Knight, now the oldest resident of the village, born December 18, 1796, was the second child born in the town.

Chittenango Falls is a post office.

The first settlement of this town was commenced by John Lincklaen, from Amsterdam, Holland, in 1793. The Holland Land Company had previously purchased the greater part of this town, and Mr. Lincklaen undertook the sale and settlement of the tract. His party numbered sixteen persons, of whom Samuel S. Forman was engaged as general business assistant, and charged with the disposition of a stock of goods, selected and sent forward to supply the settlers with comforts not otherwise to be had. These goods were left with John Post, at old Fort Schuyler, (near Utica,) the only merchant then residing at that place. The first load of goods was brought along the "Genesee Road" to Oneida Castle, being one day's journey, thence to the Chittenango Creek, following its banks to the village of that name. Here the road terminated, and Indian trails were the only openings. From this place Mr. For-man's axemen¹ cleared a passage for their loaded cart, and with great labor they reached the summit of the high hill, but not till the sun had sunk beneath the horizon, was their tent pitched for the night. The next day they reached the foot of Cazenovia Lake, where they determined to make a settlement. Log cabins were rapidly erected, a storehouse was built, an office opened, and tempting terms offered to settlers, such as one dollar an acre for lots purchased by the first ten settlers with families. This offer was promptly accepted, and raised a clamor for like advantages to newly married couples, to share in Mr. Lincklaen's novel patronage. Surveys were pressed forward under Mr. Locke, and purchases rapidly effected at $1.50 to $2.00 per acre. As an evidence of the intelligence of the early settlers, it is said, on the authority of Mr. Forman, who was a clerk in the land office for four years, that only one man who could not write his name took up land during the whole time.

Among the other early settlers were Archibald Bates, William Gillett, William Miles, Benjamin Pierson, Noah Taylor, Ira Peck, Nathan Webb and Shubael Brooks. E. S. Jackson, Samuel Thomas, Joseph Sims, Isaac Morse, Gideon Freeborn and David Fay, also settled here at an early day. Mrs. Mary De Clercq, whose maiden name was Ledyard, came to this town, on horseback, from Connecticut, in 1798. She is still living, and in the 88th year of her age. Levi Burgess came about 1800. His son Elam, now a resident of this town, has resided here sixty years.

The first birth was that of a child of Noah Taylor, in 1794. John Lincklaen built the first saw and grist-mills, in 1794. Matthew Chandler erected the first woolen factory, and Ebenezer Knowlton, a chair shop and an oil mill, at an early day. Luther Bunnell erected a trip-hammer shop, and carried on an extensive business about 1810. From 1812 to 1817, Cazenovia was the County Seat. The Oneida Indians formerly had a small village on the present site of Cazenovia, and the remains of a fort were found there. The lake was a place of resort for fishing by the Oneidas and Onondagas. The town contains nine churches. The first church (Presb.) was organized May 17, 1799, with eight members. The following are the names of the original members, viz: Jedediah Turner, Jacob Dannals, John Tappan, Samuel R. Coats, Anne Howd, Mary Dannals, Eunice Coats and Alatheia Root. Jedediah Turner was the first deacon. Rev. Joshua Leonard was the first pastor.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 4,157, and an area of 29,274 acres. There are twenty-two school districts, employing eighteen teachers. The whole number of pupils is 842, and the average attendance 330. The whole amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $3,763.06. Cazenovia is about to be connected with Canastota by railroad.

DE RUYTER, named from Admiral De Ruyter, of the Dutch Navy, was formed from Cazenovia, March 15, 1798. Georgetown was taken off in 1815, and German, (Chenango Co.) in 1806. It is the south-west corner town of the County. Its surface consists of hilly upland, broken by the valley of the Tiohognioga River. The summits of the hills are from 400 to 500 feet above the valleys. The principal streams are the Tiohognioga River and its tributaries. The soil is a sandy and gravelly loam on the hills, and alluvium in the valleys.

De Ruyter, (p. v.) incorporated April 15, 1833, contains four churches, and between 700 and 800 inhabitants. The De Ruyter Institute was founded in 1836, and the school was opened in 1837. It contains dormitories to accommodate one hundred students, and has an endowment of $10,000. There are several manufactories in the town, viz: two tanneries, a flax mill, a cabinet shop, a spring bed factory, and a horse-rake manufactory.

Shed's Corners (p. o.) contains two churches, a tavern and grocery.

Hon. James W. Nye, U. S. Senator, Nevada; Hon. John F. Benjamin, M. C., Missouri, and Judge E. Darwin Smith, of Rochester, were natives of this town.

The first settlers were Elijah and Elias Benjamin, and Eli Colgrove, in 1793. Joseph Messenger and Samuel Thomson settled in the town in 1795. Darius Benjamin, Justus, Jeremiah and Ebenezer Gage, and Daniel Page, were also early settlers. Mr. E. E. Benjamin, now living, was one of the first settlers.

The first birth was that of Frederick Benjamin, in 1798. Joseph Messenger kept the first tavern, in 1796, and Samuel Bowen the first store. Joseph Rich built the first saw-mill, in 1807, and the first grist-mill, in 1809. The first school was taught by Eli Gage, in the winter of 1799.

According to the census of 1865, the population of the town was 1,820, and its area 19,202 acres.

A reservoir, as a feeder for the Erie Canal, has recently been constructed in this town; its area is 626 acres; its average depth 18½ feet, and the length of the feeder 25 miles.

The number of school districts is fourteen, employing eleven teachers. The whole number of pupils is 579, and the average attendance 168. The whole amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $1,154.40.

EATON, named from Gen. William Eaton, commander of the United States military forces in the expedition to Tripoli, was formed from Hamilton, February 6, 1807. It is an interior town, situated in the center of the County. The surface is a rolling upland, broken by the valley of Chenango River into two ridges, whose summits are 400 to 600 feet in height. The Chenango flows south through the center. The outlet of the Eaton Reservoir flows through a deep, narrow ravine, and affords a large number of valuable mill sites. Hatch's Lake and Bradley Brook Reservoir, and several smaller reservoirs, are in this town. The soil is a gravelly loam, intermixed with clay in the valleys.

Morrisville, (p. v.) named from a family of early settlers in the town, is situated on the Chenango River, and was incorporated April 13, 1819. It contains three churches, a bank, the court house, jail, and a fine union school house, in the upper story of which is a large hall, neatly frescoed, and fitted up with stage scenes and fixtures, in a style seldom seen in a village of the size. The Madison Observer, which has retained its present name since 1835, is published here. The population of the village is about 700.

Eaton, (p. v.) commonly called "Log City," contains three churches, an extensive manufactory of portable steam engines, and about 500 inhabitants.

West Eaton, (p. v.) commonly called "Leeville," contains two churches, three woolen factories, and about 40 or 50 houses.

Pratt's Hollow, (p. v.) named from John and Matthew Pratt, early settlers, contains a church and about 20 houses.

Pierceville contains a cotton factory and about 30 houses.

Pine Woods is a post office.

This town was settled in 1792, by John and James Salisbury, from Vermont. They selected lot 94, and Enoch Stowell, from New Hampshire, and Jonathan Bates, from Vermont, their companions, selected an adjoining lot, which proved to be lot 7 in Lebanon. To provide for their necessities in the depth of the forest, they drove an ox, which they slaughtered on their arrival; this, with the flour and beans which they brought, supplied them while they cut the timber from twenty acres of the fertile soil. On the approach of winter the party retired to Bainbridge, on the Susquehanna, intending to resume their labors in the spring, but Mr. Bates and his family only, returned in the spring. Joshua Leland, from Sherburne, Massachusetts, settled in the town in 1793, and was the first permanent settler. John H. and Benjamin Morris, settled in the town in 1794, and Benjamin Morse, Daniel Abbey, Simeon Gillett, Levi Barney and Elijah Hayden, in 1795. Joseph Moss, William Mills, Lewis Wilson, Samuel Sinclair, Humphrey Palmer and a Mr. McCrellis, in 1796; and Ransom Harmon, in 1797.

The first birth was that of Col. Uriah Leland, Nov. 1, 1793, and the first marriage that of Lewis Wilson and Dorcas Gillett, in 1796. The first death was that of Simeon Gillett, in 1796. Joshua Leland opened the first inn, in 1794, and erected the first saw and grist-mill, in 1795. The first store was kept by David Gaston, in 1804, and the first school was taught by Doct. James Pratt, in the winter of 1797-8. He taught the first month at the house of Joseph Moss, the second near Morrisville, the third near Log City, and the fourth near the residence of Joshua Leland. The first church was organized in 1805.

The population in 1865, was 3,861, and its area 25,851 acres. There are twenty school districts, employing 24 teachers. The whole number of pupils is 1,295, and the average daily attendance 476. The amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $3,071.67.

Among the notorious residents of this town, during its early history, was Abram Antone, an Indian, who came from the Susquehanna, where he was born. He was bold, adventurous and revengeful, and the terror of all who excited his ill will. He had a daughter who inherited, to some extent, the disposition of her father. She was wooed and won by a man who subsequently became fascinated by a fairer face, and deserted his first love. The dusky maiden could not endure such an indignity, and yielding to a spirit of revenge, murdered the fair one who had charmed away her betrothed. For this crime she was hanged at Peterboro. John Jacobs was the principal witness against her, and active in securing her conviction. Fearing the wrath of the revengeful father, Jacobs left the County and did not return till he had received assurance from Antone that he would not molest him. Relying upon this promise, Jacobs returned and engaged in his usual avocation. While engaged in hoeing in the field, with several others, Antone approached, greeted his associates cordially, and as he seized the hand of Jacobs, stabbed him to the heart, with a knife previously concealed, and escaped. Some time elapsed before he was arrested, as the officers of the law did not like to face the desperado when armed. On one occasion he kept at bay a party of four or five, by threatening to shoot them with a rifle which he held in his hand, and which he afterwards boasted was not loaded. After his condemnation and sentence, he begged that he might be shot, as hanging was too ignominious a death for him. Rumor states that he was guilty of another crime, which ought to shock even the nature of a savage. He returned home one day from an Indian council, somewhat intoxicated, and being annoyed by the crying of an infant child, deliberately buried it in the live coals upon his own hearth, and thus freed himself from that annoyance. He was executed at Morrisville, in September 1823.

FENNER, named from Gov. Fenner, of Rhode Island, was formed from Cazenovia and Smithfield, April 22, 1823. It is an interior town, lying north-west of the center of the County. Its surface is a rolling upland. Oneida, Canaseraga and Chittenango Creeks have their sources in this town. The latter forms a part of its western boundary. Extensive marl beds are found, and on the bank of Chittenango Creek, calcareous tufa is quarried and burned into lime. The soil is a gravelly and clayey loam.

Perryville (p. v.) lies partly in Sullivan and Lenox. It contains two churches, a flouring mill, two saw-mills, and about 200 inhabitants. The Cazenovia and Canastota Railroad is to pass through this place.

Fenner (p. o.) is a hamlet, and contains one church.

Chittenango Falls (p. o.) is a hamlet, partly in this town.

The first settlement was made about the year 1793. Among the early settlers were Alpheus Twist and James Munger, from Connecticut, who located about a mile south of the center; Jonathan Munger and Mr. Page, in the north part; and Elisha Freeman, Ithuriel Flower, Ames Webster and Amanda Munger, in the south part. Phineas and Abel Town, John Needham, Thomas Cushing and J. D. Turner, were also early settlers.

The first church was organized August 23, 1801. The first birth was that of a child of Alpheus Twist, and the first death that of the wife of Alpheus Twist. Nathan Baker was the first preacher.

The population in 1865 was 1,387, and the area 17,776 acres. There are fourteen school districts, employing 14 teachers. The whole number of pupils is 415, and the average daily attendance 166. The whole amount expended for schools in 1867 was $2,477.64.

Among the early settlers of Fenner were Abner and Jesse Bumpus. The following adventure with a black bear, in 1802, is related by their descendants: A great part of the country was covered with forests, and wild beasts roamed at large, making depredations upon the flocks and herds of the farmers. Abner and Jesse Bumpus, on one occasion, followed a bear about three miles. Coming suddenly upon the bear, on the bank of a brook, Abner snapped his gun, which missed fire. Bruin then became the assailant, turning upon his antagonist, knocked him over into the brook, tearing his scalp in a most shocking manner, and otherwise severely wounding him. When about to be torn in pieces by the enraged beast, Jesse came to the rescue of his brother, seized the bear by the ears, and while engaged in the struggle had his own leg broken in two places. Fortunately, after disabling both, the bear walked off deliberately, leaving his antagonists to obtain aid wherever they could. Their shouts for assistance were at length heard, and they were rescued from their perilous situation. Abner, with his broken leg, was carried home on a stretcher, and Jesse, by the assistance of another, was able to ride upon a horse.

GEORGETOWN was formed from De Ruyter, April 7, 1815. It lies upon the south border of the County, west of the center. The surface is a hilly upland, broken by the valley of Otselic Creek into two ridges, whose summits are 500 to 600 feet above the valleys. The principal streams are the Otselic Creek and its branches. The soil upon the hills is a yellow loam, and in the valleys a gravelly alluvium.

Georgetown (p. v.) contains three churches, and about 300 inhabitants. There are two tanneries, a grist-mill, several saw-mills, and a cheese box factory, also in the town.

The first settlement was made in 1804, by Ezra Sexton, on lot No. 58. Matthew Hollenbeck, Jacob Bishop, John C. Paine and Baily Carter, settled in the town in 1804; and Mitchell Atwood, William Paine, Bethel Hurd, Joseph P. Harrison and Josiah Purdy, in 1805. Ebenezer Hull, Apollos Drake, Elijah and Alfred Brown, Jesse Jerrold, Zaddock Hawks, John Gibson, David Parker, Philetus Stewart, Calvin Cross, Dr. Smith, Benjamin Bonney and Capt. White, were also early settlers.

The first birth was that of Weston Paine, in 1805, and the first death that of Mrs. Ezra Sexton, in 1807. Mitchell Atwood built the first saw-mill, in 1806, and Bishop & Hunt the first grist-mill, in 1807. Mr. Atwood still survives, and lives upon the same farm upon which he first settled. J. C. Paine was an early inn-keeper. The first religious services were conducted by Ezra Sexton, at the house of Bethel Hurd, in 1805.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 1,479, and an area of 22,893 acres. There are twelve school districts, employing 12 teachers. The whole number of pupils is 463, and the average daily attendance 153. The whole amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $1,234.96.

About the year 1810, a gentleman of wealth and refinement, who seemed to seek a retired home among the Georgetown hills, created no little interest in this town. He called his name Lewis Anathe Muller, and was considered an exile from France. With that force which wealth can command, he cleared three hundred acres of his land, lying about three miles west of the village of Georgetown. He built a house unlike anything ever seen in this region before or since. It was 70 feet by 30, constructed of massive sills, resting on a foundation of solid masonry. The superstructure was of cherry timber, eight inches thick and eleven feet high, framed into the sills, side by side, around the entire building. These were all planed and tied together by slats, dovetailed into each. All the brick, lime, iron work, nails and ornaments, were from necessity brought over the hills on the backs of horses. The fire places were trimmed with black marble, and the most costly furniture completed the interior arrangements. A brook passing through his grounds supplied an artificial pond, stored with fish. Around this pond a great variety of fruit trees was planted. He erected two storehouses, a grist-mill and several dwellings in the vicinity. He was fond of hunting, but would attack no game while it was at rest, though it stood little chance of life under such circumstances when his rifle was in his hands. In 1814, when Bonaparte abdicated, Muller returned to France, leaving his wife and family in New York. After an absence of two or three years, he returned to dispose of his property here. On his arrival in Georgetown, his house was stripped of furniture, his stock and all movable property had disappeared, his mill was deserted, and desolation and ruin marked everything around. The agent in whose care he had left his property, had disappeared. In mute dismay he viewed the wreck of his former home. He returned to New York, disposed of his land, and then returned to France, not having been heard of since. It is supposed that he brought $150,000 to Georgetown, and that he left with scarcely the hundredth part of that sum.

HAMILTON was formed from Paris, March 5, 1795, and was named from Alexander Hamilton. Eaton, Lebanon and Madison were taken off in 1807. It lies upon the south border of the County, between Lebanon and Brookfield. Its surface is a rolling upland, broken by the valleys of the Chenango River, and its east branch. The soil is a gravelly loam in the valleys, and a clayey loam upon the hills.

Hamilton, (p. v.) formerly called Paynesville, from the early settlers, and incorporated April 12, 1812, is situated on the Chenango Canal. It contains four churches, the Hamilton Female Seminary, two newspaper offices, a bank and about 1,800 inhabitants. It also contains a manufactory of paper cheese boxes. In the center of the village is a beautiful park, neatly fenced, and laid out with gravel walks.

The Madison University, located at this place, was incorporated March 26, 1846. It consists of a grammar school, a collegiate and a theological department. The "Hamilton Theological Seminary" was established in 1820, under the auspices of the Baptist Education Society of the State of New York. In 1834 a collegiate course was instituted, and the Seminary assumed the name of the "Hamilton Literary and Theological Seminary," and in 1846, the institution was incorporated as the "Madison University." The theological department is still under the control of the Baptist Educational Society. The college buildings, all of stone, and substantially built, occupy spacious grounds, on an eminence a short distance from the business part of the village. The land, buildings, &c., of the University, are valued at $80,000, and its invested funds to $180,000. The annual expenses of the Institution are $16,000.

The whole number of graduates in the Theological Department, is - - - - - 429

In the Collegiate Department, - - - - - 595

Number of students in the partial course, - - - - - 1,100

Number of volumes in the Library, - - - - - 9,000

The Hamilton Female Seminary is a boarding and day school, situated on Broad street, near the Park. The grounds, amply shaded in front, surrounded and secluded in the rear by a high hedge of evergreens, and otherwise adorned by garden walks, arbors, artificial pond and fountain, could not well be surpassed in beauty or adaptation to educational purposes. The public schools are united, forming a Union School, and occupying a commodious building.

Earlville, (p. v.) named from Jonas Earl, Canal Commissioner, contains two churches and about 450 inhabitants, half of whom are in this town.

Poolville (p. v.) contains two churches and about 40 houses, and Hubbardsville (p. o.) about 20 houses.

East Hamilton (p. o.) is a hamlet, and South Hamilton a post office.

The first settlers were John Wells and Abner Nash, from Massachusetts, and Patrick Shields and John Muir, from Scotland, but late from Oneida County. They located upon Chenango River, near Earlville, in 1792. Among the other early settlers were Samuel and Elisha Payne, who located upon the present site of Hamilton village, in 1794. Theophilus and Benjamin Pierce, Jonathan Olmsted, Daniel Smith and Nathan Foster, settled in the town in 1795, and Thomas Greenley, in 1796. Mr. Dominick Lynch was the proprietor of the soil, and it is said that he was so much pleased by the sale of the first five hundred acres, at twenty shillings an acre, that he paid five dollars extra to have the deed engrossed on parchment, which is still held in the family. The first church (Bap.) was formed in 1796.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 3,434, and an area of 23,904 acres. There are 18 school districts in the town, employing 18 teachers. There are 994 pupils, and the average daily attendance in 1867 was 329. The amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $2,114.31.

LEBANON was formed from Hamilton, February 6, 1807. It is the center town upon the south border of the County. Its surface is a hilly upland, lying between the Chenango and Otselic Rivers. The summits in the west part are 500 to 800 feet above the valley. The valley of Chenango River, extending through the east part, is about one mile wide, and is bordered by steep hillsides. The other streams are small brooks. The soil upon the hills is a gravelly loam, underlaid by hardpan, and in the valleys it is alluvium.

Lebanon (p. v.) contains one church, a saw-mill, a grist-mill, a tannery, and 25 houses.

Smith's Valley and Middleport are hamlets.

Luther C. Niles, born in the town of Madison in 1793, but now living in this town, is said to be the oldest man now living in Madison County, who was born in it.

The first settlement was made in 1792, by Enoch Stowell and Jonathan Bates, from Vermont. Among the early settlers were John, Charles, James and Isaac Campbell, Thomas Hueston, Lent Bradley, Solomon Jones, Abram Webster, Daniel Stowell, David Hartson, Joshua Smith, Deacon Finney, David Shapley, Malchiah Hatch, Dr. Merriek, Elihu Bosworth, Benjamin Hewes and Capt. Moore.

Elisha Wheeler built the first saw-mill, and Daniel Wheeler the first grist-mill. Israel Thayer kept the first store, and Widow Nancy Campbell, a lady about 70 years of age, taught the first school. There are three churches in the town.

The census of 1865 gives a population of 1,557, and an area of 26,279 acres. There are sixteen school districts in the town, employing thirteen teachers. The whole number of pupils is 487, and the average attendance 187. The amount expended for school purposes in 1867, was $1,385.12.

LENOX was formed from Sullivan, March 3, 1809, and a part of Stockbridge was taken off in 1836. It lies in the north-east corner of the County. Its surface is level in the north, and moderately hilly in the south. Canastota and Cowaselon Creeks flow through the town. Oneida Creek forms its east boundary, and Oneida Lake a part of its north boundary. The Cowaselon swamp occupies a portion of the north part. In the north the soil is alluvium; in the south a gravelly and clayey loam. Beds of gypsum and of red fossiliferous iron ore are found in the town. Near Cowaselon Creek is a sulphur spring, whose waters possess excellent medicinal properties. A short distance from Canastota, a salt well has been sunk several hundred feet, from which an abundance of excellent brine may be obtained. A company has been formed and vats are being constructed for the manufacture of salt.

Oneida, (p. v.) situated on Oneida Creek, was incorporated June 20, 1848. It is a flourishing village, and one of the principal stations on the N. Y. C. R. R., between Syracuse and Rome. It contains five churches, the Oneida Seminary, two newspaper offices, two banks and about 3,000 inhabitants. A fine large school house has recently been erected, in which is taught a graded school. The New York, Oswego and Midland Railroad is located through this village. The village is about to be lighted with gas.

Canastota, (p. v.) incorporated April 28, 1835, is situated on the canal, and is a station on the N. Y. C. R. R. It contains three churches, a newspaper office, a bank, a brick yard, two large carriage shops, a steam saw-mill and planing mill, two tanneries and several smaller manufacturing establishments. The manufactory of astronomical and optical instruments, established by Charles A. Spencer, deserves a more extended notice than our space will allow. Some of the most important improvements of these instruments have been made by Mr. Spencer, by which the knowledge of the Naturalist has been greatly increased, the hidden mysteries of nature brought to light, and science in many forms greatly enriched. The great equatorial telescope of Hamilton College was made here. The savans of the old world have been compelled to acknowledge the superiority of his instruments. The Canastota and Cazenovia Railroad terminates here. The population is about 2,000.

Wampsville (p. v.) is a station on the N. Y. C. R. R., and contains a church and 25 or 30 houses.

Pine Bush, Merrelsville and Lenox Furnace are hamlets. At Lenox Furnace is a custom woolen factory, where the various kinds of cassimeres, flannels, &c., are manufactured. The proprietor, Mr. George B. Cady, receives wool and returns the kind of goods desired. Customers can have goods made from their own wool if they wish.

Clockville, (p. v.) named from Conrad Klok, contains two churches, two grist-mills and a manufactory of horse-power hay forks, and other farming implements. Population about 300.

Quality Hill (Lenox p. o.) is a thickly settled country street, with one church.

Oneida Lake (p. o.) and South Bay are hamlets.

Oneida Valley (p. v.) contains one church and about 30 houses.

Durhamville (p. v.) contains about 1,000 inhabitants, most of whom, with the post office, are in Oneida County.

The "Oneida Community" is an association, located on Oneida Creek, four miles south of Oneida. It is organized on a peculiar social and religious basis, and was established in 1847, by John H. Noyes, from whom most of their social and religious tenets were received. They form a general community, holding a common interest in all things. They call their peculiar social system "complex marriage." They number about two hundred; are located on a farm of over 500 acres, and engaged in horticulture and manufacturing. Their farm and dwellings are in Lenox, but some of their shops are in Oneida County. Their principal manufactures are steel-traps, sewing machine twist, and preserved fruits. They make eight sizes and descriptions of traps, suitable for catching everything, from a house rat to a grizzly bear. Their sales of traps last year amounted to over $100,000. Their sales of machine twist and sewing silk amount to about $75,000 per year, and of preserved fruits of various kinds to about $25,000. They have a saw-mill, a foundry, a carpenter shop and packing box manufactory, and a machine shop, where they make their own silk machinery. In some departments they employ hired help, superintended by their own people. "The Circular," published weekly, is "free to all," but "those who choose to pay, may send one dollar a year."

The first settlement was made by Conrad Klok and his sons Joseph, John and Conrad. The Forbeses, Buyas and Snyders, were early settlers. The great thoroughfare between Utica and Canandaigua lay through this town, a short distance south of the canal and Central Railroad. In 1804, an act was passed granting Jason Parker and Levi Stephens the exclusive right for seven years, to run stages twice a week between Utica and Canandaigua, to furnish four good substantial covered wagons or sleighs, and a sufficient number of horses to run them. The fare was not to exceed five cents a mile, with fourteen pounds of baggage; and the distance, accidents excepted, must be made in 48 hours. In 1808 a daily line was established, and continued till the construction of the Utica and Syracuse Railroad. The first annual town meeting of Lenox was held in 1810, at which there was some legislation, of which the following is a specimen: A bounty of $25 to any inhabitant of the town who should kill a wolf in the town.

"Voted, that the town give the Indians $5 each, for every wolf they shall kill, on making satisfactory proof before two or more Justices of the Peace."

"Voted, that hogs be considered free commoners, with a suitable yoke around their neck."

The next year we find the following:

"Voted, that no horses, cattle or hogs, shall have a free run from the 15th of December to the 15th of March, and further, if found within twenty rods of any tavern, store or mill, they are liable to be pounded, and the owner or owners to pay one shilling per head for every such offense."

The records of 1826 show the following:

"Whereas, the inhabitants of the northern part of Madison County have very liberally given their lands for the construction of the canal, and

"Whereas, they possess naturally the advantage of several streams of water, which are taken into the canal, and the mill owners and inhabitants of this part of the County have never had the offer of purchasing the surplus water in this part of the County, and as these waters are continually drained off from this County for the benefit of other parts of the country, therefore,

"Resolved, as the sense of this meeting, that the privilege of the use of these waters naturally belongs to the inhabitants of this County, and they are fully determined not to relinquish their natural right and claim to the same."

In 1830, "Voted, that the compensation of fence viewers be fifty cents a day."

"Voted, that cattle over three years old be not free commoners."

The population of the town in 1865 was 8,456, and its area 40,568 acres. The number of school districts in the town is 27, employing 31 teachers. The whole number of pupils is 1,849, and the average daily attendance 828. The amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $15,848.05.

"The Farmers' and Mechanics' Association" is in a flourishing condition. Their Fair Grounds embrace fourteen acres of land near Canastota, fitted up in good style, with a half mile track.

The following incident in the early history of Lenox, has caused a good deal of amusement, and been related "with variations" from the time of its occurrence: During the war of 1812, the patriotic citizens of Lenox raised a company of horse artillery, that volunteered for the war. The officers, Capt. Jennings; 1st Lieut. Joseph Bruce; 2d Lieut. Argalus Cady; Cornet, David Beecher; Orderly Sergeant, J. Austin Spencer; had met at the store of Lieutenant Bruce, to prepare a requisition letter to Governor Daniel D. Tompkins for two field pieces. While discussing the proper form in which to address so distinguished a man as the Governor, the village lawyer, a waggish fellow, by the name of Hopkins, came into the store, and walking up to the desk, seized a pen, saying, "I will write a requisition," and forthwith produced the following:

"Great Daniel D.,
We send to thee
For two great guns and trimmings,
Send them to hand,
Or you'll be d—d,
By order of Captain Jennings."

This, of course, created a good deal of amusement, and though not sent to the Governor, it was too good to be kept, and in some way, unbeknown to the officers of the company, he heard of the incident, as the sequel will show. Some of the officers mentioned were rewarded for gallant services in the war, by promotion, and they, with others, sent to Albany by Mr. Hopkins, for their commissions. On calling for them, Mr. Hopkins learned that they were all made out, and lacked only the signature of the Governor. To facilitate the business, he offered to take them to the Governor, who placed his autograph to the documents one after another, till coming to one belonging to an officer of Capt. Jennings' Company, he stopped, and very gravely asked, "Is this by order of Capt. Jennings?"

Another incident, of an earlier date, when this town shared with Hamilton the honors of the County Seat, and the courts were held in the school house, on Quality Hill, was the trial of Mr. Hitchcock, of Madison, for the murder of his wife. As there was no jail in this County, the prisoner was confined at Whitestown, and so great was the interest excited at this trial, that the Court was held in the barn of Sylvanus Smalley, that being more commodious than the school house. The prisoner was afterwards executed at Cazenovia.

MADISON was formed from Hamilton, February, 6, 1807. It lies on the east border of the County, south of the center. Its surface is a rolling upland. The principal stream is Oriskany Creek, flowing through the northern part. The Madison Reservoir and several smaller ponds, are in this town. The soil, in the valleys, is a gravelly loam, and a clayey loam upon the hills.

Madison, (p. v.) incorporated April 17, 1816, contains four churches, and a population of about 300.

Bouckville, (p. v.) named from Governor Bouck, contains a church, a steam saw mill, a manufactory of vinegar and champagne cider, and about 300 inhabitants.

Solsville (p. v.) contains about twenty houses.

The town was opened to settlers by Robert Troup, as agent for Sir William Pulteney, in 1793. Samuel Clemens and Thomas Melten of Mass., were among the first purchasers. Francis Clemens, Stephen F. Blackstone, John Niles, Seth Snow and his son Seth, William and David Blair, James Collister, Daniel Perkins, Henry W. and Israel Bond, Elijah Blodgett, Amos and Jesse Maynard, and Joel Crawford, settled in the town in 1793. In 1795, General Erastus Cleveland, from Norwich, Conn., settled in the town. In 1798, Mr. Seth Blair settled on lot No. 66. The first births in the town were those of Marcena Collister and Stephen Blackstone, both in 1794.

General Cleveland built the first grist mill and kept the first store. Henry W. Bond built the first saw mill, in 1793. Samuel Clemens was an early inn keeper. A company from Rhode Island purchased and settled the south-west part of the town. The first church (Congregational,) was organized in 1795, and the Rev. Ezra Woodworth was the first pastor.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 2,414, and an area of 23,715 acres. It contains sixteen school districts, employing thirteen teachers. The whole number of pupils is 744 and the average daily attendance is 267. The amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $1,489.71.

NELSON was formed from Cazenovia, March 13, 1807. It is an interior town, lying south-west of the center of the County. Its surface is a rolling upland. The principal stream is Chittenango Creek. The Erieville and Eaton Reservoirs are in this town; the former constructed in 1857, has an area of 340 acres, and cost about $11,000. The soil is generally a gravelly loam.

Erieville (p. v.) contains three churches and about 200 inhabitants.

Nelson Flats, (Nelson p. o.) in the northern part, contains two churches, and about 150 inhabitants.

In the north-eastern part of the town are a large number of Welsh, who have a church and services conducted in their own language.

The first settlement was made in 1794, by Asa and Jedediah Jackson. Joseph Yaw, Ebenezer Lyon, Samuel and Charles Swift, Jonathan Buell and Samuel Kinney, also settled in the town the same year. Oliver Stone and James Hinman settled in 1795; and Joshua Wells, David Wellington, Israel Patterson, Richard Korley, Daniel Adams, Horatio Simms, Abner Camp and Lemuel and Eladad Richardson, in 1796.

The first birth was that of Palmer Wells in 1796, and the first death that of Mrs. Bishop in 1800. Jedediah Jackson kept the first inn, in 1794. Jeremiah Clark built the first saw mill, and Oliver Pool the first grist mill, about 1800. Daniel Russell was the first store keeper, and Dea. Dunham was one of the earliest school teachers.

The population in 1865 was 1,717; its area 26,741 acres. There are fourteen school districts in the town, employing fourteen teachers. The whole number of pupils is 462, and the average attendance 184. The amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $1,366.26.

SMITHFIELD was formed from Cazenovia, March 13, 1807. Fenner was taken off in 1823, and a part of Stockbridge in 1836. It is an interior town, lying north of the center of the County. Its surface is a hilly and rolling upland. The principal streams are the Cowaselon and Oneida Creeks. The soil is a sandy and gravelly loam. Limestone and Gypsum are found in the north-eastern part. Near Siloam is a sulphur spring.

Peterboro, (p. v.) named from Hon. Peter Smith, is situated on Oneida Creek, near the center of the town. It contains four churches, (only two of which are regularly occupied,) an Academy, a hotel, a flouring mill, a saw mill, a carriage shop, a planing mill, a cheese box factory and several other mechanic shops. The cheese box factory turns out about 20,000 boxes annually. About 220,000 pounds of cheese are made annually at the Peterboro cheese factory and its two branches. The population of the village is about 350.

Siloam, (p. v.) in the eastern part of the town, contains a church, a grist mill, a saw mill, a cheese factory, and about fifteen houses, and the usual number of mechanic shops.

As early as 1794, Peter Smith, as he then signed his name, (later in life "P. Smith," and after leaving Peterboro, in 1819, "Peter Smith of Peterboro,") then a resident of Fort Schuyler, (now Utica,) obtained from the Oneida tribe of Indians, a lease, giving him the possessory right to the large tract of land, some four and a half miles in width, and extending from the east line of Augusta, westwardly, to the east line of the County of Onondaga, since known as "New Petersburg," and containing about 50,000 acres. He soon caused a survey to be made, and divided the whole tract into four allotments. The first allotment was nearly all in Augusta, Oneida County. The town of Smithfield, as originally bounded, included within its limits a few lots at the west end of the first allotment, and the whole of the second and third allotments, excepting the west tier of lots in the third; which west tier of lots, and the whole of the fourth allotment, were in Cazenovia. The Mile Strip Tract, lying north of New Petersburg, was purchased of the State by Enoch Leonard, of Albany, in August 1797. It was one mile in width, and extended from the Cowaselon Creek on the east, westwardly, to or beyond the Chittenango Creek. All that part of this tract lying east of the lots 28 and 29 was also included in old Smithfield. The north line of the Mile Strip was made the north line of Smithfield, as it was also the south line of Sullivan, Lenox, then constituting a part of the older town of Sullivan. The south line of New Petersburg became the south line of Smithfield. While the survey of the New Petersburg tract was in progress, a desperate onset was made upon the surveying party by a party of hostile Indians. Joseph Annin, surveyor, lost his compass and chain, and was seriously wounded in the head by a tomahawk. The assailants were from the Pagan party of the Oneidas, who from the first were opposed to leasing the tract, and now sought to defeat by force, what they had failed to prevent by argument. The Christian party, faithful to their engagements, sought to prevent this hostile demonstration, and mustering a considerable force, posted themselves at the foot of a long hill, near the site of the old house, known as the house with five chimneys, hoping to intercept the hostile band and prevent the consummation of their sinister design. But the Pagans, by a flank movement, eluding the vigilance of the Christians, reached the objective point by some unfrequented route, and for the time being, interrupted the survey. This affray occurred upon the farm now owned by Elias Sager, in Peterboro. Soon after, the State, by treaty, acquired from the Oneidas their interest in the tract, and in October 1797, Judge Smith obtained from the State a deed for the fee of all the land in New Petersburg which had not been previously leased by him to others, amounting to 22,299½ acres, for which he covenanted to pay to the State $3.53½ per acre, this being the average price for which the residue of the Oneida Reservation was sold at the Surveyor General's sale in August of that year. By this arrangement he acquired a title, and such allowances were made by the State for his lease, as reduced the price of the land conveyed to him to about $2 per acre. Sales were made to settlers at from $5 to $6 per acre, prices gradually tending upwards as the settlement of the town progressed, until they reached to three or four times such cost, before the farm lands were all taken up.

The first grist mill in the village of Siloam, stood upon the site of the one now in operation, and was built in 1810, by Jeremiah Ellenwood and Elijah Manley, and the first saw mill, half a mile below, was built by Ellinwood and David Coe, a year or two later, or, possibly, the same year. John Gregg is supposed to have been the first settler in Siloam. Besides Gregg, very few, if any, white families were there previous to the year 1806. In the year 1803, or a year before, the "Oneida Turnpike," running from Vernon to Cazenovia, was constructed, and running through the town, rendered it more accessible to persons seeking for homes, and, during the next ten years, nearly all the farming lands in the town were taken up and settled upon.

The pioneer settlers, Jasper Alesworth, Joel Trumbull, Oliver Trumbull, son of Joel, and Seth Griffin, the father-in-law of Oliver, all came in 1795. The Trumbulls and Griffin had families, and all of them located on lot No. 33, 2nd allotment, New Petersburg, being the first lot south of No. 26, on which is Peterboro. Alesworth was unmarried, and came as the hired man of Judge Smith, and in that capacity felled the forest trees on the village plat, then an untouched wilderness, which had never before been made to echo with the sound of the axeman's blows, and the hourly crashing of falling trees. How long he continued in Judge Smith's employ is not known, but at an early day in the history of the town, he married a daughter of John Taft, Esq., another early settler, who lived on lot 31, and whose death was one of the earliest in the history of the town. Mr. Alesworth became a permanent resident of the town, and was an enterprising and successful farmer. Two only of the large family he reared remain in town.

Ithamar Bump settled on lot 41, N. P., in 1797, where he continued to reside till removed by death, August 14, 1815. Soon after his first settlement in town, he was joined by his father, Ichabod Bump, and, in the course of a few years, Moses, Nathan, David, Jonathan, Gideon and Jacob, brothers of Ithamar, and a sister named Hannah, the wife of Ebenezer Bronson, all became residents of the town. In their physical characteristics this was a peerless family. The brothers were all large, well developed men, averaging six feet in height, with great muscular power, and as wrestlers and for their personal prowess, (qualities highly prized in those days,) were a terror to the athletes of the County. Some of them were enterprising and successful farmers, among whom, Ithamar especially, was an industrious, upright and esteemed citizen. His descendants to the third generation still live in town, and include some prominent business men. The old patriarch, Ichabod, died December 22, 1823, in his 90th year.

Captain Joseph Black came in, about the year 1798. Where he first located is not certainly known, but in the fall of 1802 he was on Lot 59, N. P., 2nd allotment, and, in 1803 or 1804, he became a prominent contractor for the construction of a large section of the old "Oneida Turnpike," which was made under his immediate supervision. He was proverbially upright and reliable, inso-much that to this day the question is sometimes asked by those who knew him and still remember him, whether this generation furnishes any specimens of such unswerving integrity. His memory is precious, and though dead he yet speaketh. Between the years 1798 and 1805, many valuable men came in and settled as farmers in different parts of the town, but chiefly on the two southern tiers of lots in the town, and on the Mile Strip tract. On the Mile Strip tract, and contiguous thereto, were Jacob and Samuel Walker, Allen Bill, David Shipman, Solomon Merrill, Sr., and sons, Robert Streeter, Gideon Wright, Jabez Lyon, Shadrach Hardy, David Tuttle, Ezra Chaffee, Mrs. Moody and her sons David and Samuel, Mrs. Matteson and her sons John, Abraham, Eli and Nathan, Barzillia and Amos Northrup, Sylvanus Mathewson and sons Winchester and Stephen, Stephen Risley, Moses Howe, Salmon Howard and Francis Dodge. On the two southern tiers of lots were Edward Bliss, Wright Brigham, John Lucus, Rodman Spencer and sons, David Blodget, Alpheus Thompson, John Ford, Reuben Rich, Andress Loveland, &c., &c. Most of these, with many more not named in the list, settled permanently, became prosperous farmers, and valuable men and citizens; and were equally worthy of more than this passing notice, as were those referred to above at greater length. But necessity, much to his regret, compels the writer of this sketch to omit from the narrative much which he would gladly include.

James Livingston, a brother-in-law of Judge Smith, was the first merchant in Peterboro, in 1801. The house in which he kept his store, stood at the east end of the public green, and was the first framed house in the village, built in 1800.

Elijah Pratt was the first physician, in 1801 or 1802, as he was also the first male school teacher; Tabitha Havens being the first school teacher in town, having a school of five or six scholars, at Peterboro, in 1801. Rev. Joshua Johnson (Presbyterian) was the first resident preacher, in 1806. Nehemiah Huntington was the first lawyer, in 1807. Captain Daniel Petrie was the first post-master, in 1807; John Downer and Peter Weber, the first black-smiths, in 1802; Reuben Long built the first grist mill and first saw mill, in 1802; John Dourance was the second physician, in 1806, and Rivera Nash the third, in 1807.

The earliest marriages referred to by old settlers, were those of John Matteson to Hadassah Bliss, and Elijah Trumbull to Abigail Carey, both of which are believed to have occurred in 1803. Eummon Downer, Esq., now a resident, was born in Peterboro in September 1805. No reliable account of an earlier birth has been given, and he is believed to be the oldest native resident still living in town.

Twelve years after the settlement of its territory commenced, the town of Smithfield was organized by an act of the Legislature, passed March 13, 1807. Its boundaries have been described. Its first town meeting was held in the western part of the town, at the school house, near David Cook's. The meeting was an exciting one. Strong sectional feeling and a spirit of rivalry existed between the eastern and western portions of the town. Two tickets were nominated. The candidate of the east-enders for the supervisorship was Peter Smith, and the candidate of the west-enders for the same office, was David Cook. The meeting occurred during or immediately after the great snow storm of April 1807, and the snow was full four feet deep, rendering the roads nearly impassable. Many voters living at the east end of the town were from six to eight miles from the place of meeting, yet such was the interest felt for the success of their ticket, that they turned out almost to a man, and overcoming all obstacles, reached the place of meeting in numbers sufficient to achieve a victory, and Peter Smith was elected the first supervisor of the town. Tradition informs us that they carried with them a large keg of rum. How far this stimulated the east-enders to successful effort, or whether through its potent influence, any of the voters in the western section were won over to the support of the successful candidate, no historian informs us. In June of this year, Peter Smith was appointed first Judge of the County Court, and the office of supervisor became vacant, and at a special town meeting, held July 18th, Roswell Glass was elected to fill the vacancy.

Many men of mark have in early life enjoyed the protection and nurturing care of Smithfield. Besides the living, who are still her own, and whose praises she would not prematurely pronounce, many have gone out from her to other theaters of action, who have been an honor to the town, and to whose record she may with pride refer. Of the scores whose names are worthy of honorable mention, we have neither time or space for reference to more than three or four, by name. As distinguished Jurists, the names of Green C. Bronson and Henry A. Foster are mentioned, and the names of William Evans and James S. T. Stranahan are added, as specimens of her sons, who have achieved success as business men. In early life they were all residents of Peterboro, all self-made men, to whom our rising youth may be referred as models for their imitation.

A few years since, William Evans, of Boston, moved by his strong and enduring attachment for his native town, and a deep solicitude for its poor, donated the sum of $15,000, the annual income of which is to be used for the benefit of the poor of the town. By a mutual written agreement between Mr. Evans and the Trustees of the Academy, (which has very appropriately been named the "Evans Academy,") this fund is placed in the hands of the said Trustees, the annual income of which is at their disposal, except that the said Trustees are required and bound by the donor, to set apart each year, and hand over to a committee of three ladies of the town, (to be chosen by the town, or by the said Trustees,) from the income of said fund, the sum of $300, to be used by them at their own discretion for the benefit of the poor of the town, as they shall deem best to promote the objects of the donor; the said ladies not being at all accountable to donor or Trustees for their conduct in the premises, and further, the said Trustees are prohibited from exacting any pay from the students from the poor families of the town, for their tuition at the Academy.

"The Evans Academy," thus sustained, chiefly, by the income of the Evans fund, to which is added its current receipts, is managed, and its affairs directed, by a board of 12 trustees. The officers of this Board for the year 1868 are Col. Charles D. Miller, President; Hon. Caleb Calkins, Treasurer, and Rev. William F. Bridge, Secretary. Its teachers are Rev. William F. Bridge, A. M., Principal, and Miss Susan Marvin, Assistant. It has a small philosophical apparatus, and a library of about 300 volumes. Its whole number of students for the past year, including all who have attended in the several terms, is about 100. Provision is made for a thorough course of study in all branches usually taught in Academic schools.

"The Baptist Church of Christ in Peterboro," was organized January 31st, 1810, with twenty-nine members, and for a long period was prosperous, and its membership became numerous; but for many years past, it has been diminishing in numbers, until its membership has become small, its stated meetings have been discontinued, and its house, though in good repair, is unoccupied.

"The Presbyterian Church of Smithfield," was organized January 29th, 1811, with but nineteen members. It was prosperous, and in a few years became a strong and influential church, numbering when at its zenith, 219 members; and for nine consecutive years averaging over 200; but reverses came in various forms, and the days of its prosperity were numbered; it has rapidly declined for many years, and a few months since, this church was formally disbanded. The society still exists and its Trustees continue to exercise control over the temporalities of the corporation. The edifice is still strong, though dilapidated.

The Free Church of Peterboro and the Methodist Episcopal Church are new organizations when compared with the Baptist and Presbyterian. Rev. Mr. Bridge, Unitarian, supplies the pulpit of the Free church, and Rev. Mr. Owen that of the Methodist.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 1,366, and an area of 15,005 acres. There are eleven school districts, employing eleven teachers. The whole number of pupils in all the schools is 333, and the average attendance 151. The amount expended for school purposes for 1867 was $2,238.51.

STOCKBRIDGE, named from the Stockbridge Indians, was formed from Vernon and Augusta, (Oneida Co.,) and Smithfield and Lenox, May 20, 1836. It lies upon the east border of the County, north of the center. Its surface is a rolling upland, broken by the deep valley of Oneida Creek, which extends in a north and south direction through the town, near the center. The summits of the hills are from 500 to 800 feet above the valley. There is a succession of rapids and low falls on Oneida Creek, affording a great many valuable mill sites. A short distance from Munnsville, near the center of the town, are several caves, in limestone, but the noxious gas has prevented any extensive exploration. Depressions resembling the footprints of men, horses and cattle, are found in the rock, forming the stream bed. Oriskany Creek takes its rise in the south part. The soil is a clayey and gravelly loam. Limestone crops out upon the hill sides and is extensively quarried. Hydraulic limestone is also quarried near the falls of Oneida Creek. Near Cook's Corners is a ledge from which Gypsum is obtained. About one mile south-east of Munnsville, upon the hill side, is an ancient burial place. A small bone image of a woman was once found here, also iron and steel axes, gun barrels and fragments of gun locks, brass kettles, tobacco pipes, and other implements of peace and war. The axes were hatchet shaped, and marked under the eye with three stars. In the south-west part of the town are the ruins of an old fortification.

Munnsville, (p. v.) named from Asa Munn, the first store keeper in the town, is situated on Oneida Creek, and contains a church, several manufactories and about 300 inhabitants.

Knoxville, (Stockbridge p. o.) named from Herman Knox, an early resident, contains three churches and 25 or 30 houses.

Cook's Corners (p. v.) contains a church, a plaster mill, and 15 or 20 houses.

The first settlement was made in 1791, in the south-east part of the town. Oliver Steward, Nathan, Colvin, Barney, John and Alfred Edson, William, Elijah and Joseph Devine, Wm. Sloan, Benajah House, Amos Bridge, James Taft, Aaron Jairus, Matthew Rankin, Jonathan Snow, Isaac Chadwick, Talcott Divan, Watrous Graves and Daniel Thurston, were among the early settlers of the town.

The first marriage was that of John Devine and Polly Edson, in 1798; and the first death that of widow Ann Hall, in 1785. The first saw and grist mills were erected by the Stockbridge Indians, on their reservation, about 1794. Edward Foster taught the first school in 1797. A mission church was erected on the Indian Reservation, near Cook's Corners, in 1800.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 1,125, and an area of 18,721. There are sixteen school districts in the town, employing the same number of teachers. The whole number of pupils is 637, and the average attendance 267. The amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $3,721.11.

SULLIVAN, named from Gen. John Sullivan, was formed from Cazenovia, February 22, 1803, and Lenox was taken off in 1809. It is the north-west corner town of the County. Its surface is level in the north, and rolling in the south. The Cowaselon swamp extends across the town from Chittenango Creek to the line of Lenox. South of this swamp is the 'Vlaie,' or natural meadow, covered to the depth of several feet with muck or peat, underlaid by marl. It is destitute of timber and supports a rank growth of ferns and weeds. Vertical stumps, three feet below the surface, and then a smaller growth near the surface, have been found, indicating that two forests have existed there. This land was originally covered with water, but it is now partially drained by a ditch dug by the State. Chittenango Creek flows through the town and forms a part of its west boundry. The Canastota and Cowaselon Creeks unite in the swamp, and flow in an artificial channel to the lake. These streams afford numerous mill privileges. Near Perryville, on the Canaseraga, is a water fall 130 feet in height. Black Creek is a tributary of the Chittenango. Gypsum, found in numerous localities, is extensively quarried. It is said to have been quarried as early as 1800. Waterlime is also obtained. Marl and peat abound in the swampy regions.

The discovery of waterlime forms an interesting incident in the early history of this town. When the construction of the Erie Canal was commenced, contracts were made to do the masonry with common lime, on account of the expense of hydraulic cement. Mason Harris and Mr. Livingstone, of Sullivan, entered into a contract to furnish a quantity for the construction of culverts, aqueducts, &c., on the middle section. They burned a large kiln and commenced delivering it, when, upon trial, it was found that it would not slack. All were greatly surprised, and Canvass White and Judge Wright, two engineers, taking an interest in the affair, examined it. Dr. Barton, a scientific gentleman of Herkimer, was called to experiment, and, if possible, ascertain what it was. He broke a quantity in the trip hammer shop of J. B. Yates, of Chittenango, burned some, pulverized it in a mortar, and after mixing it with sand, rolled a ball and placed it in a bucket of water for the night. In the morning it had set, and was solid enough to be rolled across the floor. It was pronounced equal to the best Roman cement. It was first burned for market in log heaps, about a mile and a half west of Chittenango village. J. B. Yates fitted up a mill for grinding it.

There are several mineral springs in the town, the most noted of which are the "White Sulphur Spring," and the "Yates Spring." The former, called "Chittenango Springs," and long noted for its medicinal qualities, has recently changed proprietors and been refitted and greatly improved, making it a first class watering place for those who are in search of health, or amusement and recreation. The spacious hotel and the family cottages are located in a beautiful grove, through which flows the Chittenango Creek, affording ample facilities for fishing and other amusements. The location is four miles south of Chittenango station, on the New York Central R. R., with which it is connected by a good macadamized road, over which excellent stages of the Cazenovia line connect with all the principal trains. Daily mails and telegraph convenient. B. P. Backus, M. D., is the present proprietor of the springs.

The following is a statement of the analysis of a pint of water from each of these springs:

The soil in the north is a clayey loam, alternating with muck and marl, and in the south it is a gravelly loam.

Chittenango, (p. v.) on Chittenango Creek, was incorporated March 15, 1842. It contains four churches, the Yates Polytechnic Institute, a bank, a grist mill, a machine shop, and several smaller establishments. A building has been erected and the machinery for manufacturing cotton goods is being put in. The Baptist society are about erecting a church at the cost of $15,000. The population of the village is about 1,100.

Perryville (p. v.) is partly in this town.

Canaseraga (Sullivan p. o.) contains a church and about 40 houses.

Bridgeport (p. v.) contains a church, a flouring mill and about 500 inhabitants.

Lakeport, (p. v.) situated on Oneida lake, is largely engaged in the lumber business, and is a summer resort. It contains two hotels, a steam mill and several stores. A new school house has recently been erected.

East Boston is a post office in the eastern part, on the canal.

The first settlement was made in 1790, by squatters from the Mohawk valley. They were James and Joseph Pickard, Jacob, David and Hon. Yost Schuyler, Jacob Seeber, Garrett and George Van Slycke, John Palsley and John Freemyer. They settled on the Indian Reservation, near Canaseraga. The Indians complained to the Governor of their intrusion, and they were ordered to remove. They did not obey the order, and in 1791, Col. Colbraith, the sheriff of Montgomery County, was sent with a company of sixty men to dislodge them. They still refused to leave, and their furniture was removed from their dwellings and their houses burned. They then removed to the neighborhood of Chittenango, and settled on land lately acquired of the Indians. John G. Mayer, John Walrath, Captain Timothy Brown, Solomon, Joseph and David Beebe, Colonel Zebulon Douglas, John Matthews, Philip Daharsh, Nicholas Pickard, Ovid Weldon, Peter Dygart, John Keller, John Sower, Wm. Miles, David Burton, Timothy Freeman and Peter Ehle, settled in the town shortly after.

The first birth was that of Peggy Schuyler, in 1791, and the first death, that of a child of David Freemyer. John G. Mayer built the first saw and grist mill, and Jacob Schuyler kept the first inn.

The census of 1865 gives the town a population of 5,340, and an area of 44,230 acres. The number of school districts is twenty-seven, employing twenty-three teachers. The whole number of pupils is 1,339, and the average attendance is 501. The whole amount expended for school purposes in 1867 was $7,119.

The murder of Robert Barber by Lewis Wilbur, on the line of the Erie Canal, in this town, Aug. 30, 1837, created great excitement in this region. Barber was a widower, from Colrairie, Mass., upwards of fifty years of age, and on his way to Onondaga County to marry a lady residing in that county. On his way to Utica he fell in company with Wilbur, a young man about twenty-one years of age, a native of Saratoga. They became quite friendly and social as they traveled by canal. The particulars of the murder were learned from the confession of Wilbur, a short time previous to his execution. Soon after the idea of murder entered Wilbur's mind, he purchased a common shoe knife, and carried it, wrapped in paper, in his pocket. When near Chittenango, Wilbur proposed to Mr. Barber to take a walk, and on various pretenses, enticed him into the woods a short distance from the canal. Here, on a sudden, Wilbur drew his knife and demanded Barber's money. Barber replied, "I did not think that of you, I thought you were my friend," but immediately took out his pocket-book and threw it on the ground as directed. Wilbur then told him to lie down upon his face and not look up for half an hour. The order was obeyed, and Wilbur then picked up the pocket book and started off, but thinking how easy it would be to detect the robbery, returned, raised the old man's coat, and plunged the knife into his side. That blow was effectual, for when found, he had not changed his position in the least. Wilbur fearing that his work was not accomplished, threw a large stone upon his victim's head, fracturing his skull. He then returned to the boat, and continued on his journey. In the following April he was arrested in Cleveland, Ohio, and brought to Morrisville, where he was tried and executed, Oct. 3d, 1839.

The first settler in the vicinity of Bridgeport, was Captain Rosel Barnes, now living in Illinois. He built the first frame house having previously kept a tavern in a log one. Mr. Rector, father of Captain John Rector, of Bridgeport, was among the first settlers, his son having resided here for sixty years. Barrels were manufactured there at an early day, taken down Chittenango Creek, through Oneida Lake and Three River Point, thence to Salina, where they were exchanged for salt. Utica was the nearest market place, and thither the settlers were compelled to go for their supplies, making the journey without roads, guided only by marked trees. On account of the swampy condition of the land in this vicinity, it was not settled as early as the higher lands further south. One of the early settlers, who soon removed to a more congenial clime, thought they were "robbing the wild beasts of their rights," as he did not "believe the Almighty ever designed it should be inhabited by human beings." Fine fertile farms and convenient dwellings now occupy this region, then so unpromising. Mr. Robert Carter was one of the early settlers in this vicinity. At one time he started on foot for Manlius, carrying in a sack a fine salmon, which he designed as a present to Esquire Kinney. On his way he saw in the path before him two cubs, and thinking to frighten them by vociferously shouting, he rushed forward, when to his surprise he found he had aroused the old bear, and to escape her wrath, he dropped his salmon and climbed the nearest tree, one so small that the bear could not climb, and so smooth that he was compelled to hang on by main strength. The cubs had taken to other trees, and the old bear took her station at the foot of the tree which Mr. Carter had climbed, and there guarded most vigilantly her prisoner. For five long hours he maintained his position, until at length the cubs, leaving their retreat, came down, and they with their mother jogged slowly away, leaving Mr. Carter to resume his journey.

Mrs. Cuppenoll, an aged lady living at Bridgeport, and daughter of Mr. Carter, relates that when she was first married, her husband used to "change work" with a friend at a distance, leaving her alone, sometimes for a week. On one occasion, before he left home she prepared for their supper a dish of "thickened milk." It being late, she deferred washing the kettle, but filling it with water, set it outside her cabin door and retired. This door was only a "rag rug" hung up temporarily. During the night she heard what she supposed to be the fighting and scrambling of dogs over her kettle, and only wondering where they all came from, she gave herself no further trouble and went to sleep. Early in the morning she was awakened by the hallooing of her nearest neighbor, who having heard the howling of a pack of wolves near her dwelling in the night, and knowing the frail character of her door, fully expected to find she had been devoured by the ravenous beasts. Her kettle was licked clean, but no damage was done. Afterwards, until her husband's return, she slept in the loft.

In addition to the pioneers already named, we may mention the following, who came at a later date, and whose descendants are scattered throughout this region: Briggs, White, Eastford, Owen, Crownhart, Dunham, Hosley and others.

At "Owen's Point" are several Indian mounds, supposed to contain the remains of Oneida chiefs. Near them stands a large beech tree, hollow and open at one side, from which it is said the skeleton of an Indian was once taken.

THE STATES,

THEIR SETTLEMENT, ADMITTANCE TO THE UNION, POPULATION, SUFFRAGE LAWS, ETC.

ALABAMA was settled near Mobile, in 1702, by the French; was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, approved March 3, 1817, from the eastern portion of the Territory of Mississippi; framed a Constitution August 2, 1819, and was admitted into the Union December 14 of the same year. Area 50,722 square miles, or 32,462,080 acres.—Population in 1860, 964,201, of whom 435,080 were slaves. It is the chief cotton growing State of the Union. White male citizens who have resided one year in the State and three months in the county, are entitled to vote. An election for a Convention was held December 24, 1860, and a majority of over 50,000 votes cast for secession; the Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 11th passed the ordinance of secession, by a vote of 61 to 39, which was followed on the 21st by the resignation of its members of Congress.

ARKANSAS was settled at Arkansas Post in 1685, by the French, and was part of the Louisiana purchase ceded by France to the United States, April 30, 1803. It was formed into a Territory by act of Congress, March 2, 1819, from the southern part of the Territory of Missouri; its western boundary was settled May 26, 1824, and its southern, May 19, 1828. Having adopted a Constitution, a memorial was presented in Congress, March 1, 1836, and an act for its admission into the Union passed June 15 of the same year. Area 52,198 square miles, or 33,406,720 acres. In 1860 its population was 435,450, of whom 111,115 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, its staples being corn and cotton.—Citizenship and residence in the State for six months, qualify voters in the county and district where they reside. January 16, 1861, its Legislature ordered a State Convention, which assembled, and on May 6, voted to secede, 69 to 1. January 4, 1864, a Convention assembled in Little Rock, which adopted a new Constitution, the principle feature of which consisted in a clause abolishing slavery. The Convention adjourned January 22. This body also inaugurated a Provisional Government. The Constitution was submitted to the people, and 12,177 votes cast for it, to 226 against it. The State was re-organized under the plan contained in the Amnesty Proclamation of President LINCOLN, in pursuance of which an election was held March 14, 1864. The vote required under the Proclamation was 5,405. About 16,000 votes were cast.

CALIFORNIA was settled at Diego in 1768, by Spaniards, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty concluded at Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 22, 1848. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it as a Territory or admit it as a State, a law was passed by Congress for the latter purpose, which was approved September 9, 1850. Area 188,981 square miles, or 120,947,784 acres. Population in 1860, 305,439. It is the most productive gold mining region on the continent, and also abounds in many other minerals.—White male citizens of the United States, and those of Mexico who may choose to comply with the provisions of the treaty of Queretaro, of May 30, 1848, who have resided in the State six months and in the county or district thirty days, are entitled to vote.

CONNECTICUT was settled at Windsor, in 1633, by English Puritans from Massachusetts, and continued under the jurisdiction of that Province until April 23, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until a Constitution was formed, September 15, 1818. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, January 9, 1788. Area 4,874 square miles, or 2,991,360 acres. Population in 1860, 460,147. It is one of the most densely populated and principal manufacturing States in the Union. Residence for six months, or military duty for a year, or payment of State tax, or a freehold of the yearly value of seven dollars, gives the right to vote.

DELAWARE was settled at Wilmington, early in 1638, by Swedes and Finns; was granted to William Penn, in 1682, and continued under the government of Pennsylvania until the adoption of a Constitution, September 20, 1776; a new one was formed June 12, 1792. Area 2,120 square miles, or 1,356,800 acres.—Population, in 1860, 112,216, of whom 1,798 were slaves. It is a grain and fruit growing State, with some extensive manufactories. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote, except that citizens between twenty-one and twenty-two years of age need not have paid the tax.

FLORIDA was settled at St. Augustine, in 1565, by Spaniards; was formed from part of the territory ceded by Spain to the United States by treaty of February 22, 1819; an act to authorize the President to establish a temporary government was passed March 3, 1819; articles of surrender of East Florida were framed July 10, and of West Florida, July 17, 1821, and it was then taken possession of by General Jackson as Governor. An act for the establishment of a Territorial Government was passed March 30, 1822, and by act of March 3, 1823, East and West Florida were constituted one Territory. Acts to establish its boundary line between Georgia and Alabama were passed May 4, 1826, and March 2, 1831. After several ineffectual attempts to organize it into two Territories, or into a State and Territory, an act for its admission into the Union was passed March 3, 1845. Area 59,268 square miles, or 37,980,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 140,425, of whom 61,745 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, tropical in its climate and products. Every free white male citizen, who has resided in the State two years and in the county six months, and has been enrolled in the militia (unless exempt by law), is qualified to vote; but no soldier, seaman or marine can vote unless qualified before enlistment. Its Legislature called a Convention, December 1, 1860, which met January 3, 1861, and passed a secession ordinance on the 10th by a vote of 62 to 7.

GEORGIA was settled at Savannah, in 1733, by the English under General Oglethorpe. It was chartered June 9, 1732; formed a Constitution February 5, 1777; a second in 1785 and a third May 30, 1798.—It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution January 2, 1788. Area 58,000 square miles, or 37,120,000 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,057,286, of whom 462,198 were slaves. It is a large cotton and rice growing State. Citizens of the State, six months resident of the county where voting, who have paid taxes the year preceding the election, are entitled to vote. November 18, 1860, its Legislature ordered an election for a State Convention, which assembled and passed a secession ordinance January 19, 1861, by a vote of 208 to 89, and on the 23d of the same month its members of Congress resigned.

ILLINOIS was settled at Kaskaskia, in 1683, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. An act for dividing the Indiana Territory and organizing the Territory of Illinois, was passed by Congress, February 3, 1809; and an act to enable it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., was passed April 18, 1818; a Constitution was framed August 26, and it was admitted into the Union December 23 of the same year. Area 54,405 square miles, or 64,819,200 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,711,951. It is the chief "prairie" State, and the largest grain growing and second largest cattle raising State in the Union. All white male inhabitants, who have resided in the State one year and election district sixty days, can vote in the district where actually residing.

INDIANA was settled at Vincennes, in 1690, by the French, and formed part of the northwestern territory ceded by Virginia to the United States. It was organized into a Territory May 7, 1800, from which the Territory of Michigan was set off in 1805, and Illinois in 1809. An act was passed to empower it to form a State Constitution, Government, &c., April 19, 1816, and it was admitted into the Union December 11 of the same year. Area 33,809 square miles, or 21,637,760 acres. Population, in 1860, 1,350,428. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to grain growing and cattle raising. A residence of one year in the State entitles males of 21 years of age to vote in the county of their residence.

IOWA was first settled at Burlington by emigrants from the Northern and Eastern States. It was part of the region purchased from France; was set off from the Territory of Wisconsin and organized as a separate Territory June 12, 1838; an act for its admission as a State was passed and approved March 3, 1845, to which the assent of its inhabitants was to be given to be announced by Proclamation of the President, and on December 28, 1846, another act for its admission was passed. Area 50,914 square miles or 32,584,960 acres. Population, in 1860, 674,913. It is an agricultural State, resembling Illinois, and contains important lead mines. KANSAS was formed out of the original Louisiana purchase, and organized into a Territory by act of Congress, May 30, 1854, and after several ineffectual attempts was finally admitted into the Union in January, 1861. Area 78,418 square miles, or 50,187,520 acres. Population, in 1860, 107,200. It is an agricultural State, with a soil of rich and deep black loam, except the central portion, which is partly a desert. The western portion is a fine grazing country, well wooded. Residence in the State six months, and in the township or ward thirty days, confers the right of suffrage on white male citizens. It also abounds in minerals.

KENTUCKY was settled in 1775, by Virginians; formed into a Territory by act of the Virginia Legislature, December 18, 1782, and admitted into the Union June 1, 1792, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 4, 1791. Area 37,680 square miles, or 24,115,200 acres.—Population in 1860, 1,155,084, of whom 225,488 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, raising more flax and hemp than any other. Loyalty, a residence of two years in the State and one in the county are the requirements to vote. "Any citizen of this State who shall enter the service of the so-called Confederate States, in either a civil or military capacity; or into the service of the so-called Provisional Government of Kentucky, in either a civil or military capacity; or having heretofore entered such service of either the Confederate States or Provisional Government, shall continue in such service after this act takes effect, (March 11, 1862,) or shall take up or continue in arms against the military forces of the United States or State of Kentucky, or shall give voluntary aid and assistance to those in arms against said forces, shall be deemed to have expatriated himself, and shall no longer be a citizen, except by permission of the Legislature by a general or special statute."

LOUISIANA was settled at Iberville, in 1699, by the French, and comprised a part of the territory ceded by France to the United States, by treaty of April 30, 1803, which purchase was erected into two Territories by act of Congress March 26, 1804, one called the Territory of Orleans, the other the District of Louisiana, afterwards changed to that of Missouri.—Congress, March 2, 1806, authorized the inhabitants of Orleans Territory to form a State Constitution and Government when their population should amount to 50,000; a Constitution was adopted January 22, 1812, and the State admitted into the Union April 8 of the same year, under the name of Louisiana. Area 41,255 square miles, or 26,403,200 acres. Population in 1860, 708,002, of whom 331,726 were slaves. It is the chief sugar producing State of the Union. Two years' residence in the State and one in the parish are the qualifications of voters. December 10, 1860, the Legislature ordered a State Convention to be held, which assembled and passed an ordinance of secession January 26, 1861, by a vote of 113 to 17. The people voted on the question, and on March 28 the following was announced as the result: For, 20,448; against, 17,296; a majority of 3,152. The Convention ratified the 'Confederate' Constitution March 11, 1861, by a vote of 107 to 7, and refused to submit it to the people by 94 to 10. On the 11th day of January, 1864, Maj. Gen. Banks issued a Proclamation for an election of State officers and delegates to a Constitutional Convention, for the purpose of affecting a reconstruction of the State Government under the plan suggested in the Amnesty Proclamation of President Lincoln. The election was held on the 23d day of February, 1864. The officers thus elected were installed March 4. The total vote cast was 10,725. The vote requisite under the Proclamation was 5,051. The Convention amended the Constitution so as to abolish slavery. The new Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 6,886 for, to 1,566 against.

MAINE was settled at York, in 1623, by the English, and was formerly under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts. October 29, 1819, the inhabitants of the District of Maine framed a Constitution; applied for admission December 8, 1819. Congress passed an act March 3, 1820, and it was admitted as a State March 15, of the same year. Area 31,766 square miles, or 20,830,240 acres. Population, in 1860, 628,279. It is largely engaged in the lumber trade and ship building. Citizens of the United States, except paupers and persons under guardianship, who have resided in the State for three months next preceding the election, are entitled to vote.

MARYLAND was settled at St. Mary, in 1634, by Irish Roman Catholics, having been chartered June 20, 1632. It was one of the original thirteen States; formed a Constitution August 14, 1776, and ratified the Constitution of the United States April 28, 1788. Area 11,124 square miles, or 7,119,260 acres. Population in 1860, 687,049, of whom 87,189 were slaves. It is mainly an agricultural State, producing grain and tobacco. A residence of one year in the State, and six months in the county, gives the right to vote to every white male citizen who takes the oath of allegiance prescribed in the Constitution. January 28, 1864, a bill passed the Legislature submitting to the people the question of a Convention to revise the Constitution of the State. The popular vote on the question was as follows: For Convention, 32,203; against, 18,337. The Convention assembled and adopted a Constitution abolishing slavery, which was submitted to and adopted by the people; and in accordance with its provisions, on the 29th of October, 1864, the Governor issued his Proclamation declaring the slaves in that State free from the 1st day of November.

MASSACHUSETTS was settled at Plymouth, November 3, 1620, by English Puritans, and Charters were granted March 4, 1629, January 13, 1630, August 20, 1726, and October 7, 1731. It was one of the original 13 States; adopted a Constitution March 2, 1780, which was amended November 3, 1820, and ratified the Constitution of the United States February 6, 1788. Area 7,800 square miles, or 4,992,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,331,066. It is a largely commercial, the chief manufacturing and most densely populated State in the Union. A residence of one year in the State, and payment of State or county tax, gives the right to vote to male citizens of 21 years and upward, except paupers and persons under guardianship.

MICHIGAN was settled at Detroit in 1670, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded to the United States by Virginia. It was set off from the territory of Indiana, and erected into a separate Territory January 11, 1805; an act to attach to it all the territory of the United States west of the Mississippi river, and north of the State of Missouri, was passed June 28, 1834. Wisconsin was organized from it April 30, 1836. In June of the same year an act was passed to provide for the admission of the State of Michigan into the Union, and a Constitution having been adopted, it was admitted January 26, 1837. Area 56,243 square miles, or 35,995,552 acres. Population in 1860, 749,113. It is a grain growing and cattle rearing State, with rich and extensive mines of copper and iron in the Northern Peninsula. A residence in the State of six months preceding the election, entitles white male citizens to vote.

MINNESOTA was settled about 1846, chiefly by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress approved March 3, 1849, and admitted into the Union February 26, 1857. Area 95,274 square miles, or 60,975,536 acres. Population in 1860, 172,123 whites, and about 25,000 Indians, many of the tribes being of a warlike character. It is an agricultural State, chiefly devoted to Northern grains. The right to vote is extended to male persons of 21 years of age, of the following classes, if they have resided in the United States one year, the State four months, and the election district ten days: White citizens of the United States, and those of foreign birth who have declared their intention to become citizens; persons of mixed white and Indian blood who have adopted the customs of civilization, and those of pure Indian blood who have been pronounced capable by any district court of the State.

MISSISSIPPI was settled at Natchez, in 1716, by the French, and was formed out of part of the territory ceded to the United States by South Carolina in 1787, and Georgia in 1802. It was organized as a Territory by act of Congress, April 7, 1789, and enlarged on the north March 27, 1804, and on the south May 14, 1812. After several unsuccessful attempts to enter the Union, Congress finally passed an act March 1, 1817, enabling the people of the western part of the Territory to form a State Constitution and Government, which being complied with August 15, it was admitted December 10 of the same year. Area 47,156 square miles, or 30,179,340 acres. Population in 1860, 791,305, of whom 436,031 were slaves. It is the second cotton growing State of the Union. Citizens who have resided one year in the State, and four months in the county, and having performed military duty or paid taxes, are entitled to vote. A Convention met January 7, 1861, and on the 9th passed an ordinance of secession by a vote of 84 to 15.

MISSOURI was settled at Genevieve in 1763, by the French, and was part of the territory ceded by France by treaty of April 30, 1803. It was created under the name of the District of Louisiana, by an act approved March 26, 1804, and placed under the direction of the officers of the Indiana Territory, and was organized into a separate Territory June 4, 1812, its name being changed to that of Missouri; and was divided March 2, 1819, the Territory of Arkansas being then created. An act authorizing it to form a State Constitution and Government was passed March 6, 1820, and it was admitted into the Union December 14, 1821. Area 67,380 square miles, or 43,123,200 acres. Population in 1860, 1,182,012, of whom 114,931 were slaves. An act of gradual emancipation was passed July 1, 1863, by a vote of 51 to 30. On the 6th of January, 1865, a Constitutional Convention assembled in St. Louis, and on the 8th of April adopted a new Constitution, declaring the State free, prohibiting compensation for slaves, and adopting many other radical changes. On the 6th of June the Constitution was adopted by the people by a vote of 43,670 to 41,808, and pursuant to a Proclamation issued on the 1st of July, the Constitution went into effect July 4, 1865. It is an agricultural and mining State. Citizens of the United States who have resided in the State one year, and county three months, are entitled to vote. By an act passed by the Legislature of 1863, voting by ballot was adopted, and the viva voce system abolished.

NEBRASKA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was formed out of a part of the territory ceded by France, April 30, 1803. Attempts to organize it were made in 1844 and 1848, but it was not accomplished until May 30, 1854. Area 75,955 square miles, or 44,796,160 acres. Population 28,841, besides a few roving tribes of Indians. A Convention adopted a State Constitution February 9, 1866, which was submitted to the people on the 22d of June, and adopted by a vote of 3,938 for, to 3,838 against, and State officers were elected. A bill was passed by Congress, July 27th, admitting the State, but the President withheld his signature. In February, 1867, Congress passed an act imposing certain conditions to admission, which were promptly accepted, and the territory became a State. It is an agricultural region, its prairies affording boundless pasture lands.

NEVADA was organized as a Territory March 2, 1861. Its name signifies snowy, and is derived from the Spanish word nieve (snow.) It comprises 81,539 square miles, or 52,184,960 acres, lying mostly within the Great Basin of the Pacific coast. Congress, at its session in 1864, passed an act which was approved March 21, to enable the people of the Territory to form a Constitution and State Government, in pursuance of which a Government was organized and the Territory admitted as a State by Proclamation of the President, October 31, 1864. At the time of its organization the Territory possessed a population of 6,857 white settlers. The development of her mineral resources was rapid and almost without parallel, and attracted a constant stream of immigration to the Territory. As the population has not been subject to the fluctuations from which other Territories have suffered, the growth of Nevada has been rapid and steady. At the general convention election of 1863, 10,934 votes were cast. During 1864 great accessions to the population were made. It is probably the richest State in the Union in respect to mineral resources. No region in the world is richer in argentiferous leads. It also contains an immense basin of salt, five miles square. Quartz mills are a very important feature in mining operations. The State is barren for agricultural purposes, and is remarkably healthy.

NEW HAMPSHIRE was settled at Dover, in 1623, by English Puritans, and continued under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until September 18, 1679, when a separate charter was granted. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution June 21, 1788; its State Constitution was framed January 5, 1776, and amended in 1784 and 1792. Area 9,280 square miles, or 5,939,200 acres. Population in 1860, 326,973. It is a grazing and manufacturing State. All male citizens, except paupers, are allowed to vote.

NEW JERSEY was settled at Bergen, in 1624, by the Dutch and Danes; was conquered by the Dutch in 1655, and submitted to the English in 1664, being held thereafter under the same grants as New York, until it was surrendered to the Crown in 1702. It was one of the original thirteen States, adopted a State Constitution July 2, 1776, and ratified the United States Constitution December 18, 1787. Area 8,320 square miles, or 5,324,800 acres. Population in 1860, 672,035. It is a grain and fruit growing region, its orchard and market products being relatively greater than those of any other State. A residence of one year in the State gives the right to vote, except to paupers, &c.

NEW YORK was settled at Manhattan, in 1614, by the Dutch; was ceded to the English by grants to the Duke of York, March 20, April 26, and June 24, 1664; was retaken by the Dutch in 1673, and surrendered again by them to the English, February 9, 1674. It was one of the original thirteen States; ratified the United States Constitution July 26, 1788; framed a Constitution April 20, 1777, which was amended October 27, 1801, and November 10, 1821; a new one was adopted November 3, 1846. Area 47,000 square miles, or 30,080,000 acres. Population in 1865, 3,831,777. It is the most populous, wealthy and commercial of the States. White male citizens of the United States, who have resided in the State one year, in the county four months, and election district thirty days, are entitled to vote; and all men of color who have resided in the State three years, and own and pay taxes on a freehold assessed at $250.

NORTH CAROLINA was settled at Albemarle, in 1650, by the English, and was chartered March 20, 1663. It was one of the original thirteen States, and ratified the United States Constitution, November 21, 1789; its State Constitution was adopted December 18, 1776, and amended in 1835. Area 50,704 square miles, or 32,450,560 acres. Population in 1860, 992,622, of whom 331,059 were slaves. It is an agricultural State, with some mines and extensive pine forests. Every freeman of 21 years of age, having resided one year in any county in the State, may vote for a member of the House of Commons, but must own fifty acres of land to vote for a Senator. A State Convention passed an ordinance of secession May 21, 1861. An election for delegates to a State Convention took place September 21, 1865. The Convention assembled October 2. On the 2d of October it passed an ordinance forever prohibiting slavery. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional amendment December 1. An election was held on the first Thursday of November, for Governor, Members of Congress and the Legislature.

OHIO was settled at Marietta, in 1788, by emigrants from Virginia and New England; was ceded by Virginia to the United States October 20, 1783; accepted by the latter March 1, 1784, and admitted into the Union April 30, 1802. Area 39,964 square miles, or 25,576,960 acres. Population in 1860, 2,339,511. It is the most populous and wealthy of the agricultural States, devoted principally to wool growing, grain and live stock. A male of 21 years of age, who has resided in the State one year, and has paid or been charged with a State or county tax, is eligible to vote.

OREGON, although it had previously been seen by various navigators, was first taken possession of by Capt. Robert Gray, who entered the mouth of its principal river May 7, 1792, naming it after his vessel, the Columbia, of Boston. Exploring expeditions soon followed, and fur companies sent their trappers and traders into the region. In 1811 a trading post was established at the mouth of the Columbia river by the American Fur Company, who named it Astoria. For some time a Provisional Territorial Government existed, but the boundary remained unsettled until the treaty with Great Britain in 1846, when the 49th parallel was adopted. It was formally organized as a Territory August 14, 1848; was divided March 2, 1853, on the 46th parallel, the northern portion being called Washington and the southern Oregon. November 9, 1857, a State Constitution was adopted, under which it was admitted February 14, 1859, about one-third of it on the east being added to Washington Territory, its northern boundary following the Columbia river until its intersection with latitude 46° north. Area 102,606 square miles, or 65,667,840 acres. Population in 1860, 52,465. It is an agricultural State, possessed of a fertile soil, extensive pastures, genial climate, and is well wooded. Gold and other precious metals are found in considerable abundance.

PENNSYLVANIA was settled at Philadelphia, in 1681, by English Quakers, and was chartered February 28 of the same year. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution December 12, 1787; adopted a State Constitution September 28, 1776, and amended it September 2, 1790. Area 46,000 square miles, or 29,440,000 acres. Population in 1860, 2,906,115. It is the second State in wealth and population, and the principal coal and iron mining region in the Union. Residence in the State one year, and ten days in the election district, with payment of a State or county tax assessed ten days prior to an election, gives the right to vote; except that citizens between 21 and 22 years of age need not have paid the tax.

RHODE ISLAND was settled at Providence in 1636, by the English from Massachusetts, under Roger Williams. It was under the jurisdiction of Massachusetts until July 8, 1662, when a separate charter was granted, which continued in force until the formation of a Constitution in September, 1842. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 29, 1790. Area 1,306 square miles, or 835,840 acres. Population in 1860, 174,620. It is largely engaged in manufactures. A freehold possession of $13; or, if in reversion, renting for $7, together with a residence of one year in the State and six months in the town; or, if no freehold, then a residence of two years in the State and six months in the town, and payment of $1 tax or military service instead, are the qualifications of voters.

SOUTH CAROLINA was settled at Port Royal, in 1670, by the English, and continued under the charter of Carolina, or North Carolina, until they were separated in 1729. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution May 23, 1798; it framed a State Constitution March 26, 1776, which was amended March 19, 1778, and June 3, 1790. Area 29,385 square miles, or 18,806,400 acres. Population in 1860, 703,708, of whom 402,406 were slaves, an excess of 101,270 over the whites. It is the principal rice-growing State. Whites, who have resided in the State two years and district six months, and have a freehold of fifty acres of land, or have paid a State tax, are entitled to vote. December 17, 1860, a Convention assembled in Columbia, adjourned to Charleston, and on the 24th unanimously adopted an ordinance of secession, which was followed the next day by a Declaration of Causes claimed to be sufficient to justify the act. An election for delegates to a State Convention was held September 4, 1865. The Convention assembled September 13, and adjourned on the 28th. It repealed the ordinance of secession, abolished slavery, equalized the representation of the Senate and taxation throughout the State, giving the election of Governor and Presidential electors to the people, ordered voting in the Legislature by viâ voce, endorsed the Administration unanimously, and directed a commission to submit a code to the Legislature for the protection of the colored population. The Legislature ratified the Constitutional Amendment November 13, 1865.

TENNESSEE was settled at Fort Donelson, in 1756, by emigrants from Virginia and North Carolinn; was ceded to the United States by North Carolina, December, 1789, conveyed by the Senators of that State February 25, 1790, and accepted by act of Congress April 2 of the same year; it adopted a Constitution Feb. 6, 1796, and was admitted into the Union the 1st of June following. Area 45,000 square miles, or 29,184,000 acres. Population in 1860, 1,109,801, of whom 275,179 were slaves. It is a mining and agricultural State, and is largely productive of live stock. Citizens of the United States who have resided six months in the county are entitled to vote. A military league was formed between the Governor, Isham G. Harris, and the rebel States, May 7, 1861, ratified the same day by the Senate by a vote of 14 to 6, and a Declaration of Independence submitted to the people, the election to be held June 8, the result of which was declared by the Governor, June 24, to be 104,913 for, and 47,238 against. This movement not being acceptable to the people of East Tennessee, which had declared against separation by a vote of 32,923 to 14,780, they, in a Convention held at Greenville, June 18-21, repudiated it. Andrew Johnson, Provisional Governor of the State, called a State Convention to be held in Nashville the second Monday in January. Delegates were elected, the Convention met, declared slavery forever abolished, prohibited compensation to owners of slaves, and abrogated the secession ordinances. These amendments of the Constitution were submitted to the people 22d of February, 1865, with the following result: For ratification, 22,197; rejection, 63. The United States Constitutional Amendment was ratified April 5, 1865.

TEXAS was first settled at Bexar, in 1694, by Spaniards; formed a part of Mexico until 1836, when she revolted from that Republic and instituted a separate Government, under which she existed until admitted into the Union by a joint resolution approved March 1st, 1845, imposing certain conditions, which were accepted, and a Constitution formed July 4 of the same year, and another joint resolution adopted by Congress, consummating the annexation, was approved December 29, 1845. Area 287,504 square miles, or 152,002,500 acres. Population in 1860, 604,215, of whom 182,566 were slaves. It is an agricultural region, principally devoted to grain, cotton and tropical fruits. Free white male citizens of 21 years of age, who have resided in the State one year and district six months are entitled to vote. A Convention assembled at Galveston January 28, 1861, and on February 1 passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 166 to 7, to be submitted to the people February 23, and on March 4 they declared the State out of the Union, and Gov. Houston issued a Proclamation to that effect.

VERMONT was settled in 1724, by Englishmen from Connecticut, chiefly under grants from New Hampshire; was formed from a part of the territory of New York, by act of its Legislature March 6, 1769; framed a Constitution December 25, 1777, and was admitted into the Union March 4, 1791, by virtue of an act of Congress passed February 18 of the same year. Area 10,312 square miles, or 6,535,680 acres. Population in 1860, 315,098. It is a grazing region, producing more wool, live stock, maple sugar, butter, cheese and hay, in proportion to its population, than any other State. Any citizen of the United States who has resided in the State one year, and will take the oath of allegiance, is entitled to vote.

VIRGINIA was settled at Jamestown, in 1607, by the English, and was chartered April 10, 1606, May 23, 1609, and March 12, 1612. It was one of the original thirteen States, ratifying the United States Constitution June 25, 1788; it framed a State Constitution July 5, 1776, which was amended January 15, 1830. The State was divided in 1863. Present area 37,352 square miles. Population in 1860, 1,314,532, of whom 481,410 were slaves. It is a large corn producing, and the chief tobacco growing State. Every white male citizen of the age of 21 years, who has been a resident of the State for one year, and of the county, city or town where he offers to vote for six months next preceding an election, and has paid all taxes assessed to him, after the adoption of the Constitution, under the laws of the Commonwealth after the re-organization of the county, city or town where he offers to vote, is qualified to vote for members of the General Assembly and all officers elective by the people. A Convention sitting in Richmond on the 17th of April, 1861, passed an ordinance of secession, by a vote of 88 to 55, which was submitted to the people at an election held May 23, the result of which was announced June 25 to be 128,834 for, and 82,134 against. The State Government was re-organized by a Convention which met at Wheeling, May 11, 1861. Upon the division of the State in 1863, the seat of Government was removed to Alexandria. A State Constitutional Convention, March 10, 1864, adopted a section abolishing slavery.

WEST VIRGINIA.—On the passage of the ordinance of secession by the Virginia Convention, a Convention of the western and other loyal counties of the State was held at Wheeling, which assembled May 11, 1861, and on the 17th unanimously deposed the then State officers and organized a Provisional Government. On the 26th of November, 1861, a Convention representing the western counties assembled in Wheeling and framed a Constitution for West Virginia, which was submitted to the people on the 3d of May, 1862, and adopted by them by a nearly unanimous vote. The division of the State was sanctioned by the Legislature May 13, 1862, and ratified by Congress by an act approved December 31, 1862, conditioned on the adoption of an amendment to the Constitution providing for the gradual abolition of slavery, which was done on the 24th of March, 1863, by a vote of the qualified electors of the proposed State, 28,318 voting in favor of the amendment, and 572 against it. In pursuance of the act of Congress, the President issued a Proclamation, April 20, 1863, admitting the State sixty days from the date thereof, and on the 20th of June the new State Government was formally inaugurated. Area 24,000 square miles. Population in 1860, 350,599, of whom 12,754 were slaves. It is a large corn producing State, and abounds in coal and other minerals. The Alexandria Legislature adopted the United States Constitutional Amendment February 9, 1865. White male citizens, residents of the State one year and county thirty days, unless disqualified by rebellion, are entitled to vote.

WISCONSIN was settled at Green Bay, in 1669, by the French; was a part of the territory ceded by Virginia, and was set off from Michigan December 24, 1834, and was organized into a Territory April 30, 1836. Iowa was set off from it June 12, 1838, and acts were passed at various times setting its boundaries. March 3, 1847, an act for its admission into the Union was passed, to take effect on the issuing of a Proclamation by the President, and by act of May 29, 1848, it was admitted into the Union. Area 53,924 square miles, or 34,511,360 acres. Population in 1860, 775,881. It is an agricultural State, chiefly engaged in grain raising and wool growing. Both white and colored citizens of the United States, or white foreigners who have declared their intention to become citizens, are entitled to vote. Colored citizens were admitted to the franchise, by a decision of the Supreme Court, rendered the 27th day of March, 1866, holding that, whereas an election was held in 1849, under the provisions of chapter 137, of that year, at which election 5,265 votes were cast in favor of the extension of the right of suffrage to colored men, and 4,075 against such extension, therefore, the section of said law conferring such right had been constitutionally adopted and is the law of the land.

THE TERRITORIES,

THEIR BOUNDARIES, AREA, PHYSICAL FEATURES, ETC.

ALASKA, our new territory, recently purchased of Russia, comprehends all the north-west coast on the Pacific, and the adjacent islands north of the parallel of 50 degrees 40 minutes north, and the portion of the mainland west of the meridian (about 140° west) of Mount St. Elias. The area is computed at 481,276 square miles. The climate, although warmer than in the same latitude on the eastern coast, is too rigorous to admit of successful agricultural operations, and the chief value of the country and adjacent seas is derived from their fisheries and hunting grounds. The southern and central portions are mountainous; the northern portion along the Arctic ocean is quite flat, nowhere rising more than fifteen or twenty feet above the sea. The population is estimated at about 80,000, mostly Esquimaux.

ARIZONA was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, in the winter of 1863, out of the western half of New Mexico, the boundary between the two Territories being the 109th meridian (32d west from Washington,) and includes the greater portions of the valleys of Colorado and Gila, which two rivers drain its entire surface, with parts of Utah, New Mexico and Nevada, and yet convey, it is reported, a less volume of water to the sea than the Hudson at Albany. The fertile Messilla Valley was left with New Mexico. The Territory forms a block nearly square, and contains 126,141 square miles, or 80,730,240 acres. Its white population is probably considerably less than 10,000. For agricultural purposes it is probably the most worthless on the Continent, owing to the absence of rains, but it is reputed to abound in silver mines.

COLORADO was organized March 2, 1861, from parts of Kansas, Nebraska and Utah, and is situated on each side of the Rocky Mountains, between latitude 37° and 41°, and longitude 25° and 32° west from Washington. Area 104,500 square miles, or 66,880,000 acres. Population 50,000, besides numerous tribes of Indians. By an enabling act passed March 21, 1864, the people of the Territory were authorized to frame a State Constitution and organize a State Government, and a Convention accordingly met in 1865, and on the 12th of August adopted a Constitution, which was submitted to and adopted by the people September 5, and State officers elected November 14. A bill to admit the Territory as a State passed Congress, but was vetoed May 25, 1866. It is said to be a superior grazing and cattle producing region, with a healthy climate and rich soil. An extensive coal bed, and also gold, iron and other minerals abound.

DAKOTA was first settled by employees of the Hudson Bay Company, but is now being peopled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. It was set off from the western portion of Minnesota when that Territory became a State in 1857, and was organized March 2, 1861. Area 148,932 square miles, or 95,316,480 acres. Population 2,576 whites, and 2,261 Indians, besides the roving tribes.

IDaho was organized by the Thirty-Seventh Congress, at its second session, in the winter of 1863. Its name means 'Bead of the Mountains,' and it embraces the whole breadth of the Rocky Mountain region, and has within its bounds the head waters of nearly all the great rivers that flow down its either slope, but the greater portion lies east of the mountains. Its southern boundary is the 41st, its northern the 46th parallel of latitude. It extends from the 104th meridian on the east to the 110th on the west. Area 326,373 square miles, or 208,870,720 acres. For agricultural purposes it is comparatively worthless, but abounds in gold and other valuable mines.

MONTANA was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States. Organized in 1864, with the following boundaries: Commencing at a point formed by the intersection of the 27° L. W. from Washington with the 45° N. L.; thence due west on said 45th degree to a point formed by its intersection with the 34th degree W. from Washington; thence due south along said 34th degree of longitude to its intersection with the 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L.; thence due west along said 44th degree and 30 minutes of N. L. to a point formed by its intersection with the crest of the Rocky Mountains; thence following the crest of the Rocky Mountains northward till its intersection with the Bitter Root Mountains; thence northward along the crest of said Bitter Root Mountains to its intersection with the 39th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence along said 39th degree of longitude northward to the boundary line of the British possessions; thence eastward along said boundary to the 27th degree of longitude W. from Washington; thence southward along said 27th degree to the place of beginning. This makes it the northernmost Territory next the States east of the Missouri Valley. It is a good mining and agricultural region. The total population is put down at 15,822. Large accessions have been made since the census was taken.

NEW MEXICO was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory September 9, 1850. — Area 121,201 square miles, or 77,568,640 acres. Population 83,000, besides large tribes of warlike Indians. The principal resource of the country is its minerals.

UTAH was settled by the Mormons, and was formed from a part of the territory ceded to the United States by Mexico, by the treaty of Guadalupe Hidalgo, February 2, 1848, and was organized into a Territory, September 9, 1850. Area, 106,382 square miles, or 68,084,480 acres. Population, 40,273, of whom 29 were slaves. Brine, sulphureous and chalybeate springs abound; limestone, granite, sandstone and marble are found in large quantities; iron is abundant, and gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc have been found. Not one-fiftieth part of the soil is fit for tillage, but on that which is, abundant crops of grain and considerable cotton are raised. A Convention was held at Great Salt Lake City, January 22, 1862, and a State Constitution formed, but it has not been acted on by Congress.

WASHINGTON was settled by emigrants from the Northern and Western States, and was organized into a Territory, March 2, 1853, from the northern portion of Oregon, to which was added another portion from the eastern part when the latter Territory was admitted as a State, February 14, 1859. Area 69,994 square miles, or 48,636,800 acres. Population 11,168, besides numerous tribes of Indians.

WYOMING was organized in July 1868. It lies between the 27th and 34th meridians of longitude west from Washington, and between the 41st and 45th parallels of latitude. The Territory is rich in mineral wealth, having large quantities of iron, coal, gypsum and building stone, besides vast quantities of gold, silver and copper. Salt springs of great value are found within its limits. The western portion of the Territory embraces what is generally known as the "Sweet Water Mines." The climate is healthy, and the Territory is rapidly filling up with an enterprising and hardy population. The act of Congress organizing the Territory, provides that "There shall be no denial of the elective franchise or any other right, on account of color or race, and all persons shall be equal before the law."

CANCELLATION.

In all cases where an adhesive stamp is used for denoting the stamp duty upon an instrument, the person using or affixing the same must write or imprint thereupon in ink the initials of his name, and the date (the year, month, and day) on which the same is attached or used. Each stamp should be separately cancelled. When stamps are printed upon checks, &c., so that in filling up the instrument, the face of the stamp is and must necessarily be written across, no other cancellation will be required.

All cancellation must be distinct and legible, and except in the case of proprietary stamps from private dies, no method of cancellation which differs from that above described can be recognized as legal and sufficient.

PENALTIES.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who makes, signs, or issues, or who causes to be made, signed, or issued, any paper of any kind or description whatever, or who accepts, negotiates, or pays, or causes to be accepted, negotiated, or paid, any bill of exchange, draft, or order, or promissory note, for the payment of money, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the tax chargeable thereon, cancelled in the manner required by law, with intent to evade the provisions of the revenue act.

A penalty of two hundred dollars is imposed upon every person who pays, negotiates, or offers in payment, or receives or takes in payment, any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn or purporting to be drawn in a foreign country, but payable in the United States, until the proper stamp has been affixed thereto.

A penalty of fifty dollars is imposed upon every person who fraudulently makes use of an adhesive stamp to denote the duty required by the revenue act, without effectually cancelling and obliterating the same in the manner required by law.

Attention is particularly called to the following extract from section 165, of the act of June 30, 1864, as amended by the act of July 13, 1866:

"If any person shall wilfully remove or cause to be removed, alter or cause to be altered, the cancelling or defacing marks on any adhesive stamp, with intent to use the same, or to cause the use of the same, after it shall have been used once, or shall knowingly or wilfully sell or buy such washed or restored stamps, or offer the same for sale, or give or expose the same to any person for use, or knowingly use the same or prepare the same with intent for the further use thereof, or if any person shall knowingly and without lawful excuse (the proof whereof shall lie on the person accused) have in his possession any washed, restored, or altered stamps, which have been removed from any vellum, parchment, paper, instrument or writing; then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall, on conviction thereof, * * * be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years, or both, at the discretion of the court."

It is not lawful to record any instrument, document, or paper required by law to be stamped, or any copy thereof, unless a stamp or stamps of the proper amount have been affixed and cancelled in the manner required by law; and such instrument or copy and the record thereof are utterly null and void, and cannot be used or admitted as evidence in any court until the defect has been cured as provided in section 158.

All willful violations of the law should be reported to the United States District Attorney within and for the district where they are committed.

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

The law does not designate which of the parties to an instrument shall furnish the necessary stamp, nor does the Commissioner or Internal Revenue assume to determine that it shall be supplied by one party rather than by another; but if an instrument subject to stamp duty is issued without having the necessary stamps affixed thereto, it cannot be recorded, or admitted, or used in evidence, in any court, until a legal stamp or stamps, denoting the amount of tax, shall have been affixed as prescribed by law, and the person who thus issues it is liable to a penalty, if he omits the stamps with an intent to evade the provisions of the internal revenue act.

The first act imposing a stamp tax upon certain specified instruments took effect, so far as said tax is concerned, October 1, 1862. The impression which seems to prevail to some extent, that no stamps are required upon any instruments issued in the States lately in insurrection, prior to the surrender, or prior to the establishment of collection districts there, is erroneous.

Instruments issued in those States since October 1, 1862, are subject to the same tax as similar ones issued at the same time in the other States.

No stamp is necessary upon an instrument executed prior to October 1, 1862, to make it admissible in evidence, or to entitle it to record.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "promissory notes."

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by either of them; and "when more than one signature is affixed to the same paper, one or more stamps may be affixed thereto, representing the whole amount of the stamp required for such signatures."

No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required; and, whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers—such stamp duty being the highest rate required for such instruments, or either of them. In such case a note or memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgement of the instrument which is not stamped.

Particular attention is called to the change in section 154, by striking out the words "or used;" the exemption thereunder is thus restricted to documents, &c., issued by the officers therein named. Also to the changes in sections 152 and 158, by inserting the words "and cancelled in the manner required by law."

The acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange, or order for the payment of any sum of money, drawn or purporting to be drawn in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, must, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty.

It is only upon conveyances of realty sold that conveyance stamps are necessary. A deed of real estate made without valuable consideration need not be stamped as a conveyance; but if it contains covenants, such, for instance, as a covenant to warrant and defend the title, it should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

When a deed purporting to be a conveyance of realty sold, and stamped accordingly, is inoperative, a deed of confirmation, made simply to cure the defect, requires no stamp. In such case, the second deed should contain a recital of the facts, and should show the reasons for its execution.

Partition deeds between tenants in common, need not be stamped as conveyances, inasmuch as there is no sale of realty, but merely a marking out, or a defining, of the boundaries of the part belonging to each; but where money or other valuable consideration is paid by one co-tenant to another for equality of partition, there is a sale to the extent of such consideration, and the conveyance, by the party receiving it, should be stamped accordingly.

A conveyance of lands sold for unpaid taxes, issued since August 1, 1866, by the officers of any county, town, or other municipal corporation in the discharge of their strictly official duties, is exempt from stamp tax.

A conveyance of realty sold, subject to a mortgage, should be stamped according to the consideration, or the value of the property unencumbered. The consideration in such case is to be found by adding the amount paid for the equity of redemption to the mortgage debt. The fact that one part of the consideration is paid to the mortgagor and the other part to the mortgagee does not change the liability of the conveyance.

The stamp tax upon a mortgage is based upon the amount it is given to secure. The fact that the value of the property mortgaged is less than that amount, and that consequently the security is only partial, does not change the liability of the instrument. When, therefore, a second mortgage is given to secure the payment of a sum of money partially secured by a prior mortgage upon other property, or when two mortgages upon separate property are given at the same time to secure the payment of the same sum, each should be stamped as though it were the only one.

A mortgage given to secure a surety from loss, or given for any purpose whatever, other than as security for the payment of a definite and certain sum of money, is taxable only as an agreement or contract.

The stamp duty upon a lease, agreement, memorandum, or contract for the hire, use, or rent of any land, tenement, or portion thereof, is based upon the annual rent or rental value of the property leased, and the duty is the same whether the lease be for one year, for a term of years, or for the fractional part of a year only.

Upon every assignment or transfer of a mortgage, a stamp tax is required equal to that imposed upon a mortgage for the amount remaining unpaid; this tax is required upon every such transfer in writing, whether there is a sale of the mortgage or not; but no stamp is necessary upon the endorsement of a negotiable instrument, even though the legal effect of such endorsement is to transfer a mortgage by which the instrument is secured.

An assignment of a lease within the meaning and intent of Schedule B, is an assignment of the leasehold, or of some portion thereof, by the lessee, or by some person claiming by, from, or under him; such an assignment as subrogates the assignee to the rights, or some portion of the rights, of the lessee, or of the person standing in his place. A transfer by the lessor of his part of a lease, neither giving nor purporting to give a claim to the leasehold, or to any part thereof, but simply a right to the rents, &c., is subject to stamp tax as a contract or agreement only.

The stamp tax upon a fire insurance policy is based upon the premium.

Deposit notes taken by a mutual fire insurance company, not as payment of premium nor as evidence of indebtedness therefor, but to be used simply as a basis upon which to make rateable assessments to meet the losses incurred by the company, should not be reckoned as premium in determining the amount of stamp taxes upon the policies.

When a policy of insurance property stamped has been issued and lost, no stamp is necessary upon another issued by the same company to the same party, covering the same property, time, &c., and designed simply to supply the loss. The second policy should recite the loss of the first.

An instrument which operates as the renewal of a policy of insurance, is subject to the same stamp tax as the policy.

When a policy of insurance is issued for a certain time, whether it be for one year only or for a term of years, a receipt for premium, or any other instrument which has the legal effect to continue the contract and extend its operation beyond that time, requires the same amount of revenue stamp as the policy itself; but such a receipt as is usually given for the payment of the monthly, quarterly, or annual premium, is not a renewal within the meaning of the statute. The payment simply prevents the policy from expiring, by reason of non-performance of its conditions; a receipt given for such a payment requires a two-cent stamp, if the amount received exceeds twenty dollars, and a two-cent stamp only. When, however, the time of payment has passed, and a tender of the premium is not sufficient to bind the company, but a new policy or a new contract in some form, with the mutuality essential to every contract, becomes necessary between the insurer and the insured, the same amount of stamp should be used as that required upon the original policy.

A permit issued by a life insurance company changing the terms of a policy as to travel, residence, occupation, &c., should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

A bill single or a bill obligatory, i. e., as instrument in the form of a promissory note, under seal, is subject to stamp duty as written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at a time designated, at the rate of five cents for each one hundred dollars or fractional part thereof.

A waiver of protest, or of demand and notice, written upon negotiable paper and signed by the indorser, is an agreement, and requires a five-cent stamp.

A stamp duty of twenty-five cents is imposed upon the "protest of every note, bill of exchange, check or draft," and upon every marine protest. If several notes, bills of exchange, drafts, &c., are protested at the same time and all attached to one and the same certificate, stamps should be affixed to the amount of twenty-five cents for each note, bill, draft, &c., thus protested.

When, as is generally the case, the caption to a deposition contains other certificates in addition to the jurat to the affidavit of the deponent, such as a certificate that the parties were or were not notified, that they did or did not appear, that they did or did not object, &c., it is subject to a stamp duty of five cents.

When an attested copy of a writ or other process is used by a sheriff or other person in making personal service, or in attaching property, a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of attestation.

A marriage certificate issued by the officiating clergyman or magistrate, to be returned to any officer of a State, county, city, town, or other municipal corporation, to constitute part of a public record, requires no stamp; but if it is to be retained by the parties, a five-cent stamp should be affixed.

The stamp tax upon a bill of sale, by which any ship or vessel, or any part thereof, is conveyed to or vested in any other person or persons, is at the same rate as that imposed upon conveyances of realty sold; a bill of sale of any other personal property should be stamped as a contract or agreement.

An assignment of real or personal property, or of both, for the benefit of creditors, should be stamped as an agreement or contract.

Written or printed assignments of agreements, bonds, notes not negotiable, and of all other instruments the assignments of which are not particularly specified in the foregoing schedule, should be stamped as agreements.

No stamp is necessary upon the registry of a judgment, even though the registry is such in its legal effect as to create a lien which operates as a mortgage upon the property of the judgment debtor.

When a "power of attorney or proxy for voting at any election for officers of any incorporated company or society, except religious, charitable, or literary societies, or public cemeteries," is signed by several stockholders, owning separate and distinct shares, it is, in its legal effect, the separate instrument of each, and requires stamps to the amount of ten cents for each and every signature; one or more stamps may be used representing the whole amount required.

A notice from landlord to tenant to quit possession of premises requires no stamp.

A stamp tax is imposed upon every "manifest for custom-house entry or clearance of the cargo of any ship, vessel, or steamer for a foreign port." The amount of this tax in each case depends upon the registered tonnage of the vessel.

If a vessel clears in ballast and has no cargo whatever, no stamp is necessary; but if she has any, however small the amount—a stamp should be used.

A bond to convey real estate requires stamps to the amount of twenty-five cents.

The stamp duty upon the probate of a will, or upon letters of administration, is based upon the sworn or declared value of all the estate and effects, real, personal, and mixed, undiminished by the debts of the estate for or in respect of which such probate or letters are applied for.

When the property belonging to the estate of a person deceased, lies under different jurisdictions and it becomes necessary to take out letters in two or more places, the letters should be stamped according to the value of all the property, real, personal, and mixed, for or in respect of which the particular letters in each case are issued.

Letters de bonis non should be stamped according to the amount of property remaining to be administered upon thereunder, regardless of the stamps upon the original letters.

A mere copy of an instrument is not subject to stamp duty unless it is a certified one, in which case a five-cent stamp should be affixed to the certificate of the person attesting it; but when an instrument is executed and issued in duplicate, triplicate, &c., as in the case of a lease of two or more parts, each part has the same legal effect as the other, and each should be stamped as an original.

POSTAL RATES AND REGULATIONS.

LETTERS.—The law requires postage on all letters (including those to foreign countries when prepaid), excepting those written to the President or Vice President, or members of Congress, or (on official business) to the chiefs of the executive departments of the Government, and the heads of bureaux and chief clerks, and others invested with the franking privilege, to be prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, prepayment in money being prohibited.

All drop-letters must be prepaid. The rate of postage on drop-letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, is two cents per half ounce or fraction of a half ounce; at offices where such free delivery is not established the rate is one cent.

The single rate of postage on all domestic mail letters throughout the United States, is three cents per half ounce, with an additional rate of three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce. The ten cent (Pacific) rate is abolished.

NEWSPAPERS, ETC.—Letter postage is to be charged on all handbills, circulars, or other printed matter which shall contain any manuscript writing whatever.

Daguerreotypes, when sent in the mail, are to be charged with letter postage by weight.

Photographs on cards, paper, and other flexible material, (not in cases), can be sent at the same rate as miscellaneous printed matter, viz., two cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

Photograph Albums are chargeable with book postage—four cents for each four ounces or fraction thereof.

NEWSPAPER POSTAGE.—Postage on daily papers to subscribers when prepaid quarterly or yearly in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery, per quarter (three months), 85 cts.; six times per week, per quarter 80 cts.; for tri-weekly, per quarter 15 cts.; for semi-weekly, per quarter 10 cts.; for weekly, per quarter 5 cts.

Weekly newspapers (one copy only) sent by the publisher to actual subscribers within the county where printed and published, FREE.

Postage per quarter (to be paid quarterly or yearly in advance) on newspapers and periodicals issued less frequently than once a week, sent to actual subscribers in any part of the United States: Semi-monthly, not over 4 oz., 6 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 12 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 18 cts.; monthly, not over 4 oz., 3 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 6 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 9 cts.; quarterly, not over 4 oz., 1 cent; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 2 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 3 cts.

TRANSIENT MATTER.—Books not over 4 oz. in weight, to one address, 4 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 8 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 12 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 16 cts.

Circulars not exceeding three in number to one address, 2 cts.; over 3 and not over 6, 4 cts.; over 6 and not over 9, 6 cts.; over 9 and not exceeding 12, 8 cts.

On miscellaneous mailable matter, (embracing all pamphlets, occasional publications, transient newspapers, hand-bills and posters, book manuscripts and proof-sheets, whether corrected or not, maps, prints, engravings, sheet music, blanks, flexible patterns, samples, and sample cards, photographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes or wrappers, cards, paper, plain or ornamental, photographic representations of different types, seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions,) the postage to be prepaid by stamps, is on one package, to one address, not over 4 oz. in weight, 2 cts.; over 4 oz. and not over 8 oz., 4 cts.; over 8 oz. and not over 12 oz., 6 cts.; over 12 oz. and not over 16 oz., 8 cts. The weight of packages of seeds, cuttings, roots and scions, to be franked, is limited to thirty-two ounces.

[All printed matter (except single copies of newspapers, magazines, and periodicals to regular subscribers) sent via overland mail, is to be charged at LETTER POSTAGE rates.]

Any word or communication, whether by printing, writing, marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed matter, other than the name or address of the person to whom it is to be sent, and the date when the subscription expires, subjects the package to letter postage.

The recent postal treaty with Great Britain provides that besides letters and newspapers, "book packets," and "packets of patterns and samples," may be sent. Such packets—

1. Must contain no writing.
2. Must be fully prepaid (6 cents per 4 ounces from the U. S., or 3 pence sterling from Great Britain.)
3. Must be open at the ends to allow inspection.

Samples of merchandise must not be of intrinsic value.

Dutiable articles—books, music, &c., sent from Great Britain to the United States, must, in addition to the postage, pay the regular duties, which are—On books and engravings, 25 per cent.; music and photographs, 20 per cent.

If letters or articles sent to Italy are not prepaid, or are insufficiently paid, they will be charged with deficient postage, and subject to fine, on arrival at their destination.

Infallible Rules for Detecting Counterfeit or Spurious Bank Notes.

RULE 1st.—Examine the shading of the letters in title of Bank called LATHWORK, which in genuine notes presents an even, straight, light and silky appearance, generally so fine and smooth as to appear to be all in one solid, pale body. In the counterfeit the lines are coarse and irregular, and in many of the longer lines breaks will be perceived, thus presenting a very inferior finish in comparison to genuine work.

2d.—Observe the dies, circles and ovals in the genuine; they are composed of a network of lines, which, by crossing each other at certain angles, produce an endless variety of figures; SEE THE ONE CENT STAMP ATTACHED. The fine line alone is the unit which enables you to detect spurious work. In the counterfeit, the represented white lines are coarse, irregular, and cross each other in a confused, irregular manner, thus producing blurred and imperfect figures.

3d.—Examine the form and features of all human figures on the note. In the genuine, the texture of the skin is represented by fine dots and lines intermixed. In the eyes, the pupil is distinctly visible, and the white clearly seen; the nose, mouth and chin, well formed, natural and expressive; the lips are slightly pointing, and the chin well thrown out; and the delicate shading of the neck perfectly harmonizes with the rest of the figure. Observe the fingers and toes; they should be clearly and accurately defined. The hair of the head should show the fine strands and present a natural appearance. The folds of the drapery of human figures should lay natural and present a fine, finished appearance. In the counterfeit the female figure does not bear the natural prominence in outlines; observe, the eyes and shading surrounding does not present the lifelike appearance it should. The fingers and toes are not properly and proportionately defined; the hair does not bear that soft and finished appearance as in the genuine.

4th.—Examine the imprint or engraver's name in the evenness and shape of the fine letters. Counterfeits never bear the imprint perfect. This rule should be strictly observed, as it is infallible in detecting counterfeits.

5th.—In the genuine note the landscapes are well finished; trees and shrubs are neatly drawn; the limbs well proportioned, and the foliage presenting a fine natural appearance; clear sky is formed of fine parallel lines, and when clouds or heavy skies appear, they cross each other, and bear a soft, smooth and natural appearance. The perspective, showing a view of the surrounding country, is always clear and distinct. The small figures in the background are always plainly seen, and their outlines and general character recognized. Ships are well defined and the canvass has a clear texture; railroad cars are very accurately delineated; in examining a train observe carefully the car most distant. In the counterfeit the landscape is usually poorly executed; the leaves of trees poorly and unnaturally defined.—The lines representing still water are scratchy rather than parallel, the sky is represented generally in like manner, and where rolling clouds are to be seen, the unnatural effect is obvious. Domestic animals are generally poorly executed, particularly the head and limbs; the eyes are seldom clearly defined. Ships are poorly drawn, the texture of the canvass coarse and inferior in style of workmanship, thus giving an artificial appearance. Railroad cars are also poorly executed; the car farthest from the eye is usually the most imperfect. The perspective is always imperfect, the figures in the background can seldom be recognized.

6th.—Bills altered from a smaller to a higher denomination, can readily be detected by a close observer, in consequence of the striking difference between the parts which have been extracted and the rest of the note. This difference is readily perceived in the lack of color, body and finish of the dye; we have seen bills where the surrounding shading in altered dies was too dark, but from the back or finish of the white lines you have a sure test. Again observe particularly the words "Five" or "Ten Dollars" as the case may be, denoting the denomination of the note; the parallel outlines and shading (if any) are coarse and imperfect. Alterations are frequently made by pasting a greater denomination over a smaller, but by holding the bill up to the light, the fraud will be perceived. Another method resorted to is to cut out the figures in the dies as well as the words one dollar, or the words two or three as the case may be, and with a sharp craser, scrape down the ends and also the edges of the pieces to be inserted; when the pieces thus prepared are affixed they are hardly perceivable; but by passing the note through the hand, so as to feel the die both with the finger and thumb at the same time, the fraud will be detected by the stiffness of the outer edges, "occasioned by the gum or method adopted" in affixing the parts. The letter S should always be examined, as in many alterations it is pasted or stamped at the end of the word "dollar;" and even when stamped there, the carrying out of the outlines for its shading will readily show the fraud. Bills of broken banks are frequently altered by extracting the name of bank, state and town; they may readily be detected by observing first the state, second the title or name of the bank, third the town or location.

GENERAL REMARKS IN REFERENCE TO COUNTERFEITS.—The paper on which they are printed is generally of a very inferior quality, with less body, finish and toughness than bank note paper has. The ink generally lacks the rich luster of the genuine; the red letters and figures are generally imperfect, and the ink does not present the vermilion hue as it should. The printing is generally inferior, usually exhibiting specks of white in the most prominent letters. The date and filling up, and the President's and Cashier's names are generally written by the same person, although in many instances they present a different appearance. There are bills in circulation bearing either genuine dies or vignettes; but upon close examination you will be enabled to detect any spurious bill, whether counterfeit or altered, by the instructions here given, if persevered in for a short time. We beg to suggest, if time will admit, the learner should examine minutely every bill he receives. A powerful pocket magnifying glass, which can be purchased for from fifty cents to one dollar at any of the opticians, will greatly enable you to see and comprehend the difference between genuine and spurious work.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS.

What will my readers give to know how to get rich? Now, I will not vouch that the following rules will enable every person who may read them to acquire wealth; but this I will answer for, that if ever a man does grow rich by honest means, and retains his wealth for any length of time, he must practice upon the principles laid down in the following essay. The remarks are not original with me, but I strongly commend them to the attention of every young man, at least as affording the true secret of success in attaining wealth. A single perusal of such an essay at an impressive moment, has sometimes a very wonderful effect upon the disposition and character.

Fortune, they say, is a fickle dame—full of her freaks and caprices; who blindly distributes her favors without the slightest discrimination. So inconstant, so wavering is she represented, that her most faithful votaries can place no reliance on her promises. Disappointment, they tell us, is the lot of those who make offerings at her shrine. Now, all this is a vile slander upon the dear blind lady.

Although wealth often appears the result of mere accident, or a fortunate concurrence of favorable circumstances without any exertion of skill or foresight, yet any man of sound health and unimpaired mind may become wealthy, if he takes the proper steps.

Foremost in the list of requisites are honesty and strict integrity in every transaction of life. Let a man have the reputation of being fair and upright in his dealings, and he will possess the confidence of all who know him. Without these qualities every other merit will prove unavailing. Ask concerning a man, "Is he active and capable?" Yes. "Industrious, temperate and regular in his habits?"—Oh yes. "Is he honest? Is he trustworthy?" Why, as to that, I am sorry to say that he is not to be trusted; he needs watching; he is a little tricky, and will take an undue advantage, if he can. "Then I will have nothing to do with him," will be the invariable reply. Why, then, is honesty the best policy? Because, without it, you will get a bad name, and everybody will shun you.

A character for knavery will prove an insurmountable obstacle to success in almost every undertaking. It will be found that the straight line is, in business, as in geometry, the shortest. In a word, it is almost impossible for a dishonest man to acquire wealth by a regular process of business, because he is shunned as a depredator upon society.

Needy men are apt to deviate from the rule of integrity, under the plea that necessity knows no law; they might as well add that it knows no shame. The course is suicidal, and by destroying all confidence, ever keeps them immured in poverty, although they may possess every other quality for success in the world.

Functuality, which is said to be the soul of business, is another important element in the art of money getting. The man known to be scrupulously exact in the fulfilment of his engagements, gains the confidence of all, and may command all the means he can use with advantage; whereas, a man careless and regardless of his promises in money matters will have every purse closed against him. Therefore be prompt in your payments.

Next, let us consider the advantages of a cautious circumspection in our intercourse with the world. Slowness of belief and a proper distrust are essential to success. The credulous and confiding are ever the dupes of knaves and impostors. Ask those who have lost their property how it happened, and you will find in most cases that it has been owing to misplaced confidence. One has lost by endorsing, another by crediting, another by false representations; all of which a little more foresight and a little more distrust would have prevented. In the affairs of this world men are not saved by faith, but by the want of it.

Judge of men by what they do, not by what they say. Believe in looks rather than words. Observe all their movements. Ascertain their motives and their ends. Notice what they say or do in their unguarded moments, when under the influence of excitement. The passions have been compared to tortures which force men to reveal their secrets. Before trusting a man, before putting it in his power to cause you a loss, possess yourself of every available information relative to him. Learn his history, his habits, inclinations and propensities; his reputation for honor, industry, frugality and punctuality; his prospects, resources, supports, advantages and disadvantages; his intentions and motives of action; who are his friends and enemies, and what are his good or bad qualities. You may learn a man's good qualities and advantages from his friends—his bad qualities and disadvantages from his enemies. Make due allowance for exaggeration in both. Finally, examine carefully before engaging in anything, and act with energy afterwards. Have the hundred eyes of Argus beforehand, and the hundred hands of Briarins afterwards.

Order and system in the management of business must not be neglected. Nothing contributes more to dispatch. Have a place for everything and everything in its place; a time for everything, and everything in its time. Do first what presses most, and having determined what is to be done, and how it is to be done, lose no time in doing it. Without this method all is hurry and confusion, little or nothing is accomplished, and business is attended to with neither pleasure nor profit.

A polite, affable deportment is recommended. Agreeable manners contribute powerfully to a man's success. Take two men, possessing equal advantages in every other respect, but let one be gentlemanly, kind, obliging and conciliating in his manners; the other harsh, rude and disobliging; and the one will become rich, while the other will starve.

We are now to consider a very important principle in the business of money-getting, namely—Industry—persevering, indefatigable attention to business. Persevering diligence is the Philosopher's stone, which turns everything to gold. Constant, regular, habitual and systematic application to business, must in time, if properly directed, produce great results. It must lead to wealth, with the same certainty that poverty follows in the train of idleness and inattention. It has been truly remarked that he who follows his amusements instead of his business, will, in a short time, have no business to follow.

The art of money-saving is an important part of the art of money-getting. Without frugality no one can become rich; with it, few would be poor. Those who consume as fast as they produce, are on the road to ruin. As most of the poverty we meet with grows out of idleness and extravagance, so most large fortunes have been the result of habitual industry and frugality. The practice of economy is as necessary in the expenditure of time as of money. They say if "we take care of the pence the pounds will take care of themselves." So, if we take care of the minutes, the days will take care of themselves.

The acquisition of wealth demands as much self-denial, and as many sacrifices of present gratification, as the practice of virtue itself. Vice and poverty proceed, in some degree, from the same sources, namely—the disposition to sacrifice the future to the present; the inability to forego a small present pleasure for great future advantages. Men full of fortune in this world, as they fall of happiness in the world to come, simply because they are unwilling to deny themselves momentary enjoyments for the sake of permanent future happiness.

Every large city is filled with persons, who, in order to support the appearance of wealth, constantly live beyond their income, and make up the deficiency by contracting debts which are never paid. Others, there are, the mere drones of society, who pass their days in idleness, and subsist by pirating on the hives of the industrious. Many who run a short-lived career of splendid beggary, could they be but persuaded to adopt a system of rigid economy for a few years, might pass the remainder of their days in affluence. But no! They must keep up appearances, they must live like other folks.

Their debts accumulate; their credit fails; they are harassed by duns, and besieged by constables and sheriff. In this extremity, as a last resort, they submit to a shameful dependence, or engage in criminal practices which entail hopeless wretchedness and infamy on themselves and families.

Stick to the business in which you are regularly employed. Let speculators make thousands in a year or a day; mind your own regular trade, never turning from it to the right hand or to the left. If you are a merchant, a professional man, or a mechanic, never buy lots or stocks, unless you have surplus money which you wish to invest. Your own business you understand as well as other men; but other people's business you do not understand. Let your business be some one which is useful to the community. All such occupations possess the elements of profit in themselves.

How to Secure the Public Lands,

OR THE ENTRY OF THE SAME UNDER THE PRE-EMPTION AND HOMESTEAD LAWS.

The following circular gives all necessary information as to the procedure necessary in purchasing and securing the public lands:

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR,
GEN'L LAND OFFICE, July 19, 1895.

Numerous questions having arisen as to the mode of procedure to purchase public lands, or acquire title to the same by bounty land locations, by pre-emption or by homestead, this circular is communicated for the information of all concerned.

In order to acquire title to public lands the following steps must be taken:

1. Application must be made to the Register of the district land office in which the land desired may be situated.

A list of all the land offices in the United States is furnished by the Department, with the seats of the different offices, where it is the duty of the Register and Receiver to be in attendance, and give proper facilities and information to persons desirous of obtaining lands.

The minimum price of ordinary public lands is $1.25 per acre. The even or reserved sections falling within railroad grants are increased to double the minimum price, being $2.50 per acre.

Lands once offered at public sale, and not afterwards kept out of market by reservation, or otherwise, so as to prevent free competition, may be entered or located.

2. By the applicant filing with the Register his written application describing the tract, with its area; the Register will then certify to the receiver whether the land is vacant, with its price; and when found to be so, the applicant must pay that price per acre, or may locate the same with land warrant, and thereafter the Receiver will give him a "duplicate receipt," which he is required to surrender previous to the delivery to him of the patent, which may be had either by application for it to the Register or to the General Land Office.

3. If the tract has not been offered at public sale it is not liable to ordinary private entry, but may be secured by a party legally qualified, upon his compliance with the requirements of the pre-emption laws of 4th September, 1841, and 8d March, 1843; and after such party shall have made actual settlement for such a length of time as will show he designs it for his permanent home, and is acting in good faith, building a house and residing therein, he may proceed to the district land office, establish his pre-emption claim according to law, by proving his actual residence and cultivation, and showing that he is otherwise within the purview of these acts.—Then he can enter the land at $1.25, either in cash or with bounty land warrant, unless the premises should be $2.50 acre lands. In that case the whole purchase-money can be paid in cash, or one-half in cash, the residue with a bounty land warrant.

4. But if parties legally qualified desire to obtain title under the Homestead Act of 20th May, 1862, they can do so on complying with the Department Circular, dated 30th October, 1862.

6. The law confines Homestead entries to surveyed lands; and although, in certain States and Territories noted in the subjoined list, pre-emptors may go on land before survey, yet they can only establish their claim after return of survey, but must file their pre-emption declaration within three months after receipt of official plat, at the local land-office where the settlement was made before survey. Where, however, it was made after survey, the claimant must file within three months after date of settlement; and where actual residence and cultivation have been long enough to show that the claimant has made the land his permanent home, he can establish his claim and pay for the same at any time before the date of the public sale of lands within the range in which his settlement may fall.

6. All unoffered surveyed lands not acquired under pre-emption, homestead, or otherwise, under express legal sanction, must be offered at public sale under the President's Proclamation, and struck off to the highest bidder, as required by act of April 24, 1830.

J. M. EDMUNDS,
Commissioner General Land Office.

LAW MAXIMS.

1. A promise of a debtor to give "satisfactory security" for the payment of a portion of his debt, is a sufficient consideration for a release of the residue by his creditor.

2. Administrators are liable to account for interest on funds in their hands, although no profit shall have been made upon them, unless the exigencies of the estate rendered it prudent that they should hold the funds thus uninvested.

3. Any person who voluntarily becomes an agent for another, and in that capacity obtains information to which as a stranger he could have had no access, is bound in subsequent dealing with his principal, as purchaser of the property that formed the subject of his agency, to communicate such information.

4. When a house is rendered untenable in consequence of improvements made on the adjoining lot, the owner of such cannot recover damages, because it is presumed that he had knowledge of the approaching danger in time to protect himself from it.

5. When a merchant ship is abandoned by order of the master, for the purpose of saving life, and a part of the crew subsequently meet the vessel so abandoned and bring her safe into port, they will be entitled to salvage.

6. A person who has been led to sell goods by means of false pretenses, cannot recover them from one who has purchased them in good faith from the fraudulent vendor.

7. An agreement by the holder of a note to give the principal debtor time for payment, without depriving himself of the right to sue, does not discharge the surety.

8. A seller of goods who accepts, at the time of sale, the note of a third party, not endorsed by the buyer, in payment, cannot in case the note is not paid, hold the buyer responsible for the value of the goods.

9. A day-book copied from a "blotter" in which charges are first made, will not be received in evidence as a book of original entries.

10. Common carriers are not liable for extraordinary results of negligence that could not have been foreseen by ordinary skill and foresight.

11. A bidder at a Sheriff's sale may retract his bid at any time before the property is knocked down to him, whatever may be the conditions of the sale.

12. Acknowledgment of debt to a stranger does not preclude the operation of the statute.

13. The fruits and grass on the farm or garden of an intestate descend to the heir.

14. Agents are solely liable to their principals.

15. A deposit of money in bank by a husband, in the name of his wife, survives to her.

16. Money paid on Sunday contracts may be recovered.

17. A debtor may give preference to one creditor over another, unless fraud or special legislation can be proved.

18. A court cannot give judgment for a larger sum than that specified in the verdict.

19. Imbecility on the part of either husband or wife, invalidates the marriage.

20. An action for malicious prosecution will lie, though nothing further was done than suing out warrants.

21. An agreement not to continue the practice of a profession or business in any specified town, if the party so agreeing has received a consideration for the same, is valid.

22. When A consigns goods to B to sell on commission, and B delivers them to C, in payment of his own antecedent debts, A can recover their value.

23. A finder of property is compelled to make diligent inquiry for the owner thereof, and to restore the same. If, on finding such property, he attempts to conceal such fact, he may be prosecuted for larceny.

24. A private person may obtain an injunction to prevent a public mischief by which he is affected in common with others.

25. Any person interested may obtain an injunction to restrain the State or a municipal corporation from maintaining a nuisance on its lands.

26. A discharge under the insolvent laws of one State will not discharge the insolvent from a contract made with a citizen of another State.

27. To prosecute a party with any other motive than to bring him to justice, is malicious prosecution, and actionable as such.

28. Ministers of the gospel, residing in any incorporated town, are not exempt from jury, military, or fire service.

29. When a person contracts to build a house, and is prevented by sickness from finishing it, he can recover for the part performed, if such part is beneficial to the other party.

30. In a suit for enticing away a man's wife, actual proof of the marriage is not necessary. Cohabitation, reputation, and the admission of marriage by the parties, are sufficient.

31. Permanent erections and fixtures, made by a mortgagor after the execution of the mortgage upon land conveyed by it, become a part of the mortgaged premises.

32. When a marriage is denied, and plaintiff has given sufficient evidence to establish it, the defendant cannot examine the wife to disprove the marriage.

33. The amount of an express debt cannot be enlarged by application.

34. Contracts for advertisements in Sunday newspapers cannot be enforced.

35. A seller of goods, chattels, or other property, commits no fraud, in law, when he neglects to tell the purchaser of any flaws, defects, or unsoundness in the same.

36. The opinions of witnesses, as to the value of a dog that has been killed, are not admissible in evidence. The value of the animal is to be decided by the jury.

37. If any person puts a fence on or plows the land of another, he is liable for trespass whether the owner has sustained injury or not.

38. If a person, who is unable from illness to sign his will, has his hand guided in making his mark, the signature is valid.

39. When land trespassed upon is occupied by a tenant, he alone can bring the action.

40. To say of a person, "If he does not come and make terms with me, I will make a bankrupt of him and ruin him," or any such threatening language, is actionable, without proof of special damage.

41. In an action for slander, the party making the complaint must prove the words alleged; other words of like meaning will not suffice.

42. In a suit of damages for seduction, proof of pregnancy, and the birth of a child, is not essential. It is sufficient if the illness of the girl, whereby she was unable to labor, was produced by shame for the seduction; and this is such a loss of service as will sustain the action.

43. Addressing to a wife a letter containing matter defamatory to the character of her husband is a publication, and renders the writer amenable to damages.

44. A parent cannot sustain an action for any wrong done to a child, unless he has incurred some direct pecuniary injury therefrom in consequence of some loss of service or expenses necessarily consequent thereupon.

45. A master is responsible for an injury resulting from the negligence of his servant, whilst driving his cart or carriage, provided the servant is at the time engaged in his master's business, even though the accident happens in a place to which his master's business does not call him; but if the journey of a servant be solely for a purpose of his own, and undertaken without the knowledge and consent of his master, the latter is not responsible.

46. An emigrant depot is not a nuisance in law.

47. A railroad track through the streets is not a nuisance in law.

48. In an action for libel against a newspaper, extracts from such newspaper may be given to show its circulation, and the extent to which the libel has been published. The jury, in estimating the damages, are to look at the character of the libel, and whether the defendant is rich or poor. The plaintiff is entitled, in all cases, to his actual damages, and should be compensated for the mental sufferings endured, the public disgrace inflicted, and all actual discomfort produced.

49. Delivery of a husband's goods by a wife to her adulterer, he having knowledge that she has taken them without her husband's authority, is sufficient to sustain an indictment for larceny against the adulterer.

50. The fact that the insurer was not informed of the existence of impending litigation, affecting the premises insured, at the time the insurance was effected, does not vitiate the policy.

51. The liability of an innkeeper is not confined to personal baggage, but extends to all the property of the guest that he consents to receive.

52. When a minor executes a contract, and pays money, or delivers property on the same, he cannot afterwards disaffirm such contract and recover the money, or property, unless he restores to the other party the consideration received from him for such money or property.

53. When a person has, by legal inquisition been found an habitual drunkard, he cannot, even in his sober intervals, make contracts to bind himself or his property, until the inquisition is removed.

54. Any person dealing with the representative of a deceased person, is presumed, in law, to be fully apprized of the extent of such representative's authority to act in behalf of such estate.

55. In an action against a railroad company, by a passenger, to recover damages for injuries sustained on the road, it is not compulsory upon the plaintiff to prove actual negligence in the defendants; but it is obligatory on the part of the latter to prove that the injury was not owing to any fault or negligence of theirs.

56. A guest is a competent witness, in an action between himself and an inn-keeper, to prove the character and value of lost personal baggage. Money in a trunk, not exceeding the amount reasonably required by the traveler to defray the expenses of the journey which he has undertaken, is a part of his baggage; and in case of its loss, while at any inn, the plaintiff may prove its amount by his own testimony.

57. The deed of a minor is not absolutely void. The court is authorized to judge, from the instrument, whether it is void or not, according to its terms being favorable or unfavorable to the interests of the minor.

58. A married woman can neither sue nor be sued on any contract made by her during her marriage, except in an action relating to her individual property. The action must be commenced either by or against her husband. It is only when an action is brought on a contract made by her before her marriage, that she is to be joined as a co-plaintiff, or defendant, with her husband.

59. Any contract made with a person judicially declared a lunatic is void.

60. Money paid voluntarily in any transaction, with a knowledge of the facts, cannot be recovered.

61. In all cases of special contract for services, except in the case of a minor, the plaintiff can recover only the amount stipulated in the contract.

62. A wife is a competent witness with her husband, to prove the contents of a lost trunk, or when a party.

63. A wife cannot be convicted of receiving stolen goods when she received them of her husband.

64. Insurance against fire, by lightning or otherwise, does not cover loss by lightning when there is no combustion.

65. Failure to prove plea of justification, in a case of slander, aggravates the offence.

66. It is the agreement of the parties to sell by sample that constitutes a sale by sample, not the mere exhibition of a specimen of the goods.

67. An agent is liable to his principals for loss caused by his misstatements, tho' unintentional.

68. Makers of promissory notes given in advance for premiums on policies of insurance, thereafter to be taken, are liable thereon.

69. An agreement to pay for procuring an appointment to office is void.

70. An attorney may plead the statute of limitations, when sued by a client for money which he has collected and failed to pay over.

71. Testimony given by a deceased witness on first trial, is not required to be repeated verbatim on the second.

72. A person entitling himself to a reward offered for lost property, has a lien upon the property for the reward; but only when a definite reward is offered.

73. Confession by a prisoner must be voluntarily made, to constitute evidence against him.

74. The defendant in a suit must be served with process; but service of such process upon his wife, even in his absence from the State, is not, in the absence of statutory provisions, sufficient.

75. The measure of damages in trespass for cutting timber, is its value as a chattel on the land where it was felled, and not the market price of the lumber manufactured.

76. To support an indictment for malicious mischief in killing an animal, malice towards its owner must be shown, not merely passion excited against the animal itself.

77. No action can be maintained against a sheriff for omitting to account for money obtained upon an execution within a reasonable time. He has till the return day to render such account.

78. An interest in the profits of an enterprise, as profits, renders the party holding it a partner in the enterprise, and makes him presumptively liable to share any loss.

79. Males can marry at fourteen, and females at twelve years of age.

80. All cattle found at large upon any public road, can be driven by any person to the public pound.

81. Any dog chasing, barking, or otherwise threatening a passer-by in any street, lane, road, or other public thoroughfare, may be lawfully killed for the same.

82. A written promise for the payment of such amount as may come into the hands of the promisor, is held to be an instrument in writing for the payment of money.

83. The declaration of an agent is not admissible to establish the fact of agency.—But when other proper evidence is given, tending to establish the fact of agency, it is not error to admit the declarations of the agent, accompanying acts, though tending to show the capacity in which he acted. When evidence is competent in one respect and incompetent in another, it is the duty of the court to admit it, and control its effects by suitable instructions to the jury.

84. The court has a general power to remove or suspend an attorney for such immoral conduct as rendered him unworthy of confidence in his official capacity.

85. Bankruptcy is pleadable in bar to all actions and in all courts, and this bar may be avoided whenever it is interposed, by showing fraud in the procurement of the discharge, or a violation of any of the provisions of the bankrupt act.

86. An instrument in the form of a deed, but limited to take effect at the termination of the grantor's natural life, is held to be a deed, not a will.

87. A sale will not be set aside as fraudulent, simply because the buyer was at the time unable to make the payment agreed upon, and knew his inability, and did not intend to pay.

88. No man is under an obligation to make known his circumstances when he is buying goods.

89. Contracting parties are bound to disclose material facts known to each, but of which either supposes the other to be ignorant, only when they stand in some special relation of trust and confidence in relation to the subject matter of the contract. But neither will be protected if he does anything, however slight, to mislead or deceive the other.

90. A contract negotiated by mail is formed when notice of acceptance of the offer is duly deposited in the post-office, properly addressed. This rule applies, although the party making the offer expressly requires that if it is accepted, speedy notice of acceptance shall be given him.

91. The date of an instrument is so far a material part of it, that an alteration of the date by the holder after execution, makes the instrument void.

92. A corporation may maintain an action for libel, for words published of them and relating to its trade or business, by which it has incurred special damages.

93. It is unprofessional for a lawyer who has abandoned his case without trying it, a term or two before trial, to claim a fee conditional upon the success of his client, although his client was successful.

94. Although a party obtaining damages for injuries received through the default of another, was himself guilty of negligence, yet that will not defeat his recovery, unless his negligence contributed to cause the injury.

95. A person may contract to labor for another during life, in consideration of receiving his support; but his creditors have the right to inquire into the intention with which such arrangement is made, and it will be set aside if entered into to deprive them of his future earnings.

96. A grantor may by express terms exclude the bed of a river, or a highway, mentioned as boundary; but if without language of exclusion a line is described as 'along,' or 'upon,' or as 'running to' the highway or river, or as 'by,' or 'running to the bank of' the river; these expressions carry the grantee to the center of the highway or river.

97. The court will take pains to construe the words used in a deed in such a way as to effect the intention of the parties, however unskillfully the instrument may be drawn. But a court of law cannot exchange an intelligible word plainly employed in a deed for another, however evident it may be that the word used was used by mistake for another.

98. One who has lost his memory and understanding is entitled to legal protection, whether such loss is occasioned by his own misconduct or by an act of Providence.

99. When a wife leaves her husband voluntarily, it must be shown, in order to make him liable for necessities furnished to her, that she could not stay with safety. Personal violence, either threatened or inflicted, will be sufficient cause for such separation.

100. Necessaries of dress furnished to a discarded wife must correspond with the pecuniary circumstances of the husband, and be such articles as the wife, if prudent, would expect, and the husband should furnish, if the parties lived harmoniously together.

101. A fugitive from justice from one of the United States to another, may be arrested and detained in order to his surrender by authority of the latter, without a previous demand for his surrender by the executive of the State whence he fled.

102. A watch will not pass under a bequest of "wearing apparel," nor of "household furniture and articles for family use."

103. Money paid for the purpose of settling or compounding a prosecution for a supposed felony, cannot be recovered back by a party paying it.

104. An innkeeper is liable for the death of an animal in his possession, but may free himself from liability by showing that the death was not occasioned by negligence on his part.

105. Notice to the agent of a company is notice to the company.

106. An employer is not liable to one of his employees for an injury sustained by the latter in consequence of the neglect of others of his employees engaged in the same general business.

107. Where a purchaser at a Sheriff's sale has bid the full price of property under the erroneous belief that the sale would divest the property of all liens, it is the duty of the court to give relief by setting aside the sale.

108. When notice of protest is properly sent by mail, it may be sent by the mail of the day of the dishonor; if not, it must be mailed for the mail of the next day; except that if there is none, or it closes at an unseasonably early hour, then notice must be mailed in season for the next possible mail.

109. A powder-house located in a populous part of a city, and containing large quantities of gunpowder, is a nuisance.

110. When the seller of goods accepts at the time of the sale, the note of a third person, undorsed by the purchaser, in payment, the presumption is that the payment was intended to be absolute; and though the note should be dishonored, the purchaser will not be liable for the value of the goods.

111. A man charged with crime before a committing magistrate, but discharged on his own recognizance, is not privileged from arrest on civil process while returning from the magistrate's office.

112. When one has been induced to sell goods by means of false pretences, he cannot recover them from one who has bona fide purchased and obtained possession of them from the fraudulent vendor.

113. If the circumstances attendant upon a sale and delivery of personal property are such as usually and naturally accompany such a transaction, it cannot be declared a legal fraud upon creditors.

114. A stamp impressed upon an instrument by way of seal, is good as a seal, if it creates a durable impression in the texture of the paper.

115. If a party bound to make a payment use due diligence to make a tender, but through the payee's absence from home is unable to find him or any agent authorized to take payment for him, no forfeiture will be incurred through his failure to make a tender.

Government Land Measure.

A township, 36 sections, each a mile square.

A section, 640 acres.

A quarter section, half a mile square, 160 acres.

An eighth section, half a mile long, north and south, and a quarter of a mile wide, 80 acres.

A sixteenth section, a quarter of a mile square, 40 acres.

The sections are numbered from one to thirty-six, commencing at the northeast corner, thus:

6	5	4	3	2	n w n e
7	8	9	10	11	12
18	17	16	15	14	13
19	20	21	22	23	24
30	29	28	27	26	25
31	32	33	34	35	36

The sections are all divided in quarters, which are named by the cardinal points, as in section one. The quarters are divided in the same way. The description of a 40 acre lot would read: The south half of the west half of the southwest quarter of section 1 in township 24, north of range 7 west, or as the case might be; and sometimes will fall short, and sometimes overrun the number of acres it is supposed to contain.

THE DECIMAL SYSTEM OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

As Authorized by Act of Congress--Approved July 28, 1866.

STANDARDS.

In every system of Weights and Measures it is necessary to have what are called "Standards," as the pound, yard, gallon, &c., to be divided and multiplied into smaller and larger parts and denominations. The definition and construction of these Standards involve philosophical and scientific principles of a somewhat abstruse character, and are made and procured by the legislative department of the government. The nominal Standards in the new system are the METER, the ARE, the LITER, and the GRAM. The only real Standard, the one by which all the other standards are measured, and from which the system derives its name of "Metric," is the METER.

THE METER

Is used for all measures of length, distance, breadth, depth, height, &c., and was intended to be, and is very nearly, one ten-millionth of the distance on the earth's surface from the equator to the pole. It is about 39 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches, or 3 feet, 3 inches and 3 eighths, and is to be substituted for the yard.

THE ARE

Is a surface whose side is ten Meters, and is equal to 100 square Meters or about 4 square rods.

THE LITER

Is the unit for measuring solids and capacity, and is equal to the contents of a cube whose edge is one-tenth of a meter. It is about equal to 1 quart, and is a standard in cubic, dry and liquid measures.

 A cubic Meter (or Kiloliter) is called a stere, and is also used as a standard in certain cubic measures.

THE GRAM

Is the Unit of weight, and is the weight of a cube of pure water, each edge of the cube being one one-hundredth of a Meter. It is about equal to 15 $\frac{1}{2}$ grains. It is intended as the Standard in all weights, and with its divisions and multiples, to supersede the use of what are now called Avoirdupois, Apothecaries and Troy Weights.

Each of the foregoing Standards is divided decimally, and larger units are also formed by multiples of 10, 100, &c. The successive subordinate parts are designated by the prefixes Deci, Centi and Milli; the successive multiples by Deka, Hecto, Kilo and Myria; each having its own numerical signification, as will be more clearly seen in the tables hereinafter given.

The terms used may, at first sight, have a formidable appearance, seem difficult to pronounce, and to retain in memory, and to be, therefore, objectionable; but with a little attention and use, the apprehended difficulty will be found more apparent than real, as has been abundantly proved by experience. The importance, also, of conformity in the use of commercial terms, on the part of the United States, with the practice of the many nations in which the system, with its present nomenclature, has already been adopted, must greatly overbalance the comparatively slight objection alluded to.

Acts and Resolutions of Congress.

PUBLIC—No. 183.

AN ACT to authorize the use of the metric system of weights and measures.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That from and after the passage of this act, it shall be lawful throughout the United States of America to employ the weights and measures of the metric system; and no contract or dealing, or pleading in any court, shall be deemed invalid or liable to objection, because the weights or measures expressed or referred to therein are weights or measures of the metric system.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the tables in the schedule hereto annexed, shall be recognized in the construction of contracts, and in all legal proceedings, as establishing, in terms of the weights and measures now in use in the United States, the equivalents of the weights and measures expressed therein in terms of the metric system; and said tables may be lawfully used for computing, determining and expressing, in customary weights and measures, the weights and measures of the metric system.

Discount and Premium.

When a person buys an article for $1.00—20 per cent off, (or discount,) and sells it again for $1.00, he makes a profit of 25 per cent on his investment. Thus: He pays 80 cents and sells for $1.00—a gain of 20 cents, or 25 per cent of 80 cents. And for any transaction where the sale or purchase of gold, silver, or currency is concerned, the following rules will apply in all cases.

Rule 1st.—To find premium when discount is given: Multiply 100 by rate of discount and divide by 100, less rate of discount.

Rule 2d.—To find discount when premium is given. Multiply the rate of interest by 100, and divide by 100, plus the rate of premium.

Suppose A has $140 in currency, which he wishes to exchange for gold, when gold is 27 per cent premium, how much gold should he receive? In this case the premium is given, consequently we must find the discount on A's currency and subtract it from the $140, as per rule 2d, showing the discount to be a trifle more than 21 per cent, and that he should receive $110.60 in gold.

Facts on Advertising.

The advertisements in an ordinary number of the London Times exceed 2,500. The annual advertising bills of one London firm are said to amount to $200,000; and three others are mentioned who each annually expend for the purpose $50,000. The expense for advertising the eight editions of the "Encyclopædia Britannica" is said to have been $15,000.

In large cities nothing is more common than to see large business establishments, which seem to have an immense advantage over all competitors, by the wealth, experience, and prestige they have acquired, drop gradually out of public view, and be succeeded by firms of a smaller capital, more energy, and more determined to have the fact that they sell such and such commodities known from one end of the land to the other. In other words, the establishments advertise; the old die of dignity.—The former are ravenous to pass out of obscurity into publicity; the latter believe that their publicity is so obvious that it cannot be obscured. The first understand that they must thrust themselves upon public attention, or be disregarded; the second, having once obtained public attention, suppose they have arrested it permanently; while, in fact, nothing is more characteristic of the world than the ease with which it forgets.

Stephen Girard, than whom no shrewder business man ever lived, used to say: I have always considered advertising liberally and long to be the great medium of success in business, and the prelude to wealth. And I have made it an invariable rule too, to advertise in the duldest times as well as the busiest; long experience having taught me that money thus spent is well laid out; as by keeping my business continually before the public it has secured me many sales that I would otherwise have lost.

Brilliant Whitewash.

Many have heard of the brilliant stucco whitewash on the east end of the President's house at Washington. The following is a recipe for it; it is gleaned from the National Intelligencer, with some additional improvements learned by experiments: Take half a bushel of nice un-slacked lime, slack it with boiling water, cover it during the process to keep in the steam. Strain the liquid through a fine sieve or strainer, and add to it a peck of salt, previously well dissolved in warm water; three pounds of ground rice, boiled to a thin paste, and stirred in boiling hot; half a pound of powdered Spanish whiting, and a pound of clean glue, which has been previously dissolved by soaking it well, and then hanging it over a slow fire, in a small kettle within a large one filled with water. Add five gallons of hot water to the mixture, stir it well, and let it stand a few days covered from the dirt.

It should be put on right hot; for this purpose it can be kept in a kettle on a portable furnace. It is said that about a pint of this mixture will cover a square yard upon the outside of a house if properly applied. Brushes more or less small may be used according to the neatness of the job required. It answers as well as oil paint for wood, brick or stone, and is cheaper. It retains its brilliancy for many years. There is nothing of the kind that will compare with it, either for inside or outside walls.

Coloring matter may be put in and made of any shade you like. Spanish brown stirred in will make red pink, more or less deep according to the quantity. A delicate tinge of this is very pretty, for inside walls. Finely pulverized common clay, well mixed with Spanish brown, makes a reddish stone color. Yellow-ochre stirred in makes yellow wash, but chrome goes farther, and makes a color generally esteemed prettier. In all these cases the darkness of the shades of course is determined by the quantity of coloring used. It is difficult to make rules, because tastes are different. It would be best to try experiments on a shingle and let it dry. We have been told that green must not be mixed with lime. The lime destroys the color, and the color has an effect on the whitewash, which makes it crack and peel. When walls have been badly smoked, and you wish to have them a clean white, it is well to squeeze indigo plentifully through a bag into the water you use, before it is stirred in the whole mixture. If a larger quantity than five gallons be wanted, the same proportion should be observed.

How to get a Horse out of a Fire.

The great difficulty of getting horses from a stable where surrounding buildings are in a state of conflagration, is well known.—The plan of covering their eyes with a blanket will not always succeed.

A gentleman whose horses have been in great peril from such a cause, having tried in vain to save them, hit upon the expedient of having them harnessed as though going to their usual work; when, to his astonishment, they were led from the stable without difficulty.

The Chemical Barometer.

Take a long narrow bottle, such as an old-fashioned Eau-de-Cologne bottle, and put into it two and a half drachms of camphor, and eleven drachms of spirits of wine; when the camphor is dissolved, which it will readily do by slight agitation, add the following mixture: Take, water, nine drachms; nitrate of potash (saltpetre) thirty-eight grains; and muriate of ammonia (sal ammoniac) thirty-eight grains. Dissolve these salts in the water prior to mixing with the camphorated spirit; then shake the whole well together. Cork the bottle well, and wax the top, but afterwards make a very small aperture in the cork with a red-hot needle. The bottle may then be hung up, or placed in any stationary position. By observing the different appearances which the materials assume, as the weather changes, it becomes an excellent prognosticator of a coming storm or of a sunny sky.

Leech Barometer.

Take an eight ounce phial, and put in it three gills of water, and place in it a healthy leech, changing the water in summer once a week, and in winter once in a fortnight, and it will most accurately prognosticate the weather. If the weather is to be fine, the leech lies motionless at the bottom of the glass and coiled together in a spiral form; if rain may be expected, it will creep up to the top of its lodgings and remain there till the weather is settled; if we are to have wind, it will move through its habitation with amazing swiftness, and seldom goes to rest till it begins to blow hard; if a remarkable storm of thunder and rain is to succeed, it will lodge for some days before almost continually out of the water, and discover great uneasiness in violent throes and convulsive-like motions; in frost as in clear summer-like weather it lies constantly at the bottom; and in snow as in rainy weather it pitches its dwelling in the very mouth of the phial. The top should be covered over with a piece of muslin.

TO MEASURE GRAIN IN A BIN.—Find the number of cubic feet, from which deduct one-fifth. The remainder is the number of bushels—allowing, however, one bushel extra to every 224. Thus in a remainder of 224 there would be 225 bushels. In a remainder of 448 there would be 450 bushels, &c.

Habits of a Man of Business.

A sacred regard to the principles of justice forms the basis of every transaction, and regulates the conduct of the upright man of business.

He is strict in keeping his engagements.

Does nothing carelessly or in a hurry.

Employs no one to do what he can easily do himself.

Keeps everything in its proper place.

Leaves nothing undone that ought to be done, and which circumstances permit him to do.

Keeps his designs and business from the view of others.

Is prompt and decisive with his customers, and does not overtrade his capital.

Prefers short credits to long ones, and cash to credit at all times, either in buying or selling; and small profits in credit cases, with little risk to the chance of better gains with more hazard.

He is clear and explicit in all his bargains.

Leaves nothing of consequence to memory which he can and ought to commit to writing.

Keeps copies of all his important letters which he sends away, and has every letter, invoice, &c., relating to his business, titled, classed, and put away.

Never suffers his desk to be confused by many papers lying upon it.

Is always at the head of his business, well knowing that if he leaves it it will leave him.

Holds it as a maxim that he whose credit is suspected is not one to be trusted.

Is constantly examining his books, and sees through his whole affairs as far as care and attention will enable him.

Balances regularly at stated times, and then makes out and transmits all his accounts current to his customers, both at home and abroad.

Avoids as much as possible all sorts of accommodation in money matters and lawsuits where there is the least hazard.

He is economical in his expenditures, always living within his income.

Keeps a memorandum book in his pocket, in which he notes every particular relative to appointments, addresses, and petty cash matters.

Is cautious how he becomes surety for any person; and is generous when urged by motives of humanity.

Let a man act strictly to these habits; when once begun they will be easy to continue—ever remembering that he hath no profits by his pains whom Providence doth not prosper—and success will attend his efforts.

Take pleasure in your business, and it will become your recreation.

Hope for the best, think for the worst, and bear whatever happens.

G

A STORY WITH A MORAL.—A Connecticut exchange tells the following story of a boy who was sent from Croton, Conn., to New London, one day last summer, with a bag of corn. The boy was gone all day, and returned with the bag unopened, which he dumped on the floor. Said he—

"There is your corn, go and sell it, for I can't."

"Sold any?"

"No; I've been all over London with it, and nobody said a word concerning green corn. Two or three fellows asked me what I had in my bag, and I told 'em it was none of their business what it was."

The boy is not unlike hundreds of merchants who will promptly call him a fool for not telling what he had to sell, and who are actually doing the same thing on a much larger scale than did the boy, by not advertising their business.

TO THOSE WHO WRITE FOR THE PRESS.

It would be a great favor to editors and printers, should those who write for the Press observe the following rules. They are reasonable, and our correspondents will regard them as such:—1. Write with black ink on white paper, wide ruled. 2. Make the pages small, one-fourth that of a foolscap sheet. 3. Leave the second page of each sheet blank. 4. Give to the written page an ample margin all around. 5. Number the pages in the order of their succession. 6. Write in a plain bold hand, with less respect to beauty. 7. Use no abbreviations which are not to appear in print. 8. Punctuate the manuscript as it should be printed. 9. For italics underscore one line; for small capitals two; for capitals three. 10. Never interline without the editor to show its place. 11. Take special pains with every letter in proper names. 12. Review every word to be sure that none is illoquable. 13. Put directions to the printer at the head of the first page. 14. Never write a private letter to the editor on the printer's copy, but always on a separate sheet.

CASH AND CREDIT.—If you would get rich don't deal in bill books. Credit is the "tempter in a new shape." Buy goods on trust, and you will buy a thousand articles that Cash would never have dreamed of. A shilling in the hand looks larger than ten shillings seen through the perspective of a three months bill. Cash is practical, while Credit takes horribly to taste and romance. Let Cash buy a dinner, and you will have beef-steak flanked with onions. Send Credit to market, and he will return with eight pair of woodcocks and a peck of mushrooms.—Credit believes in diamond pins and champagne suppers. Cash is more easily satisfied. Give him three meals a day, and he don't care much if two of them are made up of roasted potatoes and a little dirty salt.—Cash is a good adviser, while Credit is a good fellow to be on visiting terms with. If you want double chins and contentment, do business with cash.

VALUABLE RECIPES.

[The following recipes are vouched for by several who have tried them and proven their virtues. Many of them have been sold singly for more than the price of this book.—PUB.]

HORSES.

RING BONE AND SPAVIN.—2 oz. each of Spanish flies and Venice turpentine; 1 oz. each of aqua ammonia and euphorbium; $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. red precipitate; $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. corrosive sublimate; 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. lard. When thoroughly pulverized and mixed, heat carefully so as not to burn, and pour off free from sediment.

For ring-bone, rub in thoroughly, after removing hair, once in 48 hours. For spavin, once in 24 hours. Cleanse and press out the matter on each application.

POLL-EVIL.—Gum arabic $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.; common potash $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.; extract of belladonna $\frac{1}{2}$ dr. Put the gum in just enough water to dissolve it. Pulverize the potash and mix with the dissolved gum, and then put in the extract of belladonna, and it will be ready for use. Use with a syringe after having cleansed with soap suds, and repeat once in two days till a cure is effected.

SCOURS.—Powdered tormentil root, given in milk, from 3 to 6 times daily till cured.

GHEASE-HEEL AND SCRATCHES.—Sweet oil 6 ozs.; borax 2 ozs.; sugar of lead 2 ozs. Wash off with dish water, and, after it is dry, apply the mixture twice a day.

CHOLIC IN HORSES.—To $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. of warm water add 1 oz. laudanum and 2 ozs. spirits of turpentine, and repeat the dose in about $\frac{1}{2}$ of an hour, adding $\frac{1}{4}$ oz. powdered aloes, if not relieved.

BOTS.—Three doses, 1st: 2 qts milk and 1 of molasses. 2d. 15 minutes after, 2 qts. warm sage tea. 3d. After the expiration of 30 minutes, sufficient lard to physic.—Never fails.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PILES—PERFECTLY CURED.—Take flour of sulphur 1 oz., rosin 3 ozs., pulverize and mix well together. (Color with carmine or cochineal, if you like.) Dose—What will lie on a five cent piece, night and morning, washing the parts freely in cold water once or twice a day. This is a remedy of great value.

The cure will be materially hastened by taking a table-spoon of sulphur in a half pint of milk, daily, until the cure is effected.

SURE CURE FOR CORNS, WARTS AND CHILBLAINS.—Take of nitric and muriatic acids, blue vitriol and salts of tartar, 1 oz. each. Add the blue vitriol, pulverized, to either of the acids; add the salts of tartar in the same way; when done foaming, add the other acid, and in a few days it will be ready for use. For chilblains and corns apply it very lightly with a swab, and repeat in a day or two until cured. For warts, once a week, until they disappear.

HOOF-AIL IN SHEEP.—Mix 2 ozs. each of butter of antimony and muriatic acid with 1 oz. of pulverized white vitriol, and apply once or twice a week to the bottom of the foot.

COMMON RHEUMATISM.—Kerosene oil 3 ozs.; neat-foot oil 1 oz.; oil of organum $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. Shake when used, and rub and heat in twice daily.

VERY FINE SOAP, QUICKLY AND CHEAPLY MADE.—Fourteen pounds of bar soap in a half a boiler of hot water; cut up fine; add three pounds of sal-soda made finer; one ounce of pulverized rosin; stir it often till all is dissolved; just as you take it off the fire, put in two table-spoonfuls of spirits of turpentine and one of ammonia; pour it in a barrel, and fill up with cold soft water; let it stand three or four days before using. It is an excellent soap for washing clothes, extracting the dirt readily, and not fading colored articles.

WATER PROOF FOR LEATHER.—Take linseed oil 1 pint, yellow wax and white turpentine each 3 ozs. Burgundy pitch 1 oz., melt and color with lampblack.

TO KEEP CIDER SWEET.—Put into each barrel, immediately after making, $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. ground mustard, 3 oz. salt and 2 oz. pulverized chalk. Stir them in a little cider, pour them into the barrel, and shake up well.

AGUE CURE.—Procure $1\frac{1}{2}$ table-spoons of fresh mandrake root juice, (by pounding) and mix with the same quantity of molasses, and take in three equal doses, 3 hours a part, the whole to be taken 1 hour before the chill comes on. Take a swallow of some good bitters before meals, for a couple of weeks after the chills are broken, and the cure will be permanent.

CURE FOR SALT RHEUM OR SCURVY.—Take of the pokeweed, any time in summer, pound it; press out the juice; strain it into a pewter dish; set it in the sun till it becomes a salve—then put it into an earthen mug; add to it fresh water and bees' wax sufficient to make an ointment of common consistency; simmer the whole over a fire till thoroughly mixed. When cold, rub the part affected. The patient will almost immediately experience its good effects, and the most obstinate cases will be cured in three or four months. Tested.—The juice of the ripe berries may be prepared in the same way.

SUPERIOR PAINT—FOR BRICK HOUSES.—To lime whitewash, add for a fastener, sulphate of zinc, and shade with any color you choose, as yellow ochre, Venetian red, etc. It outlasts oil paint.

FELONE.—Stir 1 oz. of Venice turpentine with $\frac{1}{2}$ tea-spoonful of water, till it looks like candied honey, and apply by spreading upon cloth and wrapping around the finger. If not too long delayed will cure in 8 hours.

A poke root poultice is also said to be a sure remedy.

WATER-PROOF BLACKING AND HARNESS POLISH.—Take two and a half ounces gum shellac and half a pint of alcohol, and set in a warm place until dissolved; then add two and a half ounces Venice turpentine to neutralize the alcohol; add a table-spoonful of lampblack. Apply with a fine sponge. It will give a good polish over oil or grease.

MOSQUITOES.—To get rid of these tormentors, take a few hot coals on a shovel, or a chafing dish, and burn upon them some brown sugar in your bed-rooms and parlors, and you effectually banish or destroy every mosquito for the night.

CHEAP OUTSIDE PAINT.—Take two parts (in bulk) of water lime ground fine, one part (in bulk) of white lead ground in oil. Mix them thoroughly, by adding best boiled linseed oil, enough to prepare it to pass through a paint mill, after which temper with oil till it can be applied with a common paint brush. Make any color to suit. It will last three times as long as lead paint, and cost not one-fourth as much. It is STREMON.

CURE FOR A COUGH.—A strong decoction of the leaves of the pine, sweetened with loaf sugar. Take a wine-glass warm on going to bed, and half an hour before eating, three times a day. The above is sold as a cough syrup, and is doing wonderful cures, and it is sold at a great profit to the manufacturers.

How to Judge a Horse.

A correspondent, contrary to old maxims, undertakes to judge the character of a horse by outward appearances, and offers the following suggestions, the result of his close observation and long experience:

If the color be light sorrell, or chestnut, his feet, legs and face white, these are marks of kindness. If he is broad and full between the eyes, he may be depended on as a horse of good sense, and capable of being trained to anything.

As respects such horses, the more kindly you treat them the better you will be treated in return. Nor will a horse of this description stand a whip, if well fed.

If you want a safe horse, avoid one that is dish-faced. He may be so far gentle as not to scare; but he will have too much go-ahead in him to be safe with everybody.

If you want a fool, but a horse of great bottom, get a deep bay, with not a white hair about him. If his face is a little dish-ed, so much the worse. Let no man ride such a horse that is not an adept in riding—they are always tricky and unsafe.

If you want one that will never give out, never buy a large, overgrown one.

A black horse cannot stand heat, nor a white one cold.

If you want a gentle horse, get one with more or less white about the head; the more the better. Many persons suppose the parti-colored horses belonging to the circuses, shows, &c., are selected for their oddity. But the selections thus made are on account of their great docility and gentleness.

Measurement of Hay in the Mow or Stack.—It is often desirable, where conveniences for weighing are not at hand, to purchase and sell hay by measurement. It is evident that no fixed rule will answer in all cases, as it would require more cubic feet at the top of a mow than at the bottom. The general rule adopted by those who have tested it, is $7\frac{1}{2}$ cubic feet of solid Timothy hay, as taken from mow or bottom of stack. The rule may be varied for upper part of mow or stack according to pressure.

EXPLANATION.—Find the Year and observe the Letter above it; then look for the Month, and in a line with it find the Letter of the Year; above the Letter find the Day; and the figures on the left, in the same line, are the days of the same name in the month.

Leap Years have two letters; the first is used till the end of February, the second during the remainder of the year.

MADISON COUNTY BUSINESS DIRECTORY.

EXPLANATIONS TO DIRECTORY.

Directory is arranged as follows: 1. Name of individual or firm. 2. Post office address in parenthesis. 3. If a farmer, the lot number indicates his residence. 4. Business or occupation.

A Star (*) placed before a name, indicates an advertiser in this work. For such advertisement see Index.

Figures placed after the occupation of farmers, indicate the number of acres of land owned or leased by the parties.

Names set in CAPITALS indicate subscribers to this work.

For additions and corrections see Errata following the Introduction.

NEWELL J. MILLER,
PRACTICAL CHEMIST & PHOTOGRAPH ARTIST,
FROM NEW YORK,

Has located at West Eaton, and having the latest improvements of the day, aided by a good knowledge of chemistry, (base of the art,) artistic taste and experience, both in large and small towns for the past nine years, it is no boast to say that my pictures equal the best. Come one and all and examine specimens before going elsewhere, and satisfy yourselves that you can obtain life-like pictures of yourself or friends at the Excelsior Gallery. Yours Respectfully,
NEWELL J. MILLER.

To Harness Makers, Farmers, Teamsters, & others using Team Harness

The annexed Engraving Represents the

"Cole Patent Wedge Tongue Trace Buckle,"

Which was Patented Oct. 10, 1865. It has been fully and practically tested, and wherever introduced has met with the hearty approval of all parties using it. The following are a few of its advantages.

1. It allows the trace to be drawn PERFECTLY STRAIGHT without any Crampling.
2. There is no draught on a tongue as in nearly every other trace buckle in use, which is liable to cut and break the trace; but the strain comes directly on an iron wedge, and the harder the pull on the trace the firmer the wedge holds it.
3. It is more easily adjusted than any other buckle in use. No hammers, sticks, stones or levers being needed to assist in lengthening or shortening the trace.
4. The saving in wear of traces, will, in a very short time, more than pay the slight difference in cost between it and the ordinary buckle.
5. Any thickness of trace can be used that is desired, as there are rivet holes cast in the under side of the buckle for the purpose of fastening in layers of leather which will vary the space under the wedge as may be required.

We only ask a fair trial, being confident that it will prove the truth of the above statement. For sale by all Saddlery Hardware Dealers and Harness Makers in the United States and Canada.

CHITTENANGO WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS,

MADISON COUNTY, N. Y.,

*Sixteen miles East of Syracuse, and four miles South of

This delightful resort, which has long been celebrated for the highly medicinal qualities of its waters, as well as for the quiet loveliness and rural beauty of its surroundings, changed hands, and was refitted and opened June 1st, 1868, as a of the first class order; replete with all conveniences for promoting the comfort and amusement of the invalid or pleasure seeker, including Hot Baths of the Mineral Waters, with efficient Medical Supervision, Charming Drives, Boating, Fishing, Bowling, Billiards, Croquet, &c.

A BAND OF MUSIC WILL BE IN ATTENDANCE,

Also, Parlor Organ and Piano for the use of guests; affording, altogether, with the spacious Hotel, Family Cottages, and Hygienic facilities, one of the most attractive and profitable resting places for the Gay and Joyous, or the Sick and Weary, in our land.

Daily Mails, Telegraph and Livery at the Hotel.

Says Harper's Correspondent:—"Ascending from the Hotel by a winding pathway through the Park, to the summit of the Mountain, 200 feet above the 'Healing Fountain,' we have one of the most pleasing views in all that region, including Cazenovia and Oneida Lakes; while a bridge spans the rapid current of the Chittenango in front of the Hotel below, connecting with the pleasure grounds and Family Cottages, in a noble Grove beyond. The valley terminates two and a half miles above the Springs, where the Chittenango falls perpendicularly 150 feet, and forms, in harmony with the deep gorge and other accessories, a scene of surprising beauty."

"Nowhere within such convenient access from the great commercial centers, can be found a more charming resort for the tourist or the business man and his family in search of quiet retirement, healthful bracing air and picturesque surroundings. The Chittenango Mineral Waters are similar in quality to those of the celebrated White Sulphur Springs of Virginia, and appear to possess their wonderful healing powers, particularly in obstinate cutaneous affections, Gout, Rheumatism, and diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and other functions."—Harper's Monthly, June, 1856.

Says Bell in his Work on Baths and Mineral Waters:—"There are few medicinal agents endowed with greater efficacy in a wide range of Chronic diseases than Sulphurous Waters."

Dr. Armstrong says:—"The first thing that struck me in regard to the operation of these waters was that the bowels might be opened by them, day after day, without debility; on the contrary most of the patients gained both strength and flesh. In attending more closely to the changes which these waters induced, I found that they acted most powerfully on all the secretory organs of the body, but more especially on the Liver, on the Kidneys and on the Skin. The long use of ordinary medicines generally tends to weaken the natural powers of the body, but on the contrary those waters which contain Sulphuretted Hydrogen Gas largely, have an invigorating influence though taken daily for weeks together. In the numerous forms of Dyspepsia or Indigestion, in Flatulence, or habitual Costiveness, Jaundice, Piles, Gout and Rheumatism, and, lastly, in cases of Stone and Gravel, these waters have been much extolled."

Dr. Beck says in Bell's Work on Baths:—"The Chittenango Waters are pearly white, with a temperature of 49° Fahr., and contain Carbonates and Sulphates of Lime, Sulphate of Magnesia, Chloride of Sodium, Muriate of Magnesia and vegetable matter, with Sulphuretted Hydrogen and Carbonic Acid Gas. They are highly esteemed in many cases of disease, and will be much resorted to on account of their eligible location."

Dr. Chilton's Analysis in 1852, confirms the above, both showing the quantity of the principal ingredients to be far in excess of that contained in any other known Mineral Spring, which is also proven by the large amount deposited daily in the cisterns and pipes containing the water.

A New Mineral Spring, of a bluish color, has more recently been discovered, near the Hotel, whose waters have a remarkable tonic effect, and are found singularly useful in that variety of ailments peculiar to females.

DEALER IN

CUT STONE AND BUILDING STONE.

ALSO MANUFACTURER OF LIME.

SAWS! SAWS!

The subscriber having been in the business of fitting up and selling all kinds of Saws for four years, desires to inform the public that he has received a new stock of Cross-Cut and Drag Saws, of excellent quality and superior style, which are being fitted for sawing HARD and SOFT TIMBER. Also the best kind of Hand and Buck Saws, all of which will be kept constantly on hand. Mill and Circle Saws will be promptly furnished to order. Having dealt quite extensively, he is prepared to sell at prices not only reasonable, but at lower rates than any dealer in the country, at wholesale and retail. For the accommodation of customers, he will, during the latter part of fall and winter, open a shop in the village of GEORGETOWN, Madison County, still retaining his old position, two miles east, where Saws of all kinds will be promptly repaired according to his improved patent. Files of the best quality furnished. Farmers can save TIME and TIMBER by sawing their Wood, instead of chopping it. Sawed wood is worth more per cord, sells the best, lasts the best, is the best, and PRIEST'S SUPERB CLEANING TOOTH SAW is the fastest, easiest cutting Saw ever in use. Every SAW is WARRANTED good quality and properly fitted for use.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

The Cazenovia Republican, published by Forte Brothers, is one of the best advertising mediums in the County. The publishers are young men who are determined to make the paper second to none in the County, in circulation and in the variety of its contents. Job printing, in all its forms, neatly and promptly executed. See card on page 118, subscribe for the paper, and keep posted as to local matters, as well as in regard to the general news of the day.

J. Smith, Undertaker, Waterville, N. Y., is prepared to furnish Burial Cases, Coffins, Shrouds, and everything usually kept in a first class Undertaking establishment. A new and elegant Hearse has recently been procured, and will be in readiness at short notice. See card, page 134.

Charles A. Hull, proprietor of the DeRuyter Harness Manufactory, keeps constantly on hand one of the largest and best assortments of Harness-ware to be found in this part of the State. If you want a nice, heavy, fancy plated, or plain Harness, call on Charles A. Hull. If you want Blankets, Currycombs or Brushes, call on Hull. If you want anything usually kept in a first-class shop, see card on page 134, and call on Chas. A. Hull.

Farmers' Exchange Factory, West Eaton, N. Y. Messrs. Barnes & Mitchell manufacture a superior quality of Woolen Goods, consisting of Cassimeres, Doeskins, Flannels, and other goods for family use. Persons wishing any of their Cloths can procure them at moderate prices. Wool received in exchange for cloth.—Messrs. B. & M. keep constantly on hand a large assortment, from which their customers can select. See their advertisement on page 152.

C. L. Cotton, dealer in Drugs, Groceries and Hardware, Earlville, N. Y. Pure Wines and Liquors for medicinal purposes constantly on hand. Mr. Cotton keeps a fine assortment of all goods in his line, and offers them at a fair price. Special attention given to the selection of the various kinds of Teas. His advertisement appears on page 166.

The Owners of Horses may rest assured that J. J. Bixby, of Poolville, holds the highest rank among the Mechanics of the country as a Horse Shoer. For nice and tasty Shoeing, he claims to have no equal. In the management of bad and crippled feet, if he has any equals, he certainly has no superiors. Those owning Horses with split or cracked, foundered, tender, or otherwise defective feet, will find it greatly to their advantage to give him a call, and be convinced of his skill. He refers to Nathan Brownell, County Clerk, and Henry Beny, Poolville. See card on page 134.

Whitney's Hotel, Chittenango, N. Y., formerly the Bassett House, has recently been purchased by the proprietor, M. L. Whitney, who will spare no pains to make his guests comfortable. The table is furnished with the delicacies of the season, and those who put up at Whitney's Hotel will be likely to call again. Good stabling on the premises. Stages leave for the depot to connect with every train, and for Cazenovia and all points south. See card on page 186.

B. Jenkins & Son, dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, Hardware, and all kinds of merchandise usually found in a first class store, Chittenango, N. Y. Jenkins & Son keep a very large assortment of Cloths for ladies' and gents' wear. In fact everything that a person would be likely to want, can be found here at prices that cannot fail to please. For particulars see their advertisement on page 192. Large sales and small profits is their motto.

Cornelius C. White, Cabinet Maker and Undertaker, Stockbridge, N. Y., is prepared to furnish all kinds of Cabinet Furniture, Spring Beds and Chairs, at short notice. Coffins, Shrouds, &c., always on hand. Mr. White is prompt and reliable. See card on page 192.

Benedict & Hanning, Druggists and Grocers, at Hamilton, have a nice store, well filled with goods belonging to their line of trade. They put up prescriptions with care and accuracy. Painters can purchase their supplies of them at satisfactory rates. See card, page 168.

Charles J. Holmgren, Watchmaker and Jeweler, at Hamilton, publishes a card on page 158. Mr. Holmgren keeps a select stock of Watches, Jewelry, &c., from the best manufacturers, and has a first-class Astronomical Clock, with mercury pendulum, equal to any in Central New York.

J. H. Severance, Tobaccoist and manufacturer of choice brands of Cigars, at Hamilton, publishes a card on page 132. Lovers of "The Weed," in any shape, will find at Mr. Severance's store, tip top goods. His pipes, &c., are among the best, and the goods of his own manufacture are from stock carefully selected by himself and put up by experienced and skillful workmen.

Robert Paterson, manufacturer and dealer in Boots and Shoes, at Hamilton, is prepared to supply the inhabitants in his vicinity, or any who may choose to give him their patronage, with superior goods at reasonable prices. He employs first-class workmen, and uses only the best of stock in his manufacture. We recommend those desiring a nice fitting Boot or Shoe to call at "Paterson's." See card on page 140.

PUBLISHER'S NOTICES.

Harrell & Sargeant, manufacturers of Saddlery Hardware, Syracuse, N. Y., manufacture the "Cole Patent Wedge Tongue Trace Buckle." This is a great improvement on all others; has been practically tested and approved, wherever introduced. Manufactured exclusively by Harrell & Sargeant. For the advantages of this Buckle over others now in use, see their advertisement on page 166.

Waldron's Democratic Volunteer, published by G. R. Waldron & Son, Hamilton, N. Y., is one of the best papers in Madison County, either for news or as an advertising medium. The senior member of the firm has been connected with the Press for more than thirty-six years, and understands how to make a paper entertaining and instructive. For further particulars see card on page 202, and subscribe for the paper.

J. Foster Potter, at Stockbridge, N. Y., manufactures Baiter Tubs, Cheese Hoops, Wash Tubs, and everything usually made at a general coopering establishment. Those who have used his work will not fail to continue their patronage, and to others who are in want of anything in his line, we would say, give him a call. His card will be found on page 216.

Hansford Button, Merchant Miller, Chittenango, N. Y., pays cash for grain and furnishes his customers with superior grades of flour, manufactured at his own mills. See card on page 216, and give him a call.

Wallace & Loomis, Homeopathic Physicians and Surgeons, Main st., Oneida, publish a card on page 192. They have been in business about ten years, and those who have patronized them need no recommendation from us. They understand their business, and will deal honorably with those who favor them with their patronage. When sick, call on them.

Dixon's Hotel is conveniently located at Chittenango, N. Y. Mr. Samuel C. Dixon, the proprietor, will spare no pains to render his guests comfortable and to supply their wants. Good stabling is provided, and stages connect with all trains on the railroad and with all places south. See card, page 216.

Ingalls & Harmon, dealers in all kinds of Farm Produce and Agricultural Implements, at No. 6 Broad st., Hamilton, are prepared at all times to pay the highest market prices for produce. They issue prices current which may be had on application by mail or otherwise. Customers will find them fair and honorable men to deal with. See card, page 168.

Nye Bros., of Hubbardville, are prepared to do all kinds of work in their line, from the finest Morocco Boot to the heavy Stoga. They have worked in all the principal cities in the State, with the most accomplished workmen, and will give entire satisfaction to the most fastidious. They use none but the best material. The customers of Nye Bros. will have the advantage of their skill, while their work will cost no more than work performed by less skillful hands. See card, page 132.
